

NEW LEVEE BREAK INUNDATES SOUTHEAST ARKANSAS; WATER FLOWS SLOWLY THROUGH CUT IN LOUISIANA

COOLIDGE VETOES SPECIAL SESSION FOR FLOOD RELIEF

Federal Treasury Cannot Be Drawn Upon in Emergency, President Makes Known.

NEW CALL PLANNED FOR RELIEF FUNDS

White House Points Out That Fund of $5,000,000 Will Not Be Sufficient For Sufferers.

L. O. Crosby Is Named Mississippi Dictator

Vicksburg, Miss., April 29.—(AP)—L. O. Crosby, wealthy lumberman of Piquette, Miss., was tonight appointed dictator of flood relief activities in Mississippi.

Mr. Crosby will head a committee of representative citizens of the state and officials of the Red Cross, the American Legion and the federal government.

The appointment of Mr. Crosby came after a conference participated in by Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce; Governor Murphy, Adjutant General Curtis T. Green; head of the state's military forces, and John L. Fieser, acting national chairman of the American Red Cross.

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER.

Washington, April 29.—(United News).—Suggestions for an extra session of congress to appropriate money for relief of Mississippi flood sufferers have been vetoed by President Coolidge.

The white house announced tonight that there will be no extra session; that there is no way relief funds can be supplied by the treasury and that the main ass'tance must come from private funds collected through the Red Cross.

The president was anxious to check any suggestion that he would call a special session, fearing that this might cause the public to stop contributing to the Red Cross relief fund. He desired it made quite plain that the federal treasury cannot be drawn on.

However, the government is aiding flood sufferers to the extent of millions of dollars through war department tents, cots, blankets and other supplies, through vaccines and serums furnished by the public health service and through boats furnished by the coast guard to remove refugees from danger.

Guard Ordered Out.

The coast guard will have 500 men and 200 boats in operation in the flood region by tomorrow night. Coast guard headquarters announced tonight that it has ordered the mobilization of the greatest relief expedition in its history.

As an example of what the army is doing for the refugees from St. Bernard parish are being cared for at the New Orleans army supply base. About 2,000 can be sheltered there. Cooking and dining equipment has been prepared for 2,500. The war department estimates that its flood relief supplies cost $2,305,175.

The white house said it was quite evident that the $5,000,000 fund being raised by the Red Cross would be inadequate. President Coolidge, an ex-official head of the Red Cross, will issue a new call for more money as

Continued on Page 5, Column 4

Double Bill Ends Opera Season Today

Georgia Adoption Of Baumes Law Principle Urged

Fulton Grand Jury Recommends Life Terms for Four-Time Convictions on Felony Charges

DRIVING OF AUTOS BY CHILDREN HIT

Enforcement of Traffic Laws, Suppression of Alleged Loan Sharks Also in Presentments.

Rigid enforcement of laws already on the criminal statute books and the enactment of a statute similar to the Baumes law recently passed in New York state, which imposes an automatic sentence of life imprisonment upon any person convicted of a felony four times, were highlights of the recommendations of the March term of Fulton county grand jury in their presentments handed down Friday.

The presentments were returned in open court before Judge John D. Humphries, who after commending the investigating body for their services, discharged them.

Stringent enforcement of the law prohibiting children under 16 from driving automobiles "in reckless disregard for human life" was urged in the presentments, which noted with alarm the traffic situation, pointing out that there was a tendency of motorists to ignore traffic laws which was responsible for a large number of recent fatalities.

Recommendations were made urging that every effort be put in force to suppress alleged illegal salary buying by so-called "loan sharks." Numerous money lenders were said to be "obviously disregarding the law." In the presentments it was made plain that the recommendation was not aimed at those persons who handle small loans under supervision of the state banking department.

Employment bureaus should be licensed and carefully inspected, the presentments set out.

Judge Humphries declared that the changing sentence was the only remedy for automobile thefts, though no general rule could be made, every case requiring individual treatment. He added that in his division of the criminal court no defendant convicted of this crime ever had been let off with a fine.

J. P. Billups, general passenger agent of the Atlanta and West Point railway was foreman of the jury.

ARMY GENERAL WATCHES BREAK IN RIVER LEVEE

New Orleans, April 29.—(AP)—Major General Edgar Jadwin, chief of army engineers, who observed the Poydras levee break for the federal government, tonight left for Memphis, Tenn., where he will join Secretary of Commerce Hoover. General Jadwin and Hoover have been making a survey of the Mississippi flood regions.

Those Busy Afternoons and Evenings

Whether it was grand opera yesterday afternoon and evening, the movies, the theater, an auto ride, a social engagement, or some other diversion, you just didn't have time to think about the over-Sunday food supply.

But, thank goodness, here is The Constitution right at the period of the day when you really do have time to give the matter the requisite thought, and it carries the advertisements of the leading grocers, markets and produce dealers.

For your convenience everything on the market is listed and priced, and you may quickly make up your list. Then you can order by phone, or turn the actual purchasing over to someone else—and the task is completed.

It's a wonderful advantage to have The Constitution come to your home in the morning hours, and that this is appreciated is shown by the fact that The Constitution goes into more homes in Atlanta and suburbs than any other Atlanta newspaper.

ADVERTISING IN THE CONSTITUTION PAYS THE ADVERTISER AND SAVES THE BUYER

SUPREME COURT AGAIN PETITIONED BY GORE LAWYERS

Rehearing Asked Friday On Attack On Constitutionality of Electric Chair Law.

Faint rays of hope penetrated the dark Fulton Tower cell of Mel Gore, under sentence of death for participation in the slaying of W. H. Cheek, a black grocer, during Christmas of 1925, Friday morning when his attorneys filed a motion with the supreme court of Georgia for a rehearing of the attack on the constitutionality of this state's execution law.

This last desperate effort of Gore's resulted in a delay in his sentencing to death. In the event the supreme court upholds the motion and decides to grant him a new trial, it is expected that the motion filed Friday will be acted upon within the very near future by the court.

Gore's appeal, based on alleged defects in the execution law, was denied recently by the supreme court, and the rehearing motion was filed Friday morning, well within the 10 day limit from the time the official court mandate was handed down. Attorneys for John Howell, convicted Bibb county murderer, whose new trial appeal on the same grounds as that of Gore also was turned down, had not presented a rehearing motion up to Friday night but are expected to do so by the expiration of the time limit.

Joseph M. Schenck, head of United Artists, appeared during the afternoon.

"Chaplin is an artist who must be moved by inspiration. Other artists work by perspiration," he said.

"Chaplin is different from any other star in the business," Schenck continued. "Although United Artists has definite time contracts with Mary Pickford, Douglas Fairbanks, Ward Griffith, and others, I was forced to disregard this clause in Chaplin's contract. He never works on schedule. He sometimes takes four years to complete a picture. His income is far lower than that of many other stars of equal rank, because he does not work steadily. But when he does work perhaps he gets more money than the others. He is decidedly temperamental."

It was a field day for a court room of about 80 people and a coterie of attorneys so numerous that frequently two or three of them found themselves talking at the same time.

The honors for the "smart comebacks" remained about evenly distributed between 19-year-old Mrs. Chaplin and grizzled Gavin McNab of San Francisco, chief trial counsel for Charlie.

Here is one of Lita's samples: McNab: "And this bill of $8,679 worth of clothes, which you bought shortly before you left Mr. Chaplin's home doesn't seem like extravagance?"

Lita: "You talk as though I bought all those clothes in one shopping trip. That really is almost the total sum I spent on clothes during all the time I lived with Mr. Chaplin. Previous to that time, I had made almost all my own clothes. But when my husband began to buy diamond bracelets for other people, I thought that I would give up making my own clothes and buy them."

Mrs. Chaplin brought rosy notes to the witness stand. Many of them concerned the customary household expenses of the Chaplin ménage, when it consisted of Mr. Chaplin, his wife, the two children and nine servants. "I have cut the servants staff from nine to six," Lita testified.

The salaries used to be $4,134 a month. Under my present mode of living my expenses are: Cook, $40 a week; butler, $35; maid (personal), $30; chauffeur, $120 a month; nurse, $50; total expense, a month, taking the month of April, 1927, as typical, $3,275.30."

Mrs. Chaplin testified that she has been at present and has borrowed $9,300 since she separated from Charlie last November 30.

"Let's look over these current expenses," McNab suggested on cross-examination. "This recent Monday party you gave, for instance."

Lita said: "There were 30 guests." "Fifty-seven guests weren't there?" asked Charlie's lawyer.

Here Attorney Young hopped into the breach.

"When Mrs. Chaplin's husband makes life a continual night of Broadway, gives parties and lives like a prince, his wife ought to be permitted to give a birthday party," Young suggested.

Mrs. Chaplin Granted $1,500 Monthly Alimony

LITA CHARGED WITH TRYING TO AUCTION BABIES

BY GEORGE SHAFER. (By Telex Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.) Los Angeles, Calif., April 29.—Although Lita Gray Chaplin's divorce complaint was termed "an effort to auction off her babies for money" by counsel for Charles Chaplin, the girl-wife of the comedian won her fight for temporary alimony today.

After Mrs. Chaplin had described her home-life in Beverly Hills, both before and after the separation, with references to the time when she "made all my own clothes," and yet employed nine servants and after Joseph M. Schenck described Chaplin as an artist who "worked by inspiration, not by perspiration" Superior Judge Walter Guerin, of Los Angeles county, awarded her alimony of $1,500 a month and made it retroactive to January 10, the date of the original divorce complaint.

In addition Judge Guerin allowed Mrs. Chaplin $1,029 for legal expenses and $820 a month to pay for an automobile she is purchasing on the installment plan.

The award was fought bitterly by Gavin McNab, chief of counsel for Chaplin.

"This complaint," he declared, "is the vilest I have ever seen. Mrs. Chaplin has deliberately placed a stigma on her two babies which will follow them to the grave. Her complaint, in reality, represents an effort to auction off her two children for money from which they cannot benefit because of their tender age."

Lyndell J. Young, Mrs. Chaplin's attorney, promptly issued a denial. "The complaint is not vile," he said. "It merely sets forth matters of fact, and it will be proven at the proper time."

Joseph M. Schenck, head of United Artists, appeared during the afternoon.

"Chaplin is an artist who must be moved by inspiration. Other artists work by perspiration," he said.

"Chaplin is different from any other star in the business," Schenck continued. "Although United Artists has definite time contracts with Mary Pickford, Douglas Fairbanks, Ward Griffith, and others, I was forced to disregard this clause in Chaplin's contract. He never works on schedule. He sometimes takes four years to complete a picture. His income is far lower than that of many other stars of equal rank, because he does not

ORATORY CONTEST AT CAPITOL TODAY

State Winner Will Be Selected in Fourth National Event Sponsored by The Constitution.

Having as their goal the winning of the $100 offered by The Constitution and the honor of representing Georgia in the zone contest, 12 high school students are gathered in Atlanta from as many state districts and will engage in a forensic battle this afternoon that will decide the state winner in the fourth national oratorical contest. The final meeting will be held in the hall of representatives at the state capitol and the exercises will open promptly at 3 o'clock.

The winner of first prize will be awarded the $100 and will be declared the state representative at the zone contest to be held in Birmingham on May 6, next Saturday night.

Sponsored by The Constitution, the contest, which is sponsored in Georgia by the direction of Dr. Joseph Stewart, of Athens, has been in progress in Georgia high schools since January 1.

Judge Hugh Dorsey, former governor of Georgia, will preside, and the program at the capitol includes the opening with singing of a patriotic air, followed by the invocation by Dr. Plato Darham, after which James A. Holloman, associate editor of The Constitution, will welcome the contestants to Atlanta on behalf of the paper.

The presiding officer will then sound his call as an official announcement that the contest is on and the speakers will appear in the following order:

Miss Elizabeth Heath, twelfth district, first; Willard Harrell, fourth district, second; Miss Mary Lee Montfort, of Fort Gaines, third district, third; Gilbert F. Schumaker, of Augusta, tenth district, fourth; Barker Williams, of Blairsville, second district, fifth; Andrew Gilbert, of Brunswick, eleventh district, sixth; John Braselton, of Braselton, ninth district, seventh; Miss Nellie Weeks, of Milledgeville, eighth district, eighth; Charles W. Fortson, of Washington, eighth district, ninth; Leigh Skinner, of Decatur, fifth district, tenth; Robert Walton, of Cartersville, seventh district, eleventh; Threalt Moore, Jr., of Jackson, sixth district, twelfth.

The judges include Judge Samuel C. Atkinson, Colonel Sanders Meador, and others.

Continued on Page 8, Column 3

CAPACITY CROWDS HEAR BRILLIANT PROGRAMS FRIDAY

'Lohengrin' and 'Force of Destiny' Serve as Vehicles for Many Individual Triumphs.

'ROMEO AND JULIET,' 'BUTTERFLY' TODAY

Season's Success, Both Artistic and Financial, Already Accomplished, Fact, Officials Declare.

Two Operas Today SATURDAY AFTERNOON

CHARLES GONONOFF'S OPERA 'ROMEO AND JULIET' (In French) Juliette.....Luciezia Bori Stephano.....Louis Hunter Gertrude.....Henriette Waksfeld Come.....Beniamino Gigli Fyhl.....Angelo Badalamenti Benvenuto.....Giordano Patrino Mercurio.....George Chakovsky Paris.....Milla Penco Segrino.....Pardo Ananias Capulet.....Pavel Lulifkar Friar Laurent.....Leon Rothier The Duke of Verona.....Joseph McPherson Incidental Dances by Corps de Ballet Conductor, Louis Hasselmann.

SATURDAY EVENING AT 8 O'CLOCK

GIACOMO PUCCINI'S OPERA 'MADAMA BUTTERFLY' (In Italian) After the Work of John Luther Long and David Belasco Cio-Cio-San.....Florence Easton Suzuki.....Ina Bourskaya Kate Pinkerton.....Louis Lerel B. F. Pinkerton.....Armand Tokatyan U. S. Consul Sharpless.....Scott J. Goro.....Alfio Tedesco Yamadori.....Max Altglass The Uncle-Priest, Wm. Gustafson The Imperial Commisary.....Vincenzo Roschignin Yakusida.....Paola Quintina Conductor, Vincenzo Bellezza.

BY PAUL STEVENSON.

Two more great crowds thronged the auditorium Friday and throughly enjoyed the two more wonderful operas, as the seventeenth season of the Metropolitan Opera company's engagements approached the climax, and with two of the greatest operas ever written scheduled for Saturday, the engagement has been a marked success from both the artistic and financial points of view, according

Continued on Page 8, Column 7

Plan Tribute To Late Opera Head Tonight

Metropolitan Company and Local Officials To Honor Colonel Peel's Memory.

Opera lovers who attend the Saturday night performance of the Metropolitan Opera company's program in Atlanta will share in paying tribute to the man who made the annual season of opera possible and who is honored long an tirelessly for the success of the opera. This was Colonel William Lawson Peel and at the request of the stars of the Metropolitan Opera company, a unique observance of his memory will be paid Saturday night.

After the first act of "Madam Butterfly" all members of the cast of the opera company, all officials of the Atlanta Music Festival association, and all persons serving in official capacity with the local production of opera, will march on the stage while the orchestra plays Chopin's "Funeral March."

Members of the cast of the Metropolitan Opera company conceive the idea of paying tribute to the memory of Colonel Peel and insisted that they be allowed to take part in some ceremony which would bring before the people of Atlanta their personal appreciation of Colonel Peel and his efforts.

Local opera officials jointly hearted in the plan of the stars and agreed to pay this tribute to their beloved associate.

One short talk will be made by Harry M. Atkinson, successor of Colonel Peel and his long-time friend. Mr. Atkinson will refer briefly to the fact that Atlanta's opera season every year is due to the efforts first made by Colonel Peel and will impress on the opera visitors the great achievements Colonel Peel made for the cultural advancement of Atlanta.

Continued on Page 8, Column 3

ACUTE SITUATIONS REPORTED AT DIKES ALONG MISSISSIPPI

Aside From Great Artificial Crevasse Near New Orleans, Other Bulwarks Cave in Suddenly

COOLIDGE ASKED TO VISIT SCENE

American Red Cross Rushes Boats and Workers To Aid of New Break Sufferers.

Water Proves Slow In Draining Away

Poydras, La., April 29.—Although the blasting of the Mississippi levee near here Friday is believed to have saved New Orleans from the immediate threat of floods, the water is not draining away as rapidly as engineers had anticipated.

The three dynamite explosions which opened crevasses in the levee were not forceful enough to tear the levee away and during the night the water poured out on St. Bernard parish but has not yet inundated the entire territory.

Engineers said they believed that the flow through the crevasses made by the explosions would wear the openings wider and wider until the break would serve its purpose and reduce materially the level of the river at this point.

Memphis, Tenn., April 29.—(AP)—Tearing through the levee at South Bend late today the swollen Arkansas river again made mockery of man's heroic work to stem the racing tide.

Set free by a 200-yard gap, rapidly widening, the flood waters will virtually complete the inundation of southeast Arkansas.

Meanwhile the Mississippi river, on its record rampage, threatened at least three levees as the torrents swept to the lower delta where an artificial crevasse was torn in the dike at Poydras to save New Orleans from possible inundation.

While an army of men had labored for many days to save South Bend levee, the break came below the point where they had spent more than 100 hours in continual battle. Heartened two nights ago when the rampart settled back of its own accord and filled a serious sand hole, the fighters saw their work go rapidly to naught today. Huge cave-ins on the river side of the dike, 2,000 feet below the battle center, appeared without warning.

Continued on Page 5, Column 1

The Weather THUNDERSHOWERS.

Washington—Forecast: Georgia—Thunderstorms Saturday with cooler in central and north portions; Sunday fair.

Local Weather Report.

Highest temperature	85
Lowest temperature	63
Mean temperature	74
Normal temperature	68
Rainfall in past 24 hours, ins.	.00
Deficiency since last of mo., ins.	1.58
Total rainfall since Jan. 1, ins.	12.33
Deficiency since Jan. 1, ins.	6.90

Report of Weather Bureau Stations.

STATIONS AND STATE OF WEATHER	Temperature	Rain
Atlanta, clear	77	.00
Asheville, clear	80	.00
Birmingham, clear	76	.00
Boston, clear	54	.00
Buffalo, part cloudy	54	.00
Chicago, clear	74	.00
Cincinnati, clear	74	.00
Cleveland, cloudy	62	.00
Denver, part cloudy	72	.00
Des Moines, cloudy	74	.00
Galveston, clear	74	.00
Hartford, part cloudy	70	.00
Harare, part cloudy	66	.00
Indianapolis, clear	78	.00
Kansas City, clear	72	.00
Memphis, rain	69	.00
Mobile, cloudy	72	.00
Montgomery, clear	78	.00
New Orleans, clear	76	.00
New York, clear	56	.00
North Platte, clear	72	.00
Oklahoma City, clear	72	.00
Phoenix, clear	92	.00
Pittsburgh, cloudy	54	.00
Raleigh, clear	80	.00
San Francisco, clear	56	.00
St. Louis, cloudy	62	.00
St. Paul, clear	70	.00
Savannah, clear	76	.00
Tampa, clear	70	.00
Toledo, cloudy	68	.00
Vicksburg, cloudy	74	.00
Washington, rain	66	.00

C. F. von HERRMANN, Meteorologist, Weather Bureau.

Spring Cleaning Week

The A&P stores are eager to help you with your spring cleaning . . . your needs are all priced remarkably low. Soap, brooms and ammonia help to bring the sparkle of Spring indoors, and the A&P is first aid to economical house cleaning.

LARD PURE HOG Lb. 13^c

LIMIT: 10 POUNDS TO A CUSTOMER

BROOMS "CLEAN SWEEP" — Good, Serviceable An Extraordinary Value! EA. 25^c

MOPS "KING KOTTON" STRING No. 12 Size, Ea. 25^c No. 16 Size, Ea. 35^c SOAP P&G WHITE NAPHTHA-LAUNDRY 3 BARS FOR 10^c

OLD DUTCH CLEANSER "Healthful Cleanliness!" 2 CANS FOR 13^c

HOUSE CLEANING NECESSITIES.

WRIGHT'S SILVER CREAM POLISH, Jar 23c
JOHNSON'S FLOOR WAX, CAN 59c AMMONIA, A&P AQUA, 32-Oz. Bottle 19c
BON AMI, Cake 10c, Powder 12c OCTAGON SOAP POWDER Small Pkg. 5c
OCTAGON LAUNDRY SOAP Large Bar 6 1/2c BRILLO ALUMINUM CLEANER Pkg. . . 10c
RED SEAL LYE, 9-Oz. Can 9c SANI-FLUSH Can 23c

TOMATOES FIRM RED AND RIPE! LB. 10^c

BEANS Fancy, Tender STRINGLESS 3 Qts. for 25^c

POTATOES MICHIGAN WHITE NO. 1 GRADE—IRISH 5 LBS. FOR 17^c

POTATOES HASTINGS' NEW 5 LBS. FOR 15c POTATOES NEW RED BLISS NO. 1 5 LBS. FOR 25c

White Onions, 2 Lbs. For 15c APPLES Fancy WINESAPS DOZ. 19c
 New Crop—Serve Them Smothered with the Steak! Beautiful to Look at—Delicious to Eat!

GRAPE FRUIT Sweet, Juicy and Large EACH 7c
 Nothing You Can Serve at Breakfast Is So Refreshing as Good Grapefruit!

YAMS 4 LBS. FOR 15c SQUASH Very Young & Tender Lb. 5c
 Baked or Candied, They're Fine! A Most Enjoyable Vegetable When Creamed!

GRAPE JUICE The Pure Juice of Luscious Concord! A&P Pint 15^c

PEANUT BUTTER Pacific Bulk POUND 15c

CORN FLAKES Kellogg's Toasted! Pkg. 7c

Sandwich Spread Ra-jah 9-Oz. Jar 17c Purity Nut Oleo LB. 23^c

Fruit Jars Mason Square With Tops! Pint Doz. 85c Quart Doz. 99c Merita Sponge Cake Served With Strawberries Makes a Fine Short-Cake 25^c

ALAGA SYRUP No. 11 Can 15c CHUCKLES JELLY DROPS 3 Pks. For 10c

MILK Finest Grade Pasteurized! WHIPPING CREAM 1/2-Pint, 12c, Pint, 23c SWEET MILK Pint, 6c, Quart, 12c BUTTERMILK Quart, 8c

JUST REDUCED—
Maxwell House Coffee 3-Lb. Can $1.25 FLOUR PLAIN OR SELF-RISING
Del Monte Tiny Sugar Peas No. 2 Can 19c A&P 12 Lb. BAG 65c A&P 24 Lb. BAG $1.25
Preserves Strawberry or Raspberry A&P 16-OZ. JAR 29c Ballard's 12 Lb. BAG 79c Ballard's 24 Lb. BAG $1.49
Iona Peaches No. 24 Can 20c Obelisk
Del Monte De Luxe Peas No. 2 Can 17c

BOKAR COFFEE A Rich, Winey Flavor and a Delightful Aroma! 1b. 41c

THE GREAT ATLANTIC & PACIFIC TEA CO.

at---

Jacobs'

--13 Stores--
All Over Atlanta!

SPECIALS

.. for ..

Today!

RECOLAC 79^c

Squibb's Paste 3 for $1

Kolorbak Hair Color Restorer $1.29

Gillette Blades 5's 3 for $1

Williams' Shaving Cream 28c

Prophylactic Tooth Brush 47c

Forhan's Paste 39c

Roach Doom 33c

Black Flag Insect Powder 33c

Listerine LARGE 73c

BABY BRAND MILK . . 28c

Phillips' MILK MAGNESIA 36c

Mennen's Talc For Men 23c

Neet Depilatory 39c

Woodbury Soap 3 for 50c

Hopper's Cold Cream (Jars) 45c

Frostilla LOTION 28c

Daggett & Ramsdell Cream--- JARS . . . 28c

Toilet Paper Japoco 2,000 Sheets 19c

Congress Cards . . 69c

Alarm Clocks Water-bury $1.19

KARA LINEN Pound Paper 39c

Garment Bags Mothex 69c

Lofts Chocolates Assorted 49c

S. S. S. For the Blood 73c

Energine Cleaner 27c

Fletcher's Castoria 26c

Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin . . 42c

Mufti Cleaner . . 28c

Pierce's Medical Discovery 93c

Wampole's COD LIVER OIL 67c

BUTTER

Goldell

Highest Grade—Strictly Fresh

Georgia

44^c

There may be cheaper butter on the market but this is the best there is, regardless of price.

Swan Matches Regular Five-Cent Boxes 3c

E Z Flow SALT Regular Five-Cent Boxes 3c

Sweet Mixed PICKLES Quart Jars, a 40c Value 25c

Mammoth Queen OLIVES Quart Jars, a 75c Value 49c

Melo PEAS Sweet and Tender 2 Cans for 19c

Gold Ribbon or Verifine COFFEE 1b. 27c

1 Cent Buys One 1 1/2-Lb. Can Red Label PEACOCK SYRUP When Purchased With One 1 1/2-Lb. Can White Label (Pure Ga. Cane) PEACOCK SYRUP for 16c

Del Monte CORN The Best on the Market Can 12 1/2c

Perkerson's Waterground MEAL 6-lb. Sack 16c 12-lb. Sack 31c

Scott TISSUE 2 Rolls for 19^c

Or Waldorf TISSUE 3 Rolls for 19^c

BACON and EGGS 32^c 25^c

Columbia Sliced, Rind Off, Sugar-Cured Lb. Doz. Guaranteed Strictly Fresh Georgia In Carton 25^c

Sunmaid Raisins Seeded or Seedless Pkg. 12 1/2c

Blue Ribbon Evap. PEACHES A 20-Cent Package 12 1/2c

California PRUNES Medium Size, 1b. 8c Large Size, 1b. 10c

Lipton TEA 1-2 lb. Package 43c 1-4 lb. Package 22c

Florida Grapefruit Heavy and Juicy Ea. 5c

Georgia Yellow Baby SQUASH 1b. 4c

Large Ears CORN Tender Grains 2 1/2c

BEANS Qt. 7 1/2c

Georgia Red Valentine Best of the Season

New Red Potatoes No. 1 Size and Quality 1b. 5c

Fancy Red Ripe Tomatoes 1b. 9c

Georgia CARROTS Large Bunch 4c

Fancy Georgia YAMS Lb. 3 1/2c

QUOTA OF $50,000 FOR RELIEF NEAR

With many organizations and citizens not yet heard from, Robert S. Parker, a member of the executive committee of the local chapter of the American Red Cross, stated Friday night that only about $5,000 was lacking of Atlanta's quota of $50,000 for the Mississippi flood relief fund. Subscriptions Friday received at the Red Cross headquarters amounted to more than $4,000, bringing the total subscribed to the $45,000 mark, with only one day left in the campaign.

Among the largest contributions received during the day was a check from the Atlanta Rotary club for $1,000; the Civitan Club of Atlanta $401, and all members have not yet been solicited. $67.16 from the First Methodist church, Cedarhurst, Ga.; Kiwanis club of Douglas, Ga., $45; Georgia Marble company through its president, Sam Tate, of Tate, Ga., $500; Swift & Co., $47, a 100 per cent donation from its employees in the Atlanta office; U. S. Gypsum company, $100; employees of the Otis Elevator company $47.75; employees of the Ernest L. Rhodes company $164, and $94 from the Junior Red Cross.

organization of the North Avenue Presbyterian church. Announcement was made that the three daily newspapers of the city had donated $200 each to the fund. Mr. Parker took charge of the local campaign Friday morning in the absence of Rodney Morison, Jr., who left the city on a business trip. Mr. Morison is chairman of the local chapter of the Red Cross.

Mr. Parker appealed to every person in the city who has not given to do so today, and it is hoped that the campaign will close with the day's receipts.

CANTON NAMED AS PEACHTREE SITE PURCHASER

A. N. Canton is the purchaser of the five and a half-acre tract of land on Peachtree road, just beyond Andrews drive, which is being improved with a $250,000 apartment house and park development, as was announced in The Constitution last Sunday through S. H. Hawkins, of Weyman and Connors, agents handling the project for Mr. Canton. The property was recently sold to Mr. Canton by the Massell Realty company, through Weyman and Connors.

LAWRENCEVILLE MAN ON STATE FISH BOARD

Don M. Byrd, of Lawrenceville, was appointed to the state game and fish commission Friday by Governor Clifford Walker. Mr. Byrd succeeds the late James H. Dozier, of Athens. Governor Walker reappointed A. S. McQueen, solicitor of the Charleston county court.

MILK FED Home Dressed FRYERS, Lb.	43½c
Home Dressed HENS	29½c
Selected Fresh EGGS, Dozen	24c
Fresh, PURE LARD All Day	14½c
Fresh Pork SHOULDERS, Lb.	16½c
8 Lbs. Flakewhite	$1.04
8 Lbs. Net Snowdrift	$1.47
8 Lbs. Net Rex, Pure	$1.18
8 Lbs. Net Swift Jewel	$1.04

COFFEE
Maxwell House, Blue Ribbon, Morning Joy, Lb.	42½c
Ballard's Plain or Self-Rising Flour, 24-Lb. Bag	$1.38
24-Lb. Bag Postel's Elegant Flour	$1.40
Wesson Oil, Pint	23c
Eagle Brand Milk	17½c
Wisconsin Cheese	24½c
Clear Brook Butter	47c
Salt Boiling Meat	9½c
Armour's Star or Swift's HAMS, Lb.	27½c
Oleomargarine	17½c

UNITED PROVISION CO.

LARD Compound	10½c
Cream Cheese	24½c
Pork Roast	17½c
STEAKS
Fresh Western	17½c
Packing House Mkt.	39 E. Alabama St.

MEDICAL HEAD WARNS OF FLOOD EPIDEMICS

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution.) Chicago, Ill., April 20.—"This flood and the problems it has caused, constitute, far and away, the biggest calamity we have had in this country, and the most difficult to handle," said Dr. William Allen Pusey, chairman of the disaster committee of the American Medical association, who returned from Memphis today.

"It's the next six months that we have to watch, as the danger of epidemics, such as typhoid, diphtheria, smallpox and dysentery is great. At present many of the refugees are in concentration camps and more will be brought in from day to day.

"As far as I learned from reports from agencies caring for the refugees, no epidemic has yet appeared. The conditions under which refugees are being cared for have been duplicated only during war times. It is difficult for people to leave from those flooded areas to realize the seriousness of this national disaster and the scope of it. The problem, however, is being handled intelligently everywhere and, for the present, there are plenty of physicians and supplies on the ground.

"The American Medical association stands ready to furnish additional doctors and anything else it can, as fast as the need develops. We must remember that when this flood is over and all these people go back to their ruined homes, the real problem of the health service will commence. Water supplies everywhere will be contaminated.

"The Red Cross is doing an excellent job and all the other agencies helping are taking orders from that organization. Relief work should be carried out under the direct supervision of the health department of the states."

SOLDIER KILLED BY RIFLE BULLET; ANOTHER WOUNDED

Managua, Nicaragua, April 20.—(AP) Private A. A. Albert, of the United States Marine corps and a conservative soldier, were accidentally killed last night at Matagalpa by the discharge of an automatic rifle in the hands of another marine who was explaining its mechanism, said advice reaching here from that city. Another marine was wounded.

NAVAL OFFICER LEAVES TO VISIT FLOOD AREA

Lieutenant W. L. Travis, U. S. navy, officer in charge at the local navy recruiting office, left Atlanta Friday for a visit of 15 days in Louisiana. Lieutenant Travis has big farming properties in Louisiana and is that his presence there is necessary at this time to look after the tenants on estates near Baton Rouge and New Orleans. Lieutenant Travis with his wife left by auto.

KASH & KARRY MARKET

Boiling Bacon	10c
Picnic Hams	17c
Side Bacon	18c
Smoked Bacon	19c
Cream Cheese	25c
Brookfield Butter	50c
Silver Leaf Lard	$1.20

Mississippi Farmer, Ruined by Floods, Seeks Work Here

Gripping and graphic in its picture of suffering and ruin was the first-hand account brought from the Mississippi valley flood area Friday by Arthur Wilson, recent tenant of a 400-acre farm located 12 miles south of Greenville, Miss.

In common with thousands of others, Wilson saw his earthly possessions swept from sight by the yellow torrent of the Mississippi, which crumbled man-made levees and annihilated all in its path.

"We stuck it out as long as we could," he said, "waiting for the water to drop; but it kept rising. Those who lived on low ground were driven from their homes first. They bundled up what they could carry and waded out to knolls and levees; these became more crowded daily as the water crept higher.

"Refugees were huddled together by thousands, women and children, many of them inadequately clad, and others separated from their families. We had to drink the river water and fever broke out."

"I got enough of it and started for

GROGAN INDICTED IN SHOOTING CASE

D. H. Grogan, 44, of 325 Luckie street, was indicted Friday by the Fulton county grand jury on a charge of assault with intent to murder, growing out of the shooting on the night of April 4 of Mrs. E. B. Phillips, a sister of the defendant.

Mrs. Phillips was at the point of death at Grady hospital for several days but is now recovering. She suffered a shotgun wound in the abdomen in a tussle with Grogan, who is alleged to have become jealous over the presence in his house of an admirer of his sister-in-law.

After demanding that the admirer

leave the house immediately, Grogan is alleged to have entered into an argument with Mrs. Phillips, who said she would leave the house rather than take his abuse, police said. While she was thus engaged the defendant is said to have seized a shotgun and chased the woman into a front room, where he fired the shotgun point blank and at close range, according to officers who investigated the case and who testified Friday before the grand jury.

No definite date for the trial of Grogan has been set.

CHILDREN INJURED IN INDIANA STORM

Scottsboro, Ind., April 20.—(AP)—Sixteen children were injured, two probably fatally, when a country schoolhouse in the west part of this

Mississippi Farmer, Ruined by Floods, Seeks Work Here

Gripping and graphic in its picture of suffering and ruin was the first-hand account brought from the Mississippi valley flood area Friday by Arthur Wilson, recent tenant of a 400-acre farm located 12 miles south of Greenville, Miss.

In common with thousands of others, Wilson saw his earthly possessions swept from sight by the yellow torrent of the Mississippi, which crumbled man-made levees and annihilated all in its path.

"We stuck it out as long as we could," he said, "waiting for the water to drop; but it kept rising. Those who lived on low ground were driven from their homes first. They bundled up what they could carry and waded out to knolls and levees; these became more crowded daily as the water crept higher.

"Refugees were huddled together by thousands, women and children, many of them inadequately clad, and others separated from their families. We had to drink the river water and fever broke out."

"I got enough of it and started for

GROGAN INDICTED IN SHOOTING CASE

D. H. Grogan, 44, of 325 Luckie street, was indicted Friday by the Fulton county grand jury on a charge of assault with intent to murder, growing out of the shooting on the night of April 4 of Mrs. E. B. Phillips, a sister of the defendant.

Mrs. Phillips was at the point of death at Grady hospital for several days but is now recovering. She suffered a shotgun wound in the abdomen in a tussle with Grogan, who is alleged to have become jealous over the presence in his house of an admirer of his sister-in-law.

After demanding that the admirer

leave the house immediately, Grogan is alleged to have entered into an argument with Mrs. Phillips, who said she would leave the house rather than take his abuse, police said. While she was thus engaged the defendant is said to have seized a shotgun and chased the woman into a front room, where he fired the shotgun point blank and at close range, according to officers who investigated the case and who testified Friday before the grand jury.

No definite date for the trial of Grogan has been set.

CHILDREN INJURED IN INDIANA STORM

Scottsboro, Ind., April 20.—(AP)—Sixteen children were injured, two probably fatally, when a country schoolhouse in the west part of this

Fish Special Saturday

Whole Snapper 20c lb.
Snapper Steak 25c lb.

17 E. Alabama St.
(Near Whitehall)

ROGERS Southern Grocery Stores, Inc.

A Flour Sale on Highest Grades
At Very Low Prices!

Sweeping Reductions on FLOUR

Savings as Much as 24c Per Sack
Sure-Nuff Self-Rising 24 lbs. 97c
La Rosa (Plain) 24 lb. $1.15 12 lb. 59c
No. 37 (Self-Rising) Sack $1.15 Sack 59c

WHITE LILY
The Superlative Flour—$1.75 Quality
24 lb. $1.39 12 lb. 71c
Sack Sack

ARGO—OR LIBBY'S ALASKA SOCKEYE
Red Salmon No. 1 Can 25c
35c Value

SKINNER'S Fruit Pectin pkg. 15c
The results you get by using Skinner's Pure Fruit Pectin are miraculous—unbelievable until you try it. This pectin stirred in boiling water with the addition of little sugar makes jelly that rivals the best jelly made. Five minutes' time and you have six to eight glasses of pure fruit jelly. Just give it a trial. Assorted flavors: Raspberry, strawberry, orange, grape, mint and plain.

A Package Makes Six to Eight Glasses of Jelly

VERIBEST Grape Juice
Pint 21c Juice of pressed Concord with all the flavor of the fresh grapes. Quality grape juice worth almost twice as much as we ask. Quart 39c

GRANDEE Cherries Regular 15c Size 12½c
MARASCHINO

Del Monte or Libby's Sliced Pineapple 2 No. 1 Cans 25c

GOLD LABEL COFFEE 1-Lb. Sack Reduced 43c

CANDY
Hershey Bars—plain or almond 2 for 7c
Baby Ruth—Chewing Gum

P AND G SOAP 3 bars 10c

Fat, Fine MACKEREL 8-Oz. Size 6c

IN OUR CITY MARKETS

Rogers markets have won the reputation for handling only quality meats. You can be sure that the meat you buy today duplicates the high quality of your last purchase.

BEST CORN-FED BEEF

Short Ribs or Brisket, 1b. 15c

Choice, Fleshy Pot Roast, 1b. 20c

Best Cuts Chuck Roast, 1b. 25c

Choice Tender Steak, 1b. 35c

Rogers ROLL, 1b 25c
Made from selected meat; made without a filler of scrap or gristle. Try it once—we're sure you'll like it.

Best Sugar-Cured

HAMS, Halves or Whole, lb. 29c
Most All Leading Brands

At all Independent Grocers and Delicatessens

HARRY COLLINS

Beef Roast	12½c
Beef Stew	10c
Compound, Lb.	10½c
Pork Shoulders	17½c
Home-Dressed HENS, Lb.	32c

SATURDAY SPECIALS

Buehler Bros.
Leading Markets

LARD COMPOUND, Lb. 11c

MIXED SAUSAGE, LB. 10c

1 DOZ. EGGS, 1-LB. PURE PORK SAUSAGE AND 1 LOAF BREAD 50c
We Don't Deliver Eggs

PORK CHOPS . 25c
SEE—WE SAVE YOU $

17 W. Alabama—and—35 N. PRYOR
WA. 5384 and WA. 2275

TO YOUR very table it comes—fresh.
Fleets of fast trucks deliver it to Grocers daily. His stocks are never allowed to grow old—although they are refrigerated properly.

Every carton of Morning Glory Butter that you buy is fresh. The name, "Morning Glory" on that carton is our pledge to you of that.

This guaranteed freshness in butter of Morning Glory excellence should interest you.

MORNING GLORY BUTTER
"Aristocrat of The Dining Table"

Plants at Houston, Memphis and Nashville

RADIO-ING The Air Waves.

BY WILL H. SMITH.

Nineteen stations associated with the National Broadcasting company will be linked together this evening from 9 to 10 o'clock (eastern daylight time) in order to present a special radio program devoted to the interest of "The Yankee Clipper," a motion picture.

The services of that radio favorite, "Roxy," have been engaged and he, with his "gang," will occupy the studios of the Roxy theater in New York for one full hour, presenting a program of distinct novelty and of unmistakably nautical flavor.

In Atlanta, where the program will be heard over WSB from 7 to 8 o'clock

Ruts

MANY a man has started with brilliant promise, only to be lost in a rut of despair. Has seen his enthusiasm turned to bitterness, his prospects blighted! Realizing that he no longer has the energy to stand the pace. . . . What can crush a man's spirit so completely? Can stifle ambition and wreck his very life?

Indeed, what is constipation? More—far more than the average person realizes. It destroys health. It steals strength. It sicken the mind and leads to suffering and disease! Yet no one need be afflicted with this vicious curse who knows Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to relieve constipation—promptly, safely, pleasantly. More, to prevent it!

Why part-bran products fall down

ALL-BRAN is 100% "bulk." This bulk absorbs moisture and carries it throughout the digestive system. And it gently distends the intestines—cleansing, removing wastes and Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is sold with this definite guarantee: Eat it according to directions. If it does not relieve constipation safely, we will return the purchase price.

Kellogg's
ALL-BRAN

poisons. In a part-bran product the quantity of bulk is so small it scarcely accomplishes anything—often nothing! Doctors recommend ALL-BRAN because they know it is 100% bran—and will accomplish 100% results.

So different from dangerous pills!

How much better to rely upon healthful ALL-BRAN than habit-forming pills and drugs—whose dose must be constantly increased to be effective! ALL-BRAN is delicious with milk or cream. Add fruits or honey for an extra treat. Let it soak in the milk a few moments to bring out all its nut-like flavor. Use it with other cereals. In soups. Try the recipe on every package. Eat two tablespoonfuls daily—in chronic cases with every meal.

Don't run risks with part-bran substitutes, which, at best, can be but partially effective. Insist on Kellogg's—the original ALL-BRAN. Sold by all grocers. Served at hotels, restaurants. On diners. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Saturday night, Keith's Georgia theater, where the "Yankee Clipper" will be shown on the screen the work of May 16, and the Roxy Sales and Service, special arrangements have been made for local reception.

Bremer-Tully radio receiving sets have been installed in the foyer of Keith's Georgia theater, and in the Roxy sales room and the public has been invited to hear Roxy's "Yankee Clipper" program.

Roxy's interest in "The Yankee Clipper" is due to the fact that its new pleasure car, "The Flying Cloud," was named after one of the fleetest Yankee clippers which sailed the seven seas more than a half century ago.

The "Yankee Clipper" is a story of the romantic days in the middle of the last century, when the United States was commercially supreme upon the seas. Clipper ships were then the fastest afloat and carried the United States flag over the seven seas.

The photoplay, which is produced by the Producers Distributing corporation, was planned by Cecil DeMille. His agents hunted far and wide for clipper ships, only to be informed that there were no more. At length, however, two of them were located in Alaska and were towed to California, refitted and put into commission for their "rebirth" voyage.

The stations of the National Broadcasting company's Red Network which are to be linked for the radio presentation of this program are WEAF, New York; WEEI, Boston; WJAR, Providence; WTAC, Worcester; WHIC, Hartford; WGR, Buffalo; WVIC, Washington; WCHS, Portland, Maine; WCAR, Pittsburgh; WVA, Detroit; WSAI, Cincinnati; WOC, Davenport; WCCO, Minneapolis-St. Paul; WGY, Schenectady; WHEI, Louisville; WSM, Nashville; WSB, Atlanta; WMC, Memphis; and WGN, Chicago.

TONIGHT'S ENTERTAINMENT.

6:30 p. m.—WFAA (45.9) Dallas, staff artists. WNYC (20.9) New York, staff artists. WWSA (32.6) Cincinnati, staff artists.

6:45 p. m.—WGBS (31.6) New York, "Philosophy of Numbers." WOR (40.3) New York, musical program. WTAM (38.4) Cleveland, McCarrall trio.

7:00 p. m.—WJAZ (32.3) Philadelphia, Philadelphia concert ensemble.

7:30 p. m.—KMOX (38.2) St. Louis, St. Louis vocal quartet. WABC (38.3) New York, "Yankee Clipper" program. WJAZ (32.3) Philadelphia, Philadelphia concert ensemble.

7:45 p. m.—WJAZ (32.3) Philadelphia, Philadelphia concert ensemble.

8:00 p. m.—WJAZ (32.3) Philadelphia, Philadelphia concert ensemble.

8:15 p. m.—WJAZ (32.3) Philadelphia, Philadelphia concert ensemble.

8:30 p. m.—WJAZ (32.3) Philadelphia, Philadelphia concert ensemble.

8:45 p. m.—WJAZ (32.3) Philadelphia, Philadelphia concert ensemble.

9:00 p. m.—WJAZ (32.3) Philadelphia, Philadelphia concert ensemble.

9:15 p. m.—WJAZ (32.3) Philadelphia, Philadelphia concert ensemble.

9:30 p. m.—WJAZ (32.3) Philadelphia, Philadelphia concert ensemble.

9:45 p. m.—WJAZ (32.3) Philadelphia, Philadelphia concert ensemble.

10:00 p. m.—WJAZ (32.3) Philadelphia, Philadelphia concert ensemble.

10:15 p. m.—WJAZ (32.3) Philadelphia, Philadelphia concert ensemble.

10:30 p. m.—WJAZ (32.3) Philadelphia, Philadelphia concert ensemble.

10:45 p. m.—WJAZ (32.3) Philadelphia, Philadelphia concert ensemble.

11:00 p. m.—WJAZ (32.3) Philadelphia, Philadelphia concert ensemble.

11:15 p. m.—WJAZ (32.3) Philadelphia, Philadelphia concert ensemble.

11:30 p. m.—WJAZ (32.3) Philadelphia, Philadelphia concert ensemble.

11:45 p. m.—WJAZ (32.3) Philadelphia, Philadelphia concert ensemble.

12:00 a. m.—WJAZ (32.3) Philadelphia, Philadelphia concert ensemble.

Kindergarten Kiddies Examined

Kindergarten kiddies undergoing rigid medical examinations on entrance into Atlanta's public school systems. Detailed reports on each child are furnished the parent with the recommendation regarding physical defects, if any. The work is sponsored by the Parent-Teacher council.

before Hazleton had her at the murder preparations.

Hip Reducer Shown.

Unexpectedly, Hazleton waved a ludicrous-looking instrument, something like a rolling pin with wrinkles. It was a "hip reducer," such as are advertised to roll away hips. It was about the size and shape of the window weight used to close Snyder.

"Was this in the package that Judd Gray gave you at Henry's restaurant that day?"

Mrs. Snyder said it was—Judd said she had promised her one. All ignorant that the package also contained the window weight, she said she took it home without opening it.

He was surprised at finding the window weight in the package. She had the window weight in the package, she said.

Hazleton offered the flesh reducer in evidence. A moment later she also offered in evidence a "pinch bottle" for whiskey from the same package.

It was wired for making the popular table lamps now the rage among housewives.

Radio Musician

Toots Saxophone

For $110,000

London, April 29.—A radio man who played himself into the will of Mrs. Bruce-Jones, of Fife, York-shire, to the tune of $110,000, is Jan Kivell, American saxophone star of the Savoy-Orpheans orchestra.

"I have never been to hear his music," said Mrs. Bruce-Jones, a middle-aged widow, in her will. "But he has brought so much pleasure to a lonely woman that I leave him something which I hope will bring him pleasure in turn."

Kivell will return to New York and the Pacific coast cities of the United States, scenes of some of his saxophone triumphs of an earlier day, after the summer season in London is over, and celebrate his good fortune.

WIDOW SNYDER MAKES DENIAL OF CONFESSION

Continued from First Page.

blonde Borgia of the suburbs, was a washing, sweeping, cooking, prayer-prayering mother and housewife, Mrs. Snyder said, enmeshed in this dreadful affair by the "scheming Gray" with whom she committed her first and only deed against a cruel husband.

One of the largest courtroom crowds that America ever experienced hung on the woman's every word, watching her every tear, listened avidly for her every sigh.

There were 1,200 in the huge room if there was one. They mustered, standing down the aisles, packed into the window and door recesses, knelt on the floor under reporters' benches. Most of them were women. Most of the women were richly and stylishly attired.

Indescribable hysteria pervaded the courtroom, the courthouse corridors, even the parked triangle in front of the old building where the overflow crowd eddied in the flatland like a human Mississippi, sweating, shouting policemen in groups of four thrust back the excitement-hunters from every stairway landing. But they were not enough. The careful press and spectators had gone to pot.

Crowd Unruly.

Only the presence of Supreme Court Justice Townsend Scudder, grave and urbane, preserved order in the stifling arena of justice, while minor witnesses, including Mrs. Josephine Brown, the bereaved mother-in-law, whetted the appetites of the mob.

Justice Scudder leaned forward. "Madame, you are not required to take the stand as a witness," he said in his deep voice. "The law privileges you to make the decision." Hazleton told the court that he had made the decision.

Born in New York.

"Where was your born, Mrs. Snyder?" Hazleton asked the witness.

"In New York." Her voice was small and fluteline. Not even the rasping loudspeakers which amplified it could destroy its appeal.

Swiftly Hazleton led his witness through her nuptial unhappiness, unhandily he drew from her a character as a home-maker and mother. Forcibly he egged her to tell of her ghostly rival for her husband's affections, the lovely Jessie Geshart, who died like Poe's Annabel Lee to be forever mourned.

The witness told of the birth of little Lorraine and wept. She was to weep once again. Her fingers had hardly been pierced by the needle with which she made the baby's clothes to bed, and passing through the hall saw Gray in mother's room. I said, "Be very quiet. I'll get you later."

Went To Bed.

Q. Did you and your husband go to bed?

A. Yes, I stayed there 20 minutes to half an hour.

Q. Did you get up afterwards?

A. I did. My husband was asleep. Q. What then?

A. I went to my mother's room. Q. And then?

A. I saw Mr. Gray. Q. Was there a light?

A. No, but you could see a little. Q. Was there any talk?

A. (Vigorously and firmly). There was considerable talk—five, six or seven minutes.

Q. What were you saying?

A. When I walked over to him he kissed me and I felt the rubber gloves on his hands. I said, "Judd, what are you going to do?" He had my husband's revolver. He had gotten it out from under his pillow before we came in, he said, "It's his us!"

Q. What did you do?

A. I grabbed him by the hand and took him downstairs to the living room.

Q. Did you give him the weight there?

A. (Indignantly). No!

Q. Did you put any weight under your mother's pillow for Gray?

A. I put a bottle of liquor under the pillow—not any weight!

Q. Downstairs—?

A. Downstairs I pleaded with him. Oh, in my excitement I said things to him that probably enraged him—I was not at that time—the excitement made me worse. I went upstairs and I told him as I left, "I'll assail her loves."

She assailed Gray in bitter terms as the one man in the world to make her break her marriage vows, as a fellow who had led her for months continually, who frightened her into helping him arrange their silly alibi measures after her efforts to have her husband's life, even at the risk of Gray "exposing" her to the world as a "bad woman" had failed.

Tune In On WSB

at 7 o'clock Tonight

Hear

"Roxy and His Gang"

Tell the Story of

THE

VANKEE

CLIPPER

CLIPPER

CLIPPER

CLIPPER

CLIPPER

CLIPPER

CLIPPER

CLIPPER

CLIPPER

CLIPPER

CLIPPER

CLIPPER

CLIPPER

CLIPPER

CLIPPER

CLIPPER

CLIPPER

CLIPPER

CLIPPER

CLIPPER

CLIPPER

Rich To Present Louise Hunter In Radio Concert

Preliminary to the opening of its monster sixtieth anniversary sale on Monday morning, the M. Rich & Bros. Co. department store Sunday night will present Miss Louise Hunter, "Atlanta's Sweetheart," and prima donna of the Metropolitan Opera company, in a radio concert with her accompanist, Adolph Verdi, and the Little Symphony orchestra under direction of Enrico Leide.

The program will be broadcast beginning at 9:15 o'clock over WSB, radioophone of The Atlanta Journal, and listeners in both the city and the surrounding territory will be interested to learn that they may tune in on this splendid musical offering which will come over the air Sunday night.

Coming directly on the heels of Atlanta's week of opera and on the eve of the big Rich sale, the idea of presenting Miss Hunter and the other musicians was a particularly happy one on the part of the Rich company.

Miss Hunter will appear in a number of solos and the Little Symphony orchestra will play outstanding bits of the Atlanta Symphony during the past season. In addition, the Atlanta string quartet, organized for observance of Beethoven week, will make its second appearance in this concert.

bring your hat and coat down to you."

Q. And then?

I heard this terrific thud. I ran down the hall to see Mr. Gray leaning over my husband.

Q. Describe what you saw.

A. My husband was lying down and Gray was kneeling on his back. I grabbed Mr. Gray by the back of his head and pulled him off. He pushed me to the floor and I fainted.

The witness paused for a moment. She resumed with a voice that grew huskier with each word until finally they trailed off into nothingness: "When I came to, I ran in and found my husband all covered-up—with blankets and I pulled—the blankets—off—and—"

Matron on Hand.

The plump police matron was at Mrs. Snyder's side with a glass of water and smelling salts. She was weeping with her head bowed into a handkerchief. The jurors, all the first row leaning forward with elbow to box rail and hands to chin, looked at her with troubled sympathy. The rear row of jurors with no rail to lean on found their backbones had been taken. The 1,200 spectators sighed, having got what they came for.

Only the wilted corset salesman gave no sign, and none was looking at him any more.

The rest of Mrs. Snyder's two hours on the stand, which she will resume Monday morning, was taken up with other details of fixing the sole responsibility for the murder upon Gray, with ascribing to him the hope that he could easily take the insurance money from the helpless widow, with telling of the horrors of her inquisition under such circumstances by the police, with revealing the late Snyder as a hard husband, of teaching little Lorraine to say her prayers and sing hymns.

"I had no hand at all in this murder," Mrs. Snyder almost shouted at the jury in response to one question by her attorney, Hazleton.

Assail Her Loves.

She assailed Gray in bitter terms as the one man in the world to make her break her marriage vows, as a fellow who had led her for months continually, who frightened her into helping him arrange their silly alibi measures after her efforts to have her husband's life, even at the risk of Gray "exposing" her to the world as a "bad woman" had failed.

"The Flying Cloud"

Reo's new pleasure car, combines all the grace, beauty and speed of the greatest of all clipper ships.

Hear the story of its historic background at our salesroom tonight through a Bremer-Tully counter-phase eight radio receiver.

"The Yankee Clipper"

A screen classic ranking among the greatest of the season.

A film feature of early American sea adventure and filled with comedy, sighs and thrills. See it week May 16, at

KEITH-ALBEI-GEORGIA

THEATRE

Hear "Roxy and His Gang" tonight in the foyer of the theater.

Reo Sales and Service, Inc.

389 Peachtree St.

Phone WA 4ut 6432

Reo Sales and Service, Inc.

Reo Sales and Service, Inc.

Polly Rich FLOUR

PLAIN AND SELF RISING

For Baking Perfection

You Knead It

Sold by Good Grocers

Try a 24 Pound Sack To-day and You'll Always Use It

COLONIAL MILLING COMPANY
Atlanta Nashville Chattanooga

THOUSANDS ALLEGED TO REFUGEES BY NEW LEVEE BREAKS

147,475 HELPED IN FLOOD CRISIS

Washington, April 29.—(AP)—A minimum of 147,475 persons are now receiving care from the Red Cross in the Mississippi valley, the latest check shows.

This total does not represent the total of homeless, because thousands are believed to have been absorbed into towns and villages throughout the area. Additional hundreds are still awaiting rescue.

There are 81,508 receiving help in Arkansas; 39,000 in Mississippi; 7,407 in Missouri; 5,700 in Louisiana; 4,300 in Kentucky; 3,100 in Tennessee; and 2,800 in Illinois.

Totals for the seven states are as follows:

Arkansas—Marked Tree, 500; Brasfield, 800; Blytheville, 4,500; Brinkley, 500; Cotton Plant, 1,500; Dardanelle, 350; England, 3,000; Fort Smith, 11,000; Fort Smith, 700; Jonesboro, 4,000; Helena, 10,000; Little Rock, 12,000; Marianna, 35,000; McGee, 400; Monticello, 4,500; Newport, 200; Paris, 350; Pine Bluff, 10,000; Russellville, 500; Searcy, 518; Stuttgart, 1,500; Warren, 2,500; Wynne, 5,000; Endors, 2,400.

Mississippi—Cleveland, 5,000; Greenville, 10,000; Greenwood, 500; Leland, 2,000; Vicksburg, 8,000; Natchez, 500; Yazoo City, 4,500; Indianola, 2,000; Doss, 2,000.

Missouri—Cape Girardeau, 1,000; Caruthersville, 1,750; Charleston, 1,200; Kennett, 2,000; Perryville, 400; Sikeston, 1,020.

Louisiana—Harrisburg, 2,000; Marksville, 2,000; Denoit, 2,000; Baton Rouge, 200; Alexandria, 200; New Orleans, 300.

Kentucky—Columbus, 1,000; Hickman, 2,200; Wytheville, 410; Barlow, 750.

Tennessee—Lake County, 1,000; Dyersburg, 1,500; Rosedale, 600.

Red Cross announces population of 55 refugee camps at 140,000, adding that list is incomplete. Number isolated camps and thousands marooned on levees bring estimated total home to 200,000.

Acute conditions prevail in southeastern Arkansas. Lake Village reports 700 to 1,000 persons still marooned in lowlands, and town under from three to five feet of water.

New flood of relief boats converge on lower Mississippi delta where refugees are clinging to houseposts or trees, and congregating on small levees.

Back waters create serious situation along Red and Black rivers in northern Louisiana.

LEVEE LOOSENS RIVER FLOOD

Continued from First Page.

Hastily the crew was transferred and pumps made more men and materials. Supplies and sandbags arrived but the racing stream pushed them aside.

The flood waters will pour into territory already largely inundated from previous breaks further up stream. Grave fears were felt by relief workers for hundreds of persons reported still marooned from the first flood wave, for the South Bend water will raise the depth of the flood in several towns.

Lieutenant Griffith McSwain of the United States army air forces who was on the scene, leaped into his plane and spread the alarm, dropping warnings from the air that Gould was a refugee train had been held in readiness.

Trains, motorboats, airplanes and seaplanes will cover the territory, carrying the populace from the path of danger.

Hundreds Marooned.

Hundreds marooned by the tides from the Arkansas river, have been rescued. A fresh and more grim menace, for the backwater will rise quickly, advices from Pine Bluff state.

Dumas, which has much water now, will be completely inundated. Gould and Varner, hitherto dry, will be flooded, while the tide from South Bend will flow into the water now menacing McGee, Arkansas City and Lake Village. The rise in the latter towns will be from the levee, and Arkansas state engineers estimate.

A train was held in readiness at Gould since the situation at South Bend first became acute. Most Gould population piled aboard when McSwain's plane arrived with his warning and engineer chugged out of the station—the train picking up stragglers between Gould and Grady which will be "fugee haven."

The levee South Bend, most important of the Arkansas river, has been breached. Twice rumors have been published in newspapers that it had gone out. Wednesday night the river broke through when the levee settled, washed up sand and filled the hole itself.

Stop Overflow Once.

Once, just as the water workers, under direction of Colonel Joe Harris had given the dyke up—with water flowing over the top—the government steamer Choctaw arrived from Memphis with sacks and the engineers and tired negroes, many of them convicts from Cummins, went back to work and stopped the overflow.

The break today had its element of surprise.

This morning the dyke suddenly began caving 2,000 feet below where the

Summary of Conditions In Flood Disaster Area

Engineers dynamite Mississippi river levee at Poydras, La. to relieve situation at New Orleans, a few miles upstream.

Water running through small breaks expected to increase in volume as erosion widens crevasse.

Two or three days probably be required before full extent of emergency measure can be determined.

Four levees on Arkansas and Mississippi rivers threatened. Breaks in any of these would add many thousands of acres to the approximately 11,000 square miles already under water, and endange several towns.

Red Cross announces population of 100-hour battle to save it had been waged. The caving extended over a stretch of 80 feet. Immediately Colonel Harris appealed to Pine Bluff for sacks for sandbags and transferred his crew to the new danger zone.

No drownings from the break have been reported.

Levees from the break will also flood much acreage in north Louisiana.

Red Cross Prepared.

Keeping the levee closed on the increasing Mississippi valley disaster, the Red Cross moved today to concentrate workers, boats, and supplies in strategic places far in advance of the river, which is moving slowly to night somewhere in the vicinity of flooded Greenville, Vicksburg, Natchez and New Orleans save the principle of the levee.

While Baton Rouge and Shreveport also were fortified against emergencies that may appear in the surrounding lowlands.

The great army of refugees continually swells, so that it has been impossible to count them accurately. Some are floating on rafts, others are being carried by the river, others are still marooned where floods overtook them early in the week, while still others thousands are being moved to temporary camps.

Snatching time from their labors to providing food and shelter, relief workers gave what aid they could to the men working on the levees. Boats were sent with sandbags and other materials to help the men working there to hold the mighty stream in check. The large boat Choctaw arrived with 100,000 sandbags.

Several thousands remain, and reaching out for several ancient plantations.

Wide Area Under Water.

With the force behind it gathering volume as the earth slowly crumbled before the rush it was expected that a wide area would be under from 1 to 2 feet of water.

Unless all calculations of the engineers go amiss, practically all of the Plaquemine parish and a large portion of St. Bernard parish, which borders on New Orleans, will be under water within a few days. Should the expected roaring Niagara develop, the flood waters of the Gulf of Mexico would be added to the water now pouring down into the Point a la Pache reach which slowly was inundated along a stretch of 100 yards.

Crossing the highway, the waters moved gently into a meadow and then encroached gradually upon the desert of little canning town of Caernarvon, which sprang out over the levee.

Several thousands remain, and reaching out for several ancient plantations.

Wide Area Under Water.

With the force behind it gathering volume as the earth slowly crumbled before the rush it was expected that a wide area would be under from 1 to 2 feet of water.

Unless all calculations of the engineers go amiss, practically all of the Plaquemine parish and a large portion of St. Bernard parish, which borders on New Orleans, will be under water within a few days. Should the expected roaring Niagara develop, the flood waters of the Gulf of Mexico would be added to the water now pouring down into the Point a la Pache reach which slowly was inundated along a stretch of 100 yards.

Crossing the highway, the waters moved gently into a meadow and then encroached gradually upon the desert of little canning town of Caernarvon, which sprang out over the levee.

Several thousands remain, and reaching out for several ancient plantations.

Wide Area Under Water.

With the force behind it gathering volume as the earth slowly crumbled before the rush it was expected that a wide area would be under from 1 to 2 feet of water.

Unless all calculations of the engineers go amiss, practically all of the Plaquemine parish and a large portion of St. Bernard parish, which borders on New Orleans, will be under water within a few days. Should the expected roaring Niagara develop, the flood waters of the Gulf of Mexico would be added to the water now pouring down into the Point a la Pache reach which slowly was inundated along a stretch of 100 yards.

Crossing the highway, the waters moved gently into a meadow and then encroached gradually upon the desert of little canning town of Caernarvon, which sprang out over the levee.

Several thousands remain, and reaching out for several ancient plantations.

Wide Area Under Water.

With the force behind it gathering volume as the earth slowly crumbled before the rush it was expected that a wide area would be under from 1 to 2 feet of water.

Unless all calculations of the engineers go amiss, practically all of the Plaquemine parish and a large portion of St. Bernard parish, which borders on New Orleans, will be under water within a few days. Should the expected roaring Niagara develop, the flood waters of the Gulf of Mexico would be added to the water now pouring down into the Point a la Pache reach which slowly was inundated along a stretch of 100 yards.

Crossing the highway, the waters moved gently into a meadow and then encroached gradually upon the desert of little canning town of Caernarvon, which sprang out over the levee.

Several thousands remain, and reaching out for several ancient plantations.

Wide Area Under Water.

With the force behind it gathering volume as the earth slowly crumbled before the rush it was expected that a wide area would be under from 1 to 2 feet of water.

Unless all calculations of the engineers go amiss, practically all of the Plaquemine parish and a large portion of St. Bernard parish, which borders on New Orleans, will be under water within a few days. Should the expected roaring Niagara develop, the flood waters of the Gulf of Mexico would be added to the water now pouring down into the Point a la Pache reach which slowly was inundated along a stretch of 100 yards.

Crossing the highway, the waters moved gently into a meadow and then encroached gradually upon the desert of little canning town of Caernarvon, which sprang out over the levee.

Several thousands remain, and reaching out for several ancient plantations.

Wide Area Under Water.

With the force behind it gathering volume as the earth slowly crumbled before the rush it was expected that a wide area would be under from 1 to 2 feet of water.

Unless all calculations of the engineers go amiss, practically all of the Plaquemine parish and a large portion of St. Bernard parish, which borders on New Orleans, will be under water within a few days. Should the expected roaring Niagara develop, the flood waters of the Gulf of Mexico would be added to the water now pouring down into the Point a la Pache reach which slowly was inundated along a stretch of 100 yards.

Crossing the highway, the waters moved gently into a meadow and then encroached gradually upon the desert of little canning town of Caernarvon, which sprang out over the levee.

Several thousands remain, and reaching out for several ancient plantations.

Wide Area Under Water.

With the force behind it gathering volume as the earth slowly crumbled before the rush it was expected that a wide area would be under from 1 to 2 feet of water.

Unless all calculations of the engineers go amiss, practically all of the Plaquemine parish and a large portion of St. Bernard parish, which borders on New Orleans, will be under water within a few days. Should the expected roaring Niagara develop, the flood waters of the Gulf of Mexico would be added to the water now pouring down into the Point a la Pache reach which slowly was inundated along a stretch of 100 yards.

Crossing the highway, the waters moved gently into a meadow and then encroached gradually upon the desert of little canning town of Caernarvon, which sprang out over the levee.

Summary of Conditions In Flood Disaster Area

Engineers dynamite Mississippi river levee at Poydras, La. to relieve situation at New Orleans, a few miles upstream.

Water running through small breaks expected to increase in volume as erosion widens crevasse.

Two or three days probably be required before full extent of emergency measure can be determined.

Four levees on Arkansas and Mississippi rivers threatened. Breaks in any of these would add many thousands of acres to the approximately 11,000 square miles already under water, and endange several towns.

Red Cross announces population of 100-hour battle to save it had been waged. The caving extended over a stretch of 80 feet. Immediately Colonel Harris appealed to Pine Bluff for sacks for sandbags and transferred his crew to the new danger zone.

No drownings from the break have been reported.

Levees from the break will also flood much acreage in north Louisiana.

Red Cross Prepared.

Keeping the levee closed on the increasing Mississippi valley disaster, the Red Cross moved today to concentrate workers, boats, and supplies in strategic places far in advance of the river, which is moving slowly to night somewhere in the vicinity of flooded Greenville, Vicksburg, Natchez and New Orleans save the principle of the levee.

While Baton Rouge and Shreveport also were fortified against emergencies that may appear in the surrounding lowlands.

The great army of refugees continually swells, so that it has been impossible to count them accurately. Some are floating on rafts, others are being carried by the river, others are still marooned where floods overtook them early in the week, while still others thousands are being moved to temporary camps.

Snatching time from their labors to providing food and shelter, relief workers gave what aid they could to the men working on the levees. Boats were sent with sandbags and other materials to help the men working there to hold the mighty stream in check. The large boat Choctaw arrived with 100,000 sandbags.

Several thousands remain, and reaching out for several ancient plantations.

Wide Area Under Water.

With the force behind it gathering volume as the earth slowly crumbled before the rush it was expected that a wide area would be under from 1 to 2 feet of water.

Unless all calculations of the engineers go amiss, practically all of the Plaquemine parish and a large portion of St. Bernard parish, which borders on New Orleans, will be under water within a few days. Should the expected roaring Niagara develop, the flood waters of the Gulf of Mexico would be added to the water now pouring down into the Point a la Pache reach which slowly was inundated along a stretch of 100 yards.

Crossing the highway, the waters moved gently into a meadow and then encroached gradually upon the desert of little canning town of Caernarvon, which sprang out over the levee.

Several thousands remain, and reaching out for several ancient plantations.

Wide Area Under Water.

With the force behind it gathering volume as the earth slowly crumbled before the rush it was expected that a wide area would be under from 1 to 2 feet of water.

Unless all calculations of the engineers go amiss, practically all of the Plaquemine parish and a large portion of St. Bernard parish, which borders on New Orleans, will be under water within a few days. Should the expected roaring Niagara develop, the flood waters of the Gulf of Mexico would be added to the water now pouring down into the Point a la Pache reach which slowly was inundated along a stretch of 100 yards.

Crossing the highway, the waters moved gently into a meadow and then encroached gradually upon the desert of little canning town of Caernarvon, which sprang out over the levee.

Several thousands remain, and reaching out for several ancient plantations.

Wide Area Under Water.

With the force behind it gathering volume as the earth slowly crumbled before the rush it was expected that a wide area would be under from 1 to 2 feet of water.

Unless all calculations of the engineers go amiss, practically all of the Plaquemine parish and a large portion of St. Bernard parish, which borders on New Orleans, will be under water within a few days. Should the expected roaring Niagara develop, the flood waters of the Gulf of Mexico would be added to the water now pouring down into the Point a la Pache reach which slowly was inundated along a stretch of 100 yards.

Crossing the highway, the waters moved gently into a meadow and then encroached gradually upon the desert of little canning town of Caernarvon, which sprang out over the levee.

Several thousands remain, and reaching out for several ancient plantations.

Wide Area Under Water.

With the force behind it gathering volume as the earth slowly crumbled before the rush it was expected that a wide area would be under from 1 to 2 feet of water.

Unless all calculations of the engineers go amiss, practically all of the Plaquemine parish and a large portion of St. Bernard parish, which borders on New Orleans, will be under water within a few days. Should the expected roaring Niagara develop, the flood waters of the Gulf of Mexico would be added to the water now pouring down into the Point a la Pache reach which slowly was inundated along a stretch of 100 yards.

Crossing the highway, the waters moved gently into a meadow and then encroached gradually upon the desert of little canning town of Caernarvon, which sprang out over the levee.

Several thousands remain, and reaching out for several ancient plantations.

Wide Area Under Water.

With the force behind it gathering volume as the earth slowly crumbled before the rush it was expected that a wide area would be under from 1 to 2 feet of water.

Unless all calculations of the engineers go amiss, practically all of the Plaquemine parish and a large portion of St. Bernard parish, which borders on New Orleans, will be under water within a few days. Should the expected roaring Niagara develop, the flood waters of the Gulf of Mexico would be added to the water now pouring down into the Point a la Pache reach which slowly was inundated along a stretch of 100 yards.

Crossing the highway, the waters moved gently into a meadow and then encroached gradually upon the desert of little canning town of Caernarvon, which sprang out over the levee.

Several thousands remain, and reaching out for several ancient plantations.

Wide Area Under Water.

With the force behind it gathering volume as the earth slowly crumbled before the rush it was expected that a wide area would be under from 1 to 2 feet of water.

Unless all calculations of the engineers go amiss, practically all of the Plaquemine parish and a large portion of St. Bernard parish, which borders on New Orleans, will be under water within a few days. Should the expected roaring Niagara develop, the flood waters of the Gulf of Mexico would be added to the water now pouring down into the Point a la Pache reach which slowly was inundated along a stretch of 100 yards.

Crossing the highway, the waters moved gently into a meadow and then encroached gradually upon the desert of little canning town of Caernarvon, which sprang out over the levee.

Several thousands remain, and reaching out for several ancient plantations.

Wide Area Under Water.

With the force behind it gathering volume as the earth slowly crumbled before the rush it was expected that a wide area would be under from 1 to 2 feet of water.

Unless all calculations of the engineers go amiss, practically all of the Plaquemine parish and a large portion of St. Bernard parish, which borders on New Orleans, will be under water within a few days. Should the expected roaring Niagara develop, the flood waters of the Gulf of Mexico would be added to the water now pouring down into the Point a la Pache reach which slowly was inundated along a stretch of 100 yards.

Crossing the highway, the waters moved gently into a meadow and then encroached gradually upon the desert of little canning town of Caernarvon, which sprang out over the levee.

Dynamiting River Levee

AIRPLANE OBSERVER IS DISAPPOINTING

Proves Dramatic Flop

BY DON L. HOGAN.

New Orleans, La., April 29.—(United News.)—With a crash that could be heard faintly above an airplane motor's roar, the famous levee at Poydras was blown up this afternoon.

But from 2,500 feet in the air, where I was watching it from an airplane, I was disappointed. The levee did not save New Orleans as the most disappointing dramatic flop that could be imagined.

The airplane rolled from the shock just as I expected it to. A huge column of mud and dust and a cloud of bluish smoke shot up from the levee just as I expected. The mud fell hard and the smoke rolled away just as it was supposed to do.

There was no huge gap in the levee. There was no huge wall of water tearing its way inland. The trees and houses immediately behind the spot were not being torn from the ground and dashed to pieces by the whirling water. Everything was just as it had been before except that there was a small crater in the top of the levee, through which a tiny stream of water slowly trickled.

The airplane turned on its nose and spiraled downward as two more columns of mud and smoke shot up.

And when these clouds rolled away, there were two more craters without even a trickle of water. A half hundred men standing on the levee 200 yards upstream walked to the spot and gazed curiously down into the hole.

After a few moments, they stepped down into the craters and began pouring down to cut channels for the water with pick and shovel. The water from the first opening ran slowly down the white ribbon of road behind the levee and then seeped into the back yard of a tiny house on the other side. Two streams from the other side joined it, and the three started a thin, fan-shaped sheet of water moving over St. Bernard parish.

Four thousand fishing, trapping, hunting "cousins" of the marshlands, who had built a levee so strong that dynamite could hardly touch it, had given up their lands and homes that were, however, saved from the waters of the Mississippi.

More water began rushing through the hole, but the dramatic moment had passed. The pilot of the airplane gave the scene one last disgusted glance and turned his plane toward port.

Farms, Villages Deserted

COUNTRYSIDE ABANDONED BY RESIDENTS

As Blast Rips Open Levee

New Orleans, April 29.—(AP)—St. Bernard and Plaquemine parishes tonight were a land without people as water trickled through the small crevasses torn today by dynamite in the Mississippi levee.

An airplane flight by an Associated Press correspondent revealed a countryside deserted, farm plots without owners, small school buildings with no pupils, churches without priests.

Virtually all the residents who had been in the neighborhood of Poydras, the flight showed, in spite of the trepidation with which they beheld the efforts to send the water through the levee.

The highest building in the region which it is believed will be inundated after the waters have cut a clean path through the embankment, is a three-story courthouse of St. Bernard parish, probably will not be greatly damaged by the flood waters.

Scores of workmen were busily engaged in throwing up protective barriers around two industrial plants, the Braithwaite paper pulp mill and the Orange Grove Industrial Alcohol distillery, both of which will be reached by the spreading water.

Here and there a family could be seen, apparently hastily gathering possessions and leaving after having laid out their departure until the last minute.

In the trapping community of De la Croix Island, in the path of the water as it moves toward the Gulf of Mexico, a number of trappers were working in their boats. Virtually all of the inhabitants of this region, accustomed to the vagaries of the water and marsh lands, have refused to leave their homes.

The natural topography of the land will aid the flood waters in reaching the Gulf. A canal will direct them toward Lake Lery, whence it will cut through the swamp lands to the bayous leading into Lake Borgne and the Gulf of Mexico.

The property loss in this section will be small. With the exception of the few industrial plants, the burden will fall upon the truck farmers above and below the crevasse.

HOVER CONFERS WITH STATE HEADS IN FLOOD AREA

Memphis, Tenn., April 29.—(AP)—Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce and personal representative of President Coolidge in the flood area of the Mississippi valley, conferred here today with Gov. Murphy and Adjutant General Curtis Green, of Mississippi, with regard to direction of relief measures in Mississippi.

After the conference in which Mr. Hoover is presumed to have made some recommendations for control of the relief movement, the commerce secretary retired to his private railroad car.

Governor Murphy and General Green retired tonight to their quarters at a local hotel and went into a private conference.

A. M. E. CONFERENCE MEETS IN ATHENS

Athens, Ga., April 29.—(Special.)—The A. M. E. church is holding daily sessions this week in Greater Bethel church, Rev. R. B. Barfield is pastor and Rev. J. T. Wilkerson, president.

The organization was presided over by the election of Rev. J. T. Wilkerson as president, secretary, C. E. Hudson and John Pope, marshals.

Dr. R. J. Jefferson, first church, Athens, presided at the conference, with Dr. S. F. Harris, Jr., of the church, and Dr. A. M. Hadley, the candidate for the position of president of the church in 1928, spoke of the work being done in the A. M. E. church in America and in the foreign fields.

COOLIDGE VETOES EXTRA SESSION

Continued from First Page.

soon as Secretary of Commerce Hoover and Red Cross officials in the flood district decide how much more will be needed.

Suggests Loans.

Senator King, Utah democrat, suggested that "vendors and mayors in the stricken region arrange loans of $100,000,000 to $200,000,000 on conditional promise of repayment by the federal government."

The president sees practical difficulties in the way of calling an extra session, due to the time it would take to assemble "en masse" and to prepare a bill. "This matter was fully discussed at the cabinet meeting today following a suggestion received from Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, minority leader. The president consulted Senator Curtis, of Kansas, majority leader, in the matter also. Motion pictures of the flooded region were shown to the cabinet today.

The army engineer corps has funds which it can use to render valuable reconstruction service, it was pointed out. The federal government also may have been able to furnish southern farmers with seed supplies for the fall planting.

The administration is already giving consideration to permanent flood control measures. The white house pointed out that the complicated problems must be looked at from three angles, that of flood control, power development and navigation. Expert opinion is much divided as to the best methods and it is probable that much investigation and debate will be necessary before a program can be agreed upon.

Dynamiting River Levee

AIRPLANE OBSERVER IS DISAPPOINTING

Proves Dramatic Flop

BY DON L. HOGAN.

New Orleans, La., April 29.—(United News.)—With a crash that could be heard faintly above an airplane motor's roar, the famous levee at Poydras was blown up this afternoon.

But from 2,500 feet in the air, where I was watching it from an airplane, I was disappointed. The levee did not save New Orleans as the most disappointing dramatic flop that could be imagined.

The airplane rolled from the shock just as I expected it to. A huge column of mud and dust and a cloud of bluish smoke shot up from the levee just as I expected. The mud fell hard and the smoke rolled away just as it was supposed to do.

There was no huge gap in the levee. There was no huge wall of water tearing its way inland. The trees and houses immediately behind the spot were not being torn from the ground and dashed to pieces by the whirling water. Everything was just as it had been before except that there was a small crater in the top of the levee, through which a tiny stream of water slowly trickled.

The airplane turned on its nose and spiraled downward as two more columns of mud and smoke shot up.

And when these clouds rolled away, there were two more craters without even a trickle of water. A half hundred men standing on the levee 200 yards upstream walked to the spot and gazed curiously down into the hole.

After a few moments, they stepped down into the craters and began pouring down to cut

CITY MANAGER PLAN HIT BY HARRY YORK

Charging that advocates of the city manager plan of government for Atlanta have arranged that the city council not elect a local man for the post of city manager, in the event the new charter is passed, Councilman Harry York, of the sixth ward, Friday night attacked the proposed new charter.

Mr. York's address was made at a meeting of the Sylvan Hills Improvement club in the tenth ward, and was attended by a large group of members and friends of the organization.

"The profession of city managers is ably and amply protected in the new charter by excluding all employees of the city government under penalty of dismissal from their jobs, from even aspiring to the post of city manager, and members of the proposed new council, the only people in Atlanta who would understand the city's government needs, are excluded by another provision which prohibits them holding the office for a period of two years after their service in council terminates."

"In other words, Atlantans and Georgians are not regarded as having the brain power to administer Atlanta's government, but we will be forced to import a ruler from some distant city—one who is trained by city manager experts."

"It is far more important to the individual in Atlanta to have a man on the chief executive of the city than it is to have one on the governor of Georgia or the president of the United States, and these same provisions force prohibition a vote, either on the mayor, who would be a mere figurehead, or the city manager."

"The new charter does not require city employees to be tax payers of the city of Atlanta, or even residents of the state of Georgia."

Mr. York also compared figures of governmental costs in Atlanta and Fulton county with those of Cleveland, Ohio, and other cities of Atlanta's size, claiming that the capita cost here is the lowest in the entire country, of cities in Atlanta's population group. The figures were taken from the report of the United States department of commerce journal.

MEYERHARDT NAMED ACTING COMMISSIONER

David J. Meyerhardt, former assistant United States attorney in Atlanta, was appointed Friday by Federal Judge Samuel H. Sibley to act as United States commissioner during the illness of Commissioner L. S. Ledbetter.

Mr. Meyerhardt was sworn in as commissioner Friday afternoon at the office of the district court clerk.

MAYOR IN TENNESSEE TO BUY PARK PONIES

Mayor I. N. Ragsdale was in Tennessee Friday, engaged in the purchase of a number of ponies to be installed in Piedmont and Grant parks this summer for the entertainment of Atlanta children. He is expected to return to Atlanta today or tomorrow. In the meantime, Mayor Pro Tem W. Guy Dobbs occupies the mayor's chair in the city hall.

Moneys for the purchase of the ponies was donated to the city by the local branch of Sears, Roebuck & Co., the Georgia Power company, the Coca-Cola company and one private subscription of $100.

AFTER PERIOD OF TORTURE, MAN FINDS RELIEF FROM ITCHING

Charlestown (Boston), Mass., Dec. 18.—"Last June I had an itching irritation on my back, principally between the shoulders, and also on the back of my hands, extending to the shoulders. The skin was apparently clear of any disorder, but the itching was intense. After a vigorous rubbing with a Turkish towel there would appear two spots, about an inch apart, which bled from the effects of the rubbing. I used Bay Rum and other lotions before I tried your Resinol Ointment. At bedtime my back received a thorough washing with Resinol Soap and a very generous application of Ointment, after which I would rest quite comfortably until about two or three in the morning, when I received another application. A third upon arising would be enough to make me feel at ease during the day. Thanks to the above treatment, the trouble is now entirely healed." (Signed) John W. Matthews, 1 Crystal Place.

Invigorates Purifies and Enriches the Blood

Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic

The Minuet

—expressing the American ideal of grace and culture.

The grace and beauty of the Minuet design in Sterling Silver is truly of the early American period. The scrolled pediment, which is the distinguishing symbol of early American art, is the motif of this charming design.

American women, appreciating the simple beauty of the Colonial atmosphere, are showing their own good taste in choosing the Minuet design for their family silver . . . in perfect harmony with elegant surroundings.

This design may be purchased in complete, correct service, with matched flat silver, tea-ware, and dinner-ware. Our engravers will create for you a monogram of individuality which will add to the beauty of the plain surface of the Minuet and at the same time give your silver an air of distinguished personality.

MAIER & BERKELE, Inc.

31 Whitehall St. Established 40 Years

Chamberlin Has Novel Pre-Sale Shopping Plan

The Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose company, in anticipation of its great May sale beginning Monday and to be known as "Seven May Days," is following a novel and unusual plan in allowing patrons of the store to examine the sale items Saturday and select such of them as they wish. The change and delivery will be made on the opening date of the sale, Monday, May 2.

While the pre-showing of the sale items is an unusual thing, the "Seven May Days" sales event which the Chamberlin store is holding is in itself a revolutionary move on the part of that organization. This is the first sale of store-wide character which Chamberlin's has ever held, outside of certain monthly one-day events, and it promises to be the biggest thing the store has ever participated in, according to the owners and managers.

ONE CAR CAUGHT, NO LIQUOR FOUND, AFTER LONG CHASE

Following a chase of several miles of two alleged run-runners, in which a smoke screen prevented officers from overtaking the alleged liquor laden machine, a man giving his name as Otis Wood was arrested on Ponce de Leon avenue Friday morning on charges of speeding, according to police reports. His bond was assessed at $500. No liquor was found in his car, it was reported.

The chase started on Marietta street, continued up Marietta to Forsyth street, and on Ponce de Leon avenue, where the rear car of the alleged run-runners was overtaken.

County police stated that the lead car let out a large smoke screen which prevented the officers from overtaking it and a second car, some distance behind, maneuvered in such a zig-zag manner across the road that it blocked the progress of the pursuing car. When the two cars entered Ponce de Leon avenue at a high rate of speed the smoke screen was so effective that the alleged liquor laden machine escaped, but the officers forced the driver of the second car to surrender.

CLOTHING NEEDED FOR FLOOD VICTIMS, SAYS ARMY HEAD

Atlantans who have children's clothing too heavily worn out for their Atlanta children, are urged Friday by Staff Captain W. L. Raine, of the Salvation Army, to contribute to the supply being raised by the army for distribution to flood sufferers in the Mississippi area.

The army was preparing a second shipment of clothing to the flood area Friday. The clothing, which is being established at different points where the need for relief is greatest, most of the clothing contributed up to date has been from Atlanta and sections hundred more garments for children are sought to include in the shipment.

SPANISH WAR VET ORDER TO WITNESS PICTURE OF WAR

Officers and members of the Passing Legion, No. 1, Georgia Branch, Military Order of the Serpent, an organization of veterans of the Spanish American war, will be guests of the "Picture of War," a picture drama of the Philippine instruction will be the presentation.

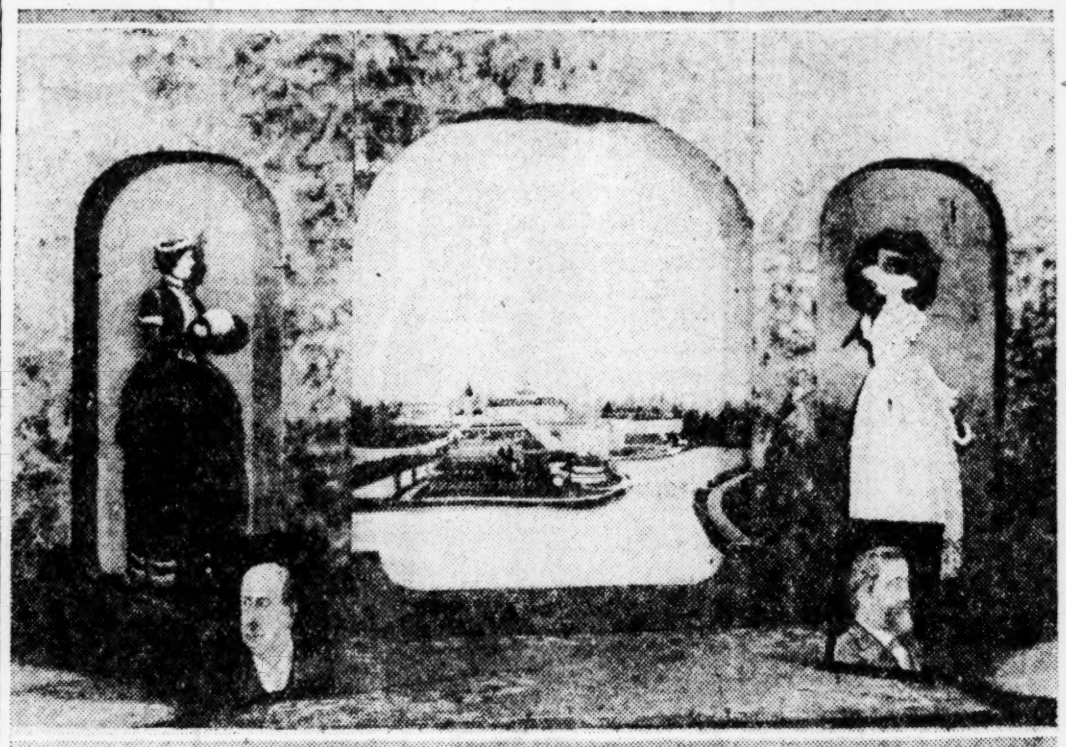

The fraternal is based on a ritual found in the Philippine Islands during the period of the pursuit and capture of the famed rebel, Aguinaldo. Among officers of the organization who have been in Atlanta during the week and will attend the party this afternoon are W. N. Erichsen, of Savannah, deputy adjutant; A. L. Burnett, of Macon, patriotic instructor; and J. H. Neighbors, of Macon, camp commander.

"WELFARE BULLETIN" VALUED BY LEGION

In recognition of its value in general child welfare work, the state welfare department has been asked for 450 copies of its monthly publication, "Welfare Bulletin," by the director of the American Legion child welfare work, Miss Emma C. Puschner, each month.

Assisting Miss Rhoda Kaufman, in charge of the department of child welfare in Georgia, have been eight or ten girls from Commercial High school. The preparation of the bulletin, together with the additional work attached to the sending of the 450 copies to the American Legion headquarters has entailed the addition to the staff and the girls have been donating their services to this cause for some months.

Rich's Display Windows Present Pictorial History of Atlanta Since Civil War Time

A photograph of one of the ten impressive scenes of life in Atlanta since the war between the states which appear in the display windows of M. Rich & Bros. Co. in connection with its sixtieth anniversary as an Atlanta business concern. This particular scene is of the Cotton States Industrial exposition held here in 1895.

BY LOYD A. WILHOIT.

Atlantans now have an opportunity to view in pictorial procession the history of "The Gate City of Dixie" since the end of the devastating war between the states, its phenomenal rise from the ashes of invasion, and its development into the queen city of the south.

This graphic historical pageant is staged in the windows of the M. Rich & Bros. Co., on Alabama and Broad streets, which concern next week will celebrate the sixtieth anniversary of its birth as an Atlanta enterprise.

As the progress of the city is shown in magnificently executed canvases in the great display windows, the growth of the Rich company—which coincided with the development of Atlanta at every stage of its life—is also strikingly depicted.

The window display, which is one of the most extensive and forceful ideas ever presented by an Atlanta store, is the work of John C. Mackey, Rich's talented and artistic window-dresser. Assembling of materials for the work required many weeks of diligent research and action, and the display, taken in whole or in part, is one of the most impressive, educational and artistic achievements of its kind ever attempted here.

Ten Scenes in Series.

Ten scenes of as many stages of the city's history are shown in the windows, the first scene having a setting of the year 1855 and the last 1927.

Cuban Marble King Here Will Greet His President

Victor Allen (right), of Buford, and his guest, Jose Pennino, marble king of Cuba, are shown in the above picture. They are attending the Metropolitan opera in Atlanta. Mr. Pennino will remain here until next Thursday, when he will welcome General Gerardo Machado, president of Cuba and his personal friend, to Atlanta.

Few Atlantans and, indeed, Georgians realize that Cuba, the island republic, is less than 36 hours ride from the south's gate city.

But this is true, and Atlantans Friday had the word of Mr. and Mrs. Jose Pennino, of Havana, for the fact that they took breakfast at their home in Havana last Saturday and Sunday night in Atlanta. The proximity of the capital of Cuba and the capital of Georgia has been largely instrumental in establishing an international business relation which, at the present time, represents several million dollars annually and renders profitable to both nations, according to Mr. Pennino, well known as the "Marble King" of Cuba.

Mr. and Mrs. Pennino are, having missed only two since 1914. They are guests of Victor Allen and Rona Allen, Jr., of Buford, who, during the past several years, have established a large demand for leather goods marketed by the Buford firm in the island republic.

Will Greet Machado. Although Mr. Pennino is here for the opera season, his visit will assume international importance May 5, when he will be one of a reception committee to greet General Gerardo Machado, president of the republic of Cuba, when the latter arrives to confer with prominent Atlantans concerning financial relations of Cuba with large business and banking houses here.

General Machado and Mr. Pennino are personal friends and Mr. Pennino stated Friday that he felt he could not leave Atlanta on the eve of the arrival of his friend and ruler, so he has decided to spend the interim in visiting large marble quarries of Georgia, Alabama and Tennessee.

Imbued with a desire to serve his native country, and to add to the list of witnesses against the Metropolitan Opera presentations in Atlanta, Mr. and Mrs. Pennino have been attending Life-size figures illustrating the style of dress of the period in which they are founded, thus intensifying interest in the series. In addition, painting of the Rich store—larger and more pretentious than both of its predecessors—is presented in the eighth scene, which has 1900 as its period.

The ninth scene shows a big forward commercial street in Atlanta's development in the form of the construction of the new postoffice, and the tenth painting brings the series up to date with a big likeness of the magnificent new home of the Rich company at Broad, Alabama and Forsyth streets.

Interior To Be Decorated. This interesting and educational display is a feature of Rich's sixtieth anniversary event. In addition to the construction of the new postoffice, and the tenth painting brings the series up to date with a big likeness of the magnificent new home of the Rich company at Broad, Alabama and Forsyth streets.

Rebuilding Is Shown. In the third scene the public is given a glimpse of 1873, this window display showing the city in process of rebuilding. As in the case of the other paintings, the costumes of the period are displayed on life-size models.

The fifth scene—laid in 1870—shows Rich's second store, with more normal economic and business conditions following the war in evidence. The sixth scene is laid in 1886 and shows our prosperity and threatening us with serious financial straits.

Sees Success in Visit. "I am confident the visit of our president to Mr. Coolidge will bring about a better understanding of the cold procedures of diplomacy, and eventually, the solution of these problems."

"President Machado, who believes more in personal acquaintance than in the cold procedures of diplomacy, has gone to Washington to see the American president, animated by his desire to stabilize the finances of our country, and in order to end once and for all time, the sad picture of a hard-working, honest, generous people, almost starving at the very doors of the great American republic."

"He, with the idea of obtaining the cooperation that history, tradition and mere cold figures of our business relations, call for. We lay more from American houses than any other Spanish-American country, even though our population is but 3,500,000, our debt is only $80,000,000. Cuba was the first of all the nations that found it necessary to resort to Uncle Sam's chest for funds, during the war of independence, and since that time, Cuba has been a financial burden to the United States."

"Yet Cuba starves; the sugar tariff is a barrier to Cuba's happiness and prosperity and if the American people viewed with sympathy our struggle for independence, and contributed largely to our cause, finally giving them their own blood for Cuba's freedom, there is no reason why we should now be chained to perpetual financial troubles by a tariff that does not and cannot express the will of the great American people, where Cuba has always found kindness and encouragement."

Aided in World War.

"When Uncle Sam went to war in 1917, Cuba, unable to send men to the great struggle, contributed as best she could, allowing a fixed price to be placed on her crops and thereby eliminating profiteering in sugar. Hundreds of millions were saved by the American public by this generous action of Cuba; yet, at a time when Cuba is in need, there is a tariff that is anything but reciprocal of that deed."

"President Machado's visit to Atlanta is of important significance; Atlanta and the south in general, should be more closely connected with Cuba, in a business way, due to the transportation facilities and to the proximity of the whole southern United States to the island republic. Our people, who visit with great interest among Atlanta's most popular visitors."

"Atlanta is considered as being very closely related by Cubans. It is the headquarters of the federal reserve bank, which deals directly with Cuba, and that has done much to make our contact more intimate," said Mr. Pennino.

Praises Air Mail. "It is less than 10 hours to Savannah and Charleston from Atlanta by rail, and inauguration of mail and passenger air lines between Atlanta and Havana will tie the two great cities even closer together. Atlanta is our neighbor. We are almost suburbs of each other. Last year the district federal reserve bank here sent millions of dollars to Cuba to prevent collapse of many Cuban banks and averted a financial catastrophe. We are proud of Atlanta and its progressive spirit. It is calling us to greater achievements because we are attempting to keep pace."

"The skyline of Atlanta is ever changing, and these changes are monuments to the progress of the south's most progressive and fastest growing metropolis."

"President Machado, whose honesty and desire to serve Cuba is so generally recognized, is on a visit to America, and his visit will assume international importance May 5, when he will be one of a reception committee to greet General Gerardo Machado, president of the republic of Cuba, when the latter arrives to confer with prominent Atlantans concerning financial relations of Cuba with large business and banking houses here."

General Machado and Mr. Pennino are personal friends and Mr. Pennino stated Friday that he felt he could not leave Atlanta on the eve of the arrival of his friend and ruler, so he has decided to spend the interim in visiting large marble quarries of Georgia, Alabama and Tennessee.

Imbued with a desire to serve his native country, and to add to the list of witnesses against the Metropolitan Opera presentations in Atlanta, Mr. and Mrs. Pennino have been attending

DOWN IN FLOODS FIRST LAND TILT

First blood in injunction suits to prevent condemnation of land by the Toccoa Electric Power company, for the operation of a newly constructed dam on the Toccoa river went to the power company Friday when Federal Judge Samuel H. Sibley in United States district court denied a petition filed by George Lewis Pratt for an interlocutory injunction against the condemnation.

A similar suit filed by another landowner is to be heard in district court within the near future, though no date has been set. The two suits allege that the property of the plaintiffs would be damaged by the operation of the dam, and that the price offered for the condemned property is not sufficient.

The dam is practically completed, having cost in the neighborhood of $1,000,000. In its suit for an injunction, Mr. Pratt alleged that the water would back up behind the dam to the extent of covering a highway and damaging property not involved in the condemnation proceedings.

CHARTER COMMITTEE EXPLAINS POSITION

Reasons why the citizens' charter committee, which is advocating a city manager form of government for Atlanta, is insisting upon a separate referendum for the charter question instead of conducting the election on the same date as the democratic primary, was given Friday in a lengthy statement issued from committee headquarters.

The statement follows: "The citizens charter committee wishes to put before the public the situation as it sees it, concerning the election of the charter."

The Muller property, consisting of a large home and 12 acres of land on the old Wieuca road, was sold for $90,000, it was stated. The purchasers plan to improve the lot with a residence costing approximately $20,000, it was stated. The transaction also involved three small stores and a gasoline filling station located on the south side, sold to Carlton, Inc. The combined deal was handled by G. W. Withers, who recently came from the Draper-Owens company from the Adair Realty and Trust company.

"A paper was drawn and sent to council, in which the committee offered to withhold the petition in order to save the voters the inconvenience of two elections and the city the sum of $2,500 on condition that the council and the democratic executive committee would agree to put the charter question on the primary ballot and officially notify the citizens charter committee of such agreement."

"The committee went to great trouble in the attempt to have each councilman interviewed upon the subject in order that he would understand the question fully and lend his support to the three following reasons:

"1. Because there would then be no question in the legislature, but that the election had been rendered more favorable to the charter forces for the three following reasons:

"2. Because it would be a special election with only one issue.

"3. Because registrations to vote in the election would continue up to the day of the election.

"In the face of these disadvantages, the citizens charter committee offered to withhold the petition if it could be put upon the primary ballot, under the conditions outlined.

"Two council meetings elapsed, at each of which the proposition was denounced as illegal and was most unfavorably criticized.

"Then at the very meeting at which the petition was properly filed and presented, council asked that it be withdrawn."

"Withholding the petition was an entirely different matter from withdrawing it. Four prominent attorneys in Atlanta rendered the opinion that no one had the authority to withdraw it. This principle of law is clearly stated in corpus juris, page 526, as follows: 'An agency is of course created by the principal for a purpose, or for the doing of certain specific acts, and when this purpose is fully accomplished, or these acts done, the agency ipso facto ends, and the authority of the agent to bind the principal by further action thereupon ceases.'"

"If the petition had been withdrawn it would still be a valid petition and if council or the democratic executive committee, for any reason, failed to carry out their agreement, the petition could be presented. But it should be withdrawn after having been duly filed, there would be a grave legal question as to whether it would be a valid petition to present at a later date in the event the agreement was not carried out."

"In other words the citizens charter committee will not relinquish its guarantee of an election."

"The petition has been duly filed in accordance with the law which reads that the election must be called within 30 days of its presentation in council, which will bring the election on or before May 18."

"Other legal questions are involved in the whole situation and the citizens charter committee will avoid any possible legal entanglements by following the advice of the four leading attorneys consulted."

CHILDREN VICTIMS OF FREAK ACCIDENTS

A number of unusual accidents to children were treated at Grady hospital Friday, according to reports. Jim Garrett, of 608 Stewart avenue, had a swollen finger caused by a tight ring. A steel cutter was used to cut the ring from his finger. Marquise Street, 3, of 1395 Everhart avenue, was given an X-ray examination after she had swallowed a straight pin. It lodged in her abdomen, and doctors advised a diet and sent the child home.

Two days remain for tax payments.

Only two days remain for delinquent taxpayers in Atlanta and Fulton county to pay their special, state and occupational taxes, or be subject to a penalty of 20 per cent as provided by law. W. W. Richardson, Fulton county tax collector, announced Friday, "Several hundred Atlantans and business houses have not yet paid these taxes and the notice is given as a warning to prevent anyone having to be assessed the penalty which the law requires, Mr. Richardson said."

Milton C. Work's Pointer On How To Play Bridge

(Milton C. Work, the international bridge authority, will answer your auction bridge questions. A stamped self-addressed envelope must accompany each request for replies.)

The Pointer for today is: It often is advisable to double an adverse suit bid with one stopped in that suit; with two stoppers and requisite side strength no trump should be bid. Yesterday's hand was held by West who had to decide what to do after a declaration by South.

A-4-4-5
K-10-6-4-2
Q-9-8-7-3
J-2-1

My answer suit reads:

No. 17. South pass; West should bid one No Trump.
No. 18. South one Spade; West should bid one No Trump.
No. 19. South one Heart; West should bid one No Trump.
No. 20. South one Diamond; West should bid one No Trump.

My reasons in support of these declarations are:

No. 17. With four suits stopped and a hand containing two Aces and two Kings, plus additional strength, the No Trump suit does not need explanatory comment.

No. 18. The adverse suit being stopped but once and there being admirable support for a Heart take-out if East have four Hearts, the double is distinctly a better declaration than No Trump.

No. 19. A very close choice between one No Trump and a double. The argument in favor of the double is that it East has four Spades, it will produce a Spade bid and that might work more advantageously than a No Trump On the other hand, after a Spade by East (the situation in which the double might work better than No Trump), South would lead. The West hand is of the type which desires as many leads as possible up to it, and it has the Hearts stopped twice. A No Trump is reasonably safe and more apt to make nine tricks than the possible Spade answer from the partner would be to make ten.

No. 20. Another close choice between No Trump and a double. The argument in favor of the double is that it East has four Spades, it will produce a Spade bid and that might work more advantageously than a No Trump On the other hand, after a Spade by East (the situation in which the double might work better than No Trump), South would lead. The West hand is of the type which desires as many leads as possible up to it, and it has the Hearts stopped twice. A No Trump is reasonably safe and more apt to make nine tricks than the possible Spade answer from the partner would be to make ten.

No. 18. The adverse suit being stopped but once and there being admirable support for a Heart take-out if East have four Hearts, the double is distinctly a better declaration than No Trump.

No. 19. A very close choice between one No Trump and a double. The argument in favor of the double is that it East has four Spades, it will produce a Spade bid and that might work more advantageously than a No Trump On the other hand, after a Spade by East (the situation in which the double might work better than No Trump), South would lead. The West hand is of the type which desires as many leads as possible up to it, and it has the Hearts stopped twice. A No Trump is reasonably safe and more apt to make nine tricks than the possible Spade answer from the partner would be to make ten.

(Copyright, 1927, for The Constitution.)

$90,000 INVOLVED 3 HURT IS DAY'S IN REALTY TRADE AUTO CRASH TOLL

In a real estate transaction involving the Muller homestead on the old Wieuca road, three stores and a filling station on the southside and a Druid Hills lot on Ponce de Leon avenue, property valued at $90,000, was sold through the Draper-Owens company, according to announcement Friday.

The Muller property, consisting of a large home and 12 acres of land on the old Wieuca road, was sold for $90,000, it was stated. The purchasers plan to improve the lot with a residence costing approximately $20,000, it was stated. The transaction also involved three small stores and a gasoline filling station located on the south side, sold to Carlton, Inc. The combined deal was handled by G. W. Withers, who recently came from the Draper-Owens company from the Adair Realty and Trust company.

The accident happened on East Fair street, near Kelly street, and, according to police, the driver ran his machine onto the sidewalk in an effort to avoid the child.

Call Officers F. A. Newport and J. W. Murphy, who investigated, were told that the driver stopped his car and took the injured lad to the hospital, but left before the police arrived. After checking the given address, police were told by officials of the company that they had no knowledge of Henderson.

R. T. Echols, of 3212 West North avenue, was treated at Grady hospital Friday afternoon for injuries received when he was knocked from his buggy while riding on Bankhead highway near Julian street, according to police.

Echols told Call Officers F. A. Newport and J. W. Murphy that the man stopped his car and when asked for an address, refused to give it. Echols noted the car's license number, which he furnished the police. No arrests had been made late Friday.

With, negroess, of a Valentine street, was slightly injured when struck by an automobile on Forrest avenue near Bedford place.

The car which injured the negroess was driven by C. A. London, of 344 Forrest avenue, who stopped his car and took the girl to Grady hospital. London, who was a police report, stated that the negroess told him that she was near-sighted.

Decidedly Thompson PERSONALITY IN SHOES

Easy—Comfortable—Styleful Expertly designed and superbly built—that is the "Thompson Shoe".

This blucher pattern on your Shelton last, has the individuality you are looking for. They look right—fit right—wear right—and are right.

Make This Shop Your Shoe Headquarters Write for Style Booklet

THOMPSON BROS. SHOE CO. FINE SHOEMAKERS BROCKTON CAMPELLO, MASS.

FOR SALE

Flat newspaper paper suitable for small publishers and job printers. The price is right.

P.O. Box 1731, Atlanta, Ga.

The Story of Today's Operas

"Romeo et Juliette"—"Madame Butterfly"

BY PAUL STEVENSON.

The classic of all romances, "Romeo et Juliette," and the appealing story of little Cho-Cho-San in "Madame Butterfly" will be the two operas which will bring to a successful end Atlanta's seventeenth season of Metropolitan grand opera at the auditorium Saturday afternoon and night.

In "Romeo et Juliette" will be found a star cast of principals which will include beautiful Lucrezia Bori as Juliette, Beniamino Gigli, tenor, as Romeo, pretty little Louise Hunter as Stephano, and Leon Rothier, Henriette Wakefield, Angelo Bada, Joseph McPherson and others including the corps de ballet. Louis Hasselmans will conduct.

For "Madame Butterfly" another star cast has been provided which will include Florence Easton, soprano, as Cho-Cho-San, Armand Tokaty, as Lieutenant Pinkerton, Bourskaya, Louise Lerch, Antonio Scotti, Alfio Tedesco, Max Altglass, William Gustafson, Vincenzo Reschiglian and Paula Quintania with Vincenzo Bellezza conducting.

The romantic tragedy of William Shakespeare is closely followed in Gounod's opera. There are five acts in "Romeo et Juliette," the first scene being laid in the house of Capulet, with a gay fête in progress. Romeo, accompanied by his friends, Mercutio, Benvolio and others, arrive at the party wearing masks.

Love at First Sight. Romeo and Juliette meet and it is a case of love at first sight in spite of the fact that Juliette is the daughter of the enemy of Romeo's family. Romeo, a hot-blooded Italian, is the son of a wealthy family, and Juliette is the daughter of a wealthy family, and the two families are enemies.

Act two discloses the Capulet garden with a balcony above leading from Juliette's chamber. Romeo enters and climbs the balcony and Juliette appears above where the famous balcony scene is enacted in a song which is almost a duplication of the scene in Shakespeare's play.

There are two scenes in act three. Scene one shows the cell of Friar Laurence where Romeo and Juliette are married secretly by the priest, who sees a chance to heal the animosity which has existed so long between the houses of Montague and Capulet.

In the second scene Romeo's page, Stephano, is discovered before the house of Capulet searching for his master. He is caught and taken to the house of the Montagues.

Fight Precipitated. Romeo appears suddenly and tries to stop the fighting. Mercutio, friend of Romeo, is slain by Tybalt, who then slays Romeo. Juliette is left alone and faints.

In act four there are two scenes. The first shows Juliette's room at night and a second act is sung by the lovers as Romeo bids Juliette farewell.

The last act shows the tomb of the Capulets. Juliette lies in a trance. Romeo, having failed to get Friar Laurence to inform her of her marriage with Paris, which he orders shall be performed at once, enters the tomb and finds Juliette dead.

He finds that she has taken poison and is dying and rather than live without her he drinks the poison and dies. Juliette awakes and finds Romeo dead and she dies.

MADAMS BUTTERFLY HEARD AT NIGHT. When the curtain rises on the first act of "Madame Butterfly," the handsome young naval officer of the United States, Lieutenant R. F. Pinkerton, is seen inspecting a "Japanese home" which he is soon to occupy after he contracts a Japanese marriage with pretty little Cho-Cho-San, known among her friends as "Butterfly."

Goro, marriage broker, who arranged the match, shows Pinkerton the house.

Then introduced to Pinkerton, one of whom is Susuki, maid to Butterfly, Pinkerton's friend, Sharpless, American consul, appears on the scene and talks to Pinkerton about his proposed marriage. He tells him that this might be a serious thing, a matter of life or death to a Japanese girl, while to Pinkerton it is a pastime.

He begs Pinkerton to reflect before he takes this step. As they are talking the bride enters with her followers. In a conversation with Sharpless, he learns that she really is taking the marriage seriously.

In an interview with Pinkerton the bride then confides to him that she has renounced her faith, secretly and quite unknown to her relations. This means that she has cut herself adrift from all traditions of her race and is placing her future destiny entirely in the hands of her husband.

The wedding is staged amid "right surroundings" before relations of "conflict and there is much merriment, which is interrupted by the weird appearance of a Japanese priest, the Bonze, uncle of Butterfly, who has discovered that she has renounced her ancient faith. He inflicts a curse on her, but Pinkerton objects the whole crowd of relatives and begins to make love to his little bride and to comfort her.

Pinkerton Goes Away. Scene one of act two is shown the interior of Madame Butterfly's home three years later. A beautiful background of cherry blossoms is shown. Pinkerton long since was recalled to America with the promise that he would return to Japan "when the robins nest again." Butterfly is seen talking to the faithful Susuki, who has expressed doubts as to the return of Pinkerton. Butterfly flies into a rage and predicts her lover will return and Susuki, to comfort her, finally agrees with her.

Consul Sharpless then enters and performs an unpleasant task. He hands to Butterfly a letter from Pinkerton in which Pinkerton says he will return to Nagasaki but is bringing with him his American bride. Sharpless tries in vain to explain the contents of the letter and what the news means to her. Yamadori, a wealthy Japanese merchant, suitor of Butterfly's, enters, and Sharpless urges that she marry him. The girl declares she cannot wed the Japanese because she already is married to Pinkerton and presents a pretty blue-eyed baby and says she cannot marry any other man. She said she might be able to marry under Japanese law but proudly says under the law of her country, America, she can not, and expresses the utmost faith in Pinkerton's return and the consul departs without being able to tell her his news. Just as he goes, cannon in the harbor signal the arrival of a warship and Butterfly and Susuki, trembling so that they can hardly hold their telescopes, see in the offing Pinkerton's vessel, the Abraham Lincoln. Now Butterfly goes into a great joy and a strange belief that her faith is rewarded and that her husband has returned to her. Butterfly and Susuki decorate the little room with flowers and dress the baby in richest garments and then sit and wait for Pinkerton to come. The wait is long. Susuki falls asleep and the curtain falls on Butterfly sitting rigid and motionless, with unshaken faith in her husband, for the return of this husband who has forsaken her.

Butterfly Still Waiting. Scene two of act two shows daybreak in the same home. Butterfly sits watching the pathway up the hill waiting for Pinkerton. Susuki persuades Butterfly to go to her room and rest, promising to call her if Pinkerton arrives. Butterfly has hardly closed her eyes when Pinkerton arrives accompanied by Sharpless. Susuki's pleasant surprise turns to consternation when she finds Pinkerton accompanied by a strange woman who is his present wife. Pinkerton, seeing on all sides evidence of the true devotion of his little Japanese wife, is overcome by remorse and remorse, leaving Sharpless to arrange things as well as possible.

The consul works, pacifying Susuki and at last persuades her to break the news to Butterfly and endeavor to obtain Butterfly's consent to turning over her baby to Mrs. Pinkerton, who promises to give it all the care of a mother. Butterfly arrives on the scene radiant with expectation of seeing her husband, but quickly learns the fatal truth in a scene of remarkable pathos. The Japanese girl hears the blow with dignity, wishes every happiness to the "real American wife," and sends a message to Pinkerton that she shall "find peace" and that he himself can have his son if he comes to her in half an hour. When Pinkerton and Sharpless return, however, they find Butterfly dying. She has stabbed herself with her father's sword. With dying efforts she points to the child and exclaims, "Take this child, take this child in horror, while Sharpless takes the child on his knees.

ROAMING LEPER LOCATED AGAIN IN CAROLINA. Raleigh, N. C., April 29.—(P)—State authorities today reported that John Early, leper, had been located in western North Carolina and word had been received from the Carville, American consular, that a physician was on his way there to take Early back to the camp from which he escaped.

Authorities said Polk county officers were in touch with the roaming leper.

Popular Stars in Today's Final Operas

Atlanta's seventeenth season of grand opera will be brought to a close by casts of some of the most popular members of the Metropolitan Opera company in the productions of "Romeo et Juliette" and "Madame Butterfly," which will be presented at the auditorium this afternoon and night. In the top row (left to right) are seen dainty Louise Hunter, who will sing Stephano in "Romeo et Juliette"; Beniamino Gigli, who will sing Romeo; Lucrezia Bori, soprano, who sings Juliette, and the veteran Leon Rothier, who sings Friar Laurence in the same opera. In the bottom row (left) is Florence Easton as Cho-Cho-San, and (right) Armand Tokaty, tenor, as Lieutenant Pinkerton in "Madame Butterfly."

LAST RITES HELD FOR G. C. LOONEY, FAMOUS EDUCATOR

Funeral services for Professor George C. Looney, 91, beloved Georgia educator who died Thursday at the home, 971 Highland avenue, were held Friday morning from the chapel of Harry G. Poole. The Rev. Carter Helm Jones, and the Rev. C. R. Williams officiated. The body was taken to Fayetteville, Ga., for interment.

ORATORY CONTEST TO BE HELD TODAY

Continued from First Page.

Daniel and Dr. Plato Durham, Dr. A. B. Bond, of the state department of education, will be timekeeper. Other indications are that large delegations will come to Atlanta from near-by towns having representatives in the contest. West Point intends to send a motorcycle in the interest of its representative and a large number of students will also be present from DeCATUR High school. Other towns that will send delegations include Cartersville, Jackson, Braselton and Washington.

The constitution office at 11 o'clock when a tour of the newspaper building will be made, which will include a visit to the photograph department and the press room, where the giant new press that turns out 70,000 copies of The Constitution an hour will be seen.

National in Scope. The contest, which is national and international in scope, is participated in by high-school students, and the subjects must be chosen from some phase of the United States constitution, the purpose of the event being to stimulate interest in the study of the national constitution.

The United States is divided into seven zones, and the Georgia winner will compete in the southern zone contest to be held in Birmingham next Saturday. The winner there will enter the national contest to be held in Washington on May 27. The national winner and the zone winners will be awarded a six weeks' trip abroad.

Joseph Mullarky, of Augusta, was the Georgia champion last year, and he also won the zone championship at Birmingham, being awarded the trip abroad.

The contestants today include three girls and nine boys.

WIDER WHITEHALL PLAN IS ADVANCED

Continued from First Page.

ment to push the work. It council requests them to do so, it was said Friday. The plan is that the matter probably will be ready for consideration of that body when the board holds its May session Wednesday.

Members of the councilmanic delegation from the first, second, seventh and tenth wards have been especially active in the effort to get the Whitehall project under way this year, and Friday hailed the plan which the special committee devised as the best means to "secure one of the most needed projects of the year."

CORONER TO CONTINUE KERRICK DEATH PROBE

Los Angeles, April 29.—(P)—Following a hearing by a coroner's jury here today in the death of Tom Kerrick, movie cowboy, after Miss Anita Davis, film extra, had testified the shooting of the actor during a drinking party early Wednesday was accidental, further investigation of the case was ordered.

Miss Davis said the gun was in the hands of Mrs. Sarah Kerrick, film double and widow of the slain man, and that it "went off" when she saw it and jerked Mrs. Kerrick's arm.

The witness collapsed before making the testimony of the all night drinking party at Kerrick's Hollywood home, which was attended by Kerrick's wife.

Conflicting stories told by those at the party resulted in the jury ordering further investigation to fix the responsibility for Kerrick's death.

Besides Miss Davis, the witnesses known are Henry Isbell, who had been known as her husband, Joe Hunt and Eric Barnes.

Attorneys shown by Kerrick to Miss Barnes were said by the witnesses to have caused a fight between her and Mrs. Kerrick, who is charged with murder.

Miss Davis admitted to the jury that she was not married to Isbell.

TO DEDICATE STATE FOREST PARK SUNDAY

Georgia's first state forest park will be officially dedicated at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon at Neel Gap, near Blairsville, when state officials and citizens interested in forestry will gather for a program of appropriate ceremonies.

The Atlanta Hoo Hoo club, an organization devoted to the interests of forestry, will be guests of honor at the exercises, and prior to the ceremony of dedication will hold an initiation and convalesce Saturday night at Blairsville.

A party of Atlantans will leave for Forsyth and Lumpkin counties at 1 o'clock this afternoon for Blairsville, to attend the Hoo Hoo meeting. Others will motor to Neel Gap Sunday morning. Rasket lunches will be served at the exercises.

T. R. Gress, assistant attorney general of Georgia, will be one of the speakers at the dedication ceremony, while Dr. F. C. McConnell will give the invocation. R. M. Lufburrow, state forester, is in charge of the program.

The land to be dedicated consists of 16 acres given to the state by the Vogel Leather company of Milwaukee, Minn., out of the company's tract of 65,000 acres. Twelve acres of the land form the waterfowl property near the gap, two acres are in the gap, including the site of the Neel Gap monument, and two are on Blood mountain, the second highest peak in Georgia, where a fire control lookout will be established in the near future to protect the headwaters of the Chattahoochee river.

A party of Atlantans will leave for Forsyth and Lumpkin counties at 1 o'clock this afternoon for Blairsville, to attend the Hoo Hoo meeting. Others will motor to Neel Gap Sunday morning. Rasket lunches will be served at the exercises.

T. R. Gress, assistant attorney general of Georgia, will be one of the speakers at the dedication ceremony, while Dr. F. C. McConnell will give the invocation. R. M. Lufburrow, state forester, is in charge of the program.

The land to be dedicated consists of 16 acres given to the state by the Vogel Leather company of Milwaukee, Minn., out of the company's tract of 65,000 acres. Twelve acres of the land form the waterfowl property near the gap, two acres are in the gap, including the site of the Neel Gap monument, and two are on Blood mountain, the second highest peak in Georgia, where a fire control lookout will be established in the near future to protect the headwaters of the Chattahoochee river.

A party of Atlantans will leave for Forsyth and Lumpkin counties at 1 o'clock this afternoon for Blairsville, to attend the Hoo Hoo meeting. Others will motor to Neel Gap Sunday morning. Rasket lunches will be served at the exercises.

T. R. Gress, assistant attorney general of Georgia, will be one of the speakers at the dedication ceremony, while Dr. F. C. McConnell will give the invocation. R. M. Lufburrow, state forester, is in charge of the program.

The land to be dedicated consists of 16 acres given to the state by the Vogel Leather company of Milwaukee, Minn., out of the company's tract of 65,000 acres. Twelve acres of the land form the waterfowl property near the gap, two acres are in the gap, including the site of the Neel Gap monument, and two are on Blood mountain, the second highest peak in Georgia, where a fire control lookout will be established in the near future to protect the headwaters of the Chattahoochee river.

Blood Splashed To Moon As Atlanta Enjoys Opera

BY LOYD A. WILHOIT.

Not since the battle of Peachtree creek has Atlanta entered into wholehearted enjoyment of such an orgy of killing as was dished up for public consumption at the auditorium last night.

The Metropolitan Opera company was presenting "La Forza Del Destino," Verdi's composition of blended blood and blue notes, and the only principal of the musical career of a massacre was the orchestra leader.

They had to let him remain alive and kicking so he could swing a mean baton at the funeral dirge of a dramatic death.

The witness collapsed before making the testimony of the all night drinking party at Kerrick's Hollywood home, which was attended by Kerrick's wife.

Conflicting stories told by those at the party resulted in the jury ordering further investigation to fix the responsibility for Kerrick's death.

Besides Miss Davis, the witnesses known are Henry Isbell, who had been known as her husband, Joe Hunt and Eric Barnes.

Attorneys shown by Kerrick to Miss Barnes were said by the witnesses to have caused a fight between her and Mrs. Kerrick, who is charged with murder.

Miss Davis admitted to the jury that she was not married to Isbell.

The witness collapsed before making the testimony of the all night drinking party at Kerrick's Hollywood home, which was attended by Kerrick's wife.

Conflicting stories told by those at the party resulted in the jury ordering further investigation to fix the responsibility for Kerrick's death.

Besides Miss Davis, the witnesses known are Henry Isbell, who had been known as her husband, Joe Hunt and Eric Barnes.

Attorneys shown by Kerrick to Miss Barnes were said by the witnesses to have caused a fight between her and Mrs. Kerrick, who is charged with murder.

Miss Davis admitted to the jury that she was not married to Isbell.

The witness collapsed before making the testimony of the all night drinking party at Kerrick's Hollywood home, which was attended by Kerrick's wife.

Conflicting stories told by those at the party resulted in the jury ordering further investigation to fix the responsibility for Kerrick's death.

Besides Miss Davis, the witnesses known are Henry Isbell, who had been known as her husband, Joe Hunt and Eric Barnes.

Attorneys shown by Kerrick to Miss Barnes were said by the witnesses to have caused a fight between her and Mrs. Kerrick, who is charged with murder.

Miss Davis admitted to the jury that she was not married to Isbell.

The witness collapsed before making the testimony of the all night drinking party at Kerrick's Hollywood home, which was attended by Kerrick's wife.

Conflicting stories told by those at the party resulted in the jury ordering further investigation to fix the responsibility for Kerrick's death.

Besides Miss Davis, the witnesses known are Henry Isbell, who had been known as her husband, Joe Hunt and Eric Barnes.

Attorneys shown by Kerrick to Miss Barnes were said by the witnesses to have caused a fight between her and Mrs. Kerrick, who is charged with murder.

Miss Davis admitted to the jury that she was not married to Isbell.

Continued from First Page.

to announcements of opera officials Friday.

The opera Friday night proved to be the big pleasant surprise of the season. It has been sung here before and many music lovers were skeptical as to its probable success, but they were no longer skeptical after the first performance. Friday night, in many respects, particularly in the finished work of the chorus. The "Force of Destiny" was one of the most enjoyable of all the operas presented here this year.

"The Force of Destiny" is certainly tragic in each of its big moments. It is a light background which offsets the somberness and contributes much to the general impression made by the opera.

Great Duets. This work is one which has long been hailed by experts as the one great opera for duets between a baritone and a tenor and the singing of Basiola and Martinielli Friday night proved that the experts, for once, were right.

Rosa Ponselle, with a voice which seems to improve every year, established herself firmly from her first number in which she sings of her impending elopement with the hero, Don Alvaro, sung by Martinielli. Other great numbers sung by Miss Ponselle were "Holly Mother, Have Mercy" and "Peace, Oh, My Lord."

Martinielli's great song in the second act, "Oh, Heavens! One" was sung with a fire and fervor which swept the audience off its feet.

The famous duets, "Is My Secret Betrayed?" "The Menace, Will" and "In Vain, Alvaro" were strong in their dramatic effect and were received with spontaneous applause by the audience.

Basiola Scores. Basiola, singing here for the first time in this town, scored a big personal hit. Rosa Ponselle and Martinielli, who have sung here season after season, shared their honors gracefully with the newcomer. The score of the evening was a masterpiece of Verdi's music, and the performance was a masterpiece of Verdi's music.

While the crowd Friday night was not as large as the record-breaking throng that heard "Mignon" Thursday, it contained the largest number of visitors from other cities noted since the season began last Monday night. Many of the visitors in boxes and guests of Atlanta friends but the great bulk were established in the arena seats. A glance over the house revealed a throng of people from nearly every part of Georgia and many others from surrounding states.

The visitors as well as the Atlanta people in attendance left the auditorium Friday singing the praises of the score of Giuseppe Verdi and this composer, who brings his music down to the level of the ordinary hearer without sacrificing any of its merit, certainly was established as one of the most popular composers whose works have appeared on the Atlanta programs.

Friday afternoon the Richard Wagner opera, "Lohengrin," was accorded a great ovation by one of the biggest crowds that ever attended a matinee performance at the Metropolitan. The noted German tenor, gave an exhibition of Teutonic grit when he stepped out of a sick bed to the stage of the auditorium and sang one of the most finished roles ever heard in any season of opera here.

At night Friday another great crowd was rewarded by one of the most melodious operas of the season when "La Forza del Destino" ("The Force of Destiny") was presented with Maria Basiola, Rosa Ponselle and Giovanni Martinielli sharing the honors of the evening. The lifting airs of Verdi entranced the crowd and the great singing of the stars, particularly that of Basiola and Martinielli in duets, won several ovations.

Ramboschek Conducts. One of the outstanding features of the Friday program was the first appearance this year of Giuseppe Ramboschek, famous conductor, who has conducted the Wagnerian score in four of the largest theaters in the world. He was of such finish that it won him several fine demonstrations of applause.

"Lohengrin" is Wagnerian to the last note, but is no less massive and as blazes is not the opera of the noted conductor. The airs are familiar, particularly the famous "Wedding March" and it was certainly one of the most enjoyed operas of the season.

With Kirchhoff scoring a big triumph, there were plenty of honors for others in the cast. Kirchhoff sang the title role of "Lohengrin" and was Florence Easton of Elsa and Lawrence Tibbett as Truhmann, scored big personal hits. Julia Claussen, one of the greatest singers in the Metropolitan Opera company, had a great part in Ortrud and won repeated plaudits with her work. William Gustafson, basso, and George Sheehan, baritone, sang with great effect.

Incidental Dances. In "The Force of Destiny," the best work was done by Basiola, Rosa Ponselle and Martinielli, but this opera brought some excellent choruses and incidental dances with it. The most pleasing incidental dances with Rita Deleopete in a solo role. Edio Pina, the much appreciated basso, had a superb role in the first act. Others with popular parts were Louis D'Angelo, Ina Bourskaya, Milla Pava, Paolo Ananiam, Pavel Ludikar, Joseph Martinielli and Leon Rothier.

The opera was conducted with admirable finish by Vincenzo Bellezza, making his second appearance during the present engagement.

It would take columns of space to describe the greatness of Rosa Ponselle's marvelous voice. She is an ideal singer for such a powerful and dramatic opera as "The Force of Destiny." The opera is pure tragedy, from the very start and Miss Ponselle gave a remarkable singing of the role of Donna Elvira.

Martinielli and Basiola scored their biggest hits with their duets. It seems they sing together more than any other pair of singers who have appeared here in any opera and they do their work with rare perfection.

Another Sell Out Seen. Another crowd which will tax the auditorium to its capacity is expected for the final opera, "Madame Butterfly," to be sung Saturday night. The advance ticket sale has been enormous and the popular interest in this opera equals that shown in "Mignon" which was sung Thursday night.

The ever popular "Romeo et Juliette" will be sung Saturday afternoon. The great Gigli, tenor, will sing Romeo and the charming Lucrezia Bori will sing Juliette. The opera is one of their art in this opera according to those who have heard them sing in it. Louise Hunter, the popular little soprano, will end the Atlanta season with the Metropolitan Opera company in "Romeo et Juliette."

Puccini's masterpiece "Madama Butterfly" will be sung Sunday night. The advance ticket sale has been enormous and the popular interest in this opera equals that shown in "Mignon" which was sung Thursday night.

The ever popular "Romeo et Juliette" will be sung Saturday afternoon. The great Gigli, tenor, will sing Romeo and the charming Lucrezia Bori will sing Juliette. The opera is one of their art in this opera according to those who have heard them sing in it. Louise Hunter, the popular little soprano, will end the Atlanta season with the Metropolitan Opera company in "Romeo et Juliette."

Puccini's masterpiece "Madama Butterfly" will be sung Sunday night. The advance ticket sale has been enormous and the popular interest in this opera equals that shown in "Mignon" which was sung Thursday night.

The ever popular "Romeo et Juliette" will be sung Saturday afternoon. The great Gigli, tenor, will sing Romeo and the charming Lucrezia Bori will sing Juliette. The opera is one of their art in this opera according to those who have heard them sing in it. Louise Hunter, the popular little soprano, will end the Atlanta season with the Metropolitan Opera company in "Romeo et Juliette."

Puccini's masterpiece "Madama Butterfly" will be sung Sunday night. The advance ticket sale has been enormous and the popular interest in this opera equals that shown in "Mignon" which was sung Thursday night.

The ever popular "Romeo et Juliette" will be sung Saturday afternoon. The great Gigli, tenor, will sing Romeo and the charming Lucrezia Bori will sing Juliette. The opera is one of their art in this opera according to those who have heard them sing in it. Louise Hunter, the popular little soprano, will end the Atlanta season with the Metropolitan Opera company in "Romeo et Juliette."

Puccini's masterpiece "Madama Butterfly" will be sung Sunday night. The advance ticket sale has been enormous and the popular interest in this opera equals that shown in "Mignon" which was sung Thursday night.

The ever popular "Romeo et Juliette" will be sung Saturday afternoon. The great Gigli, tenor, will sing Romeo and the charming Lucrezia Bori will sing Juliette. The opera is one of their art in this opera according to those who have heard them sing in it. Louise Hunter, the popular little soprano, will end the Atlanta season with the Metropolitan Opera company in "Romeo et Juliette."

Puccini's masterpiece "Madama Butterfly" will be sung Sunday night. The advance ticket sale has been enormous and the popular interest in this opera equals that shown in "Mignon" which was sung Thursday night.

The ever popular "Romeo et Juliette" will be sung Saturday afternoon. The great Gigli, tenor, will sing Romeo and the charming Lucrezia Bori will sing Juliette. The opera is one of their art in this opera according to those who have heard them sing in it. Louise Hunter, the popular little soprano, will end the Atlanta season with the Metropolitan Opera company in "Romeo et Juliette."

Puccini's masterpiece "Madama Butterfly" will be sung Sunday night. The advance ticket sale has been enormous and the popular interest in this opera equals that shown in "Mignon" which was sung Thursday night.

The ever popular "Romeo et Juliette" will be sung Saturday afternoon. The great Gigli, tenor, will sing Romeo and the charming Lucrezia Bori will sing Juliette. The opera is one of their art in this opera according to those who have heard them sing in it. Louise Hunter, the popular little soprano, will end the Atlanta season with the Metropolitan Opera company in "Romeo et Juliette."

Puccini's masterpiece "Madama Butterfly" will be sung Sunday night. The advance ticket sale has been enormous and the popular interest in this opera equals that shown in "Mignon" which was sung Thursday night.

The ever popular "Romeo et Juliette" will be sung Saturday afternoon. The great Gigli, tenor, will sing Romeo and the charming Lucrezia Bori will sing Juliette. The opera is one of their art in this opera according to those who have heard them sing in it. Louise Hunter, the popular little soprano, will end the Atlanta season with the Metropolitan Opera company in "Romeo et Juliette."

Puccini's masterpiece "Madama Butterfly" will be sung Sunday night. The advance ticket sale has been enormous and the popular interest in this opera equals that shown in "Mignon" which was sung Thursday night.

The ever popular "Romeo et Juliette" will be sung Saturday afternoon. The great Gigli, tenor, will sing Romeo and the charming Lucrezia Bori will sing Juliette. The opera is one of their art in this opera according to those who have heard them sing in it. Louise Hunter, the popular little soprano, will end the Atlanta season with the Metropolitan Opera company in "Romeo et Juliette."

Puccini's masterpiece "Madama Butterfly" will be sung Sunday night. The advance ticket sale has been enormous and the popular interest in this opera equals that shown in "Mignon" which was sung Thursday night.

The ever popular "Romeo et Juliette" will be sung Saturday afternoon. The great Gigli, tenor, will sing Romeo and the charming Lucrezia Bori will sing Juliette. The opera is one of their art in this opera according to those who have heard them sing in it. Louise Hunter, the popular little soprano, will end the Atlanta season with the Metropolitan Opera company in "Romeo et Juliette."

Puccini's masterpiece "Madama Butterfly" will be sung Sunday night. The advance ticket sale has been enormous and the popular interest in this opera equals that shown in "Mignon" which was sung Thursday night.

The ever popular "Romeo et Juliette" will be sung Saturday afternoon. The great Gigli, tenor, will sing Romeo and the charming Lucrezia Bori will sing Juliette. The opera is one of their art in this opera according to those who have heard them sing in it. Louise Hunter, the popular little soprano, will end the Atlanta season with the Metropolitan Opera company in "Romeo et Juliette."

Puccini's masterpiece "Madama Butterfly" will be sung Sunday night. The advance ticket sale has been enormous and the popular interest in this opera equals that shown in "Mignon" which was sung Thursday night.

The ever popular "Romeo et Juliette" will be sung Saturday afternoon. The great Gigli, tenor, will sing Romeo and the charming Lucrezia Bori will sing Juliette. The opera is one of their art in this opera according to those who have heard them sing in it. Louise Hunter, the popular little soprano, will end the Atlanta season with the Metropolitan Opera company in "Romeo et Juliette."

Puccini's masterpiece "Madama Butterfly" will be sung Sunday night. The advance ticket sale has been enormous and the popular interest in this opera equals that shown in "Mignon" which was sung Thursday night.

The ever popular "Romeo et Juliette" will be sung Saturday afternoon. The great Gigli, tenor, will sing Romeo and the charming Lucrezia Bori will sing Juliette. The opera is one of their art in this opera according to those who have heard them sing in it. Louise Hunter, the popular little soprano, will end the Atlanta season with the Metropolitan Opera company in "Romeo et Juliette."

Puccini's masterpiece "Madama Butterfly" will be sung Sunday night. The advance ticket sale has been enormous and the popular interest in this opera equals that shown in "Mignon" which was sung Thursday night.

The ever popular "Romeo et Juliette" will be sung Saturday afternoon. The great Gigli, tenor, will sing Romeo and the charming Lucrezia Bori will sing Juliette. The opera is one of their art in this opera according to those who have heard them sing in it. Louise Hunter, the popular little soprano, will end the Atlanta season

AT THE THEATERS

ERLANGER—Kennedy-Blackmer company in "The Mountain Man." FORSYTH (Permanent Stock Company)—"The Little Spitfire." GEORGIA (Keith-Albee Vaudeville and Picture)—Five acts. "Getting Gerlie's Garter." GRAND—(Low's Vaudeville and Picture)—Five acts. "Women Love Diamonds." HOWARD (Feature Picture, Public Stage Vaudeville)—"Knockout Reilly" and "Victor Herbert Melodies." METROPOLITAN (Feature Picture)—"Just Another Blonde." RIALTO (Feature Picture)—"Across the Pacific." ALAMO NO. 2—Western pictures and comedy. ALAMO NO. 1—"While London Sleeps." ALPHA—"Man in the Saddle." CAMEO—"The Devil's Circus." TUDOR—"Hair Trigger Buster."

News of the Churches.

SAINT LUKE'S EPISCOPAL—Services for Sunday, second Sunday after Easter, 8 a. m., Holy Communion, 9:30 a. m., church school, 10 a. m., Boys' Bible class and adult class in religion, 11 a. m., Holy Communion, 11:45 a. m., church school, 1:30 p. m., Epworth League, 7 p. m., Epworth League.

MARTHA BROWN METHODIST—Lord's Supper at 11 a. m. Twenty-one new members will receive their first communion together at the first table. The "Fifth Gospel" will be the subject of the pastor's sermon. Sunday school, 9:30 a. m. Epworth League, 7 p. m.

INMAN PARK METHODIST—Lord's Supper at 11 a. m. Twenty-one new members will receive their first communion together at the first table. The "Fifth Gospel" will be the subject of the pastor's sermon. Sunday school, 9:30 a. m. Epworth League, 7 p. m.

DECATUR CHRISTIAN—Rev. Louis A. Mayo, minister. At 9:30 a. m., Sunday school, 11 a. m., church school, 11:45 a. m., Epworth League, 7 p. m.

NORTH AVENUE PRESBYTERIAN—Rev. Richard H. Mayo, minister. At 11 a. m., church school, 11:45 a. m., Epworth League, 7 p. m.

FIRST METHODIST—Rev. Richard H. Mayo, minister. At 11 a. m., church school, 11:45 a. m., Epworth League, 7 p. m.

JACKSON HILL BAPTIST—Rev. Richard H. Mayo, minister. At 11 a. m., church school, 11:45 a. m., Epworth League, 7 p. m.

CAPITOL VIEW BAPTIST—Rev. Richard H. Mayo, minister. At 11 a. m., church school, 11:45 a. m., Epworth League, 7 p. m.

CAPITOL AVENUE BAPTIST—Rev. Richard H. Mayo, minister. At 11 a. m., church school, 11:45 a. m., Epworth League, 7 p. m.

DRUID HILLS METHODIST—Rev. Richard H. Mayo, minister. At 11 a. m., church school, 11:45 a. m., Epworth League, 7 p. m.

INMAN PARK PRESBYTERIAN—Rev. Richard H. Mayo, minister. At 11 a. m., church school, 11:45 a. m., Epworth League, 7 p. m.

CASCADE METHODIST—Rev. Richard H. Mayo, minister. At 11 a. m., church school, 11:45 a. m., Epworth League, 7 p. m.

CENTER STREET METHODIST—Rev. Richard H. Mayo, minister. At 11 a. m., church school, 11:45 a. m., Epworth League, 7 p. m.

CAPITOL VIEW PRESBYTERIAN—Rev. Richard H. Mayo, minister. At 11 a. m., church school, 11:45 a. m., Epworth League, 7 p. m.

PENTECOSTAL HOLINESS—Rev. Richard H. Mayo, minister. At 11 a. m., church school, 11:45 a. m., Epworth League, 7 p. m.

PRIMITIVE BAPTIST—Rev. Richard H. Mayo, minister. At 11 a. m., church school, 11:45 a. m., Epworth League, 7 p. m.

PONCE DE LEON METHODIST—Rev. Richard H. Mayo, minister. At 11 a. m., church school, 11:45 a. m., Epworth League, 7 p. m.

FIRST CHRISTIAN—Rev. Richard H. Mayo, minister. At 11 a. m., church school, 11:45 a. m., Epworth League, 7 p. m.

LUTHERAN—Rev. Richard H. Mayo, minister. At 11 a. m., church school, 11:45 a. m., Epworth League, 7 p. m.

LOEW'S GRAND—Continued from page 10. "The Little Spitfire" and "The Mountain Man."

BARBETTE—Continued from page 10. "The Little Spitfire" and "The Mountain Man."

WOMEN LOVE DIAMONDS—Continued from page 10. "The Little Spitfire" and "The Mountain Man."

PAULINE STARK—Continued from page 10. "The Little Spitfire" and "The Mountain Man."

OWEN MOORE—Continued from page 10. "The Little Spitfire" and "The Mountain Man."

KEITH ALBEE GEORGIA—Continued from page 10. "The Little Spitfire" and "The Mountain Man."

MARIE PREVOS—Continued from page 10. "The Little Spitfire" and "The Mountain Man."

FLORIAN VITOR—Continued from page 10. "The Little Spitfire" and "The Mountain Man."

Grand Opera—Auditorium—Continued from page 10. "The Little Spitfire" and "The Mountain Man."

Grand Opera—Auditorium—Continued from page 10. "The Little Spitfire" and "The Mountain Man."

Grand Opera—Auditorium—Continued from page 10. "The Little Spitfire" and "The Mountain Man."

Grand Opera—Auditorium—Continued from page 10. "The Little Spitfire" and "The Mountain Man."

Grand Opera—Auditorium—Continued from page 10. "The Little Spitfire" and "The Mountain Man."

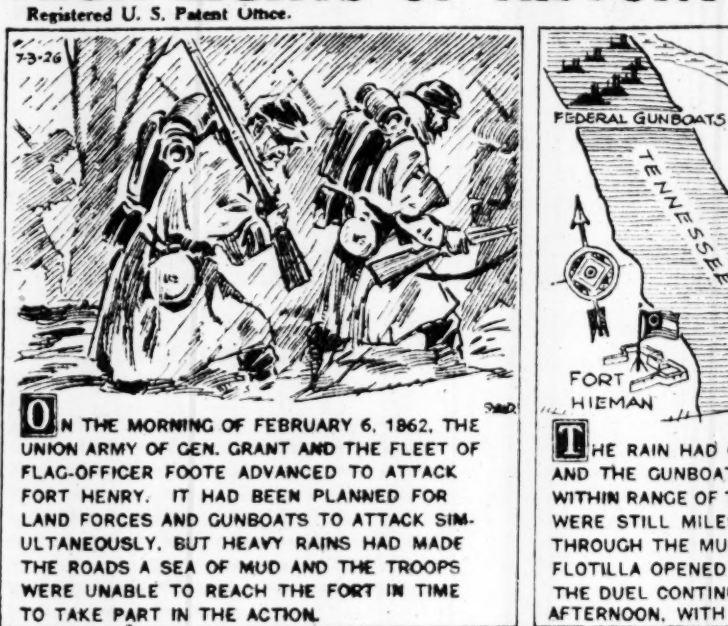

Grand Opera—Auditorium—Continued from page 10. "The Little Spitfire" and "The Mountain Man."

MEN WHO MADE THE WORLD

SIR FRANCIS DRAKE NOW MET A FRENCH CORSAIR OPERATING ON THE SPANISH MAIN. THE FRENCH WERE WITHOUT WATER AND IN DISTRESS. DRAKE WELCOMED THEM AND CARED FOR THEIR WANTS. THE MEN FRATERNIZED FREELY AND ENJOYED THE OCCASION. THE FORMALITIES OVER, THE FRENCH CAPTAIN, SUPPOSED TO HAVE BEEN THE HUGUENOT, LE TESTU, SUGGESTED THAT THEY JOIN FORCES. DRAKE DISCUSSED THIS WITH HIS MEN, BUT THE ENGLISH BEING ONLY THIRTY TWO IN NUMBER AS COMPARED WITH SEVENTY FOR THE FRENCH, FEARED THEY MIGHT BE ATTACKED AND OVERHELMED. IT WAS FINALLY AGREED, HOWEVER, THAT THEY WOULD GO INTO ACTION TOGETHER. LE TESTU AND TWENTY OF HIS MEN SERVING WITH THE ENGLISH AND THEIR COMRADES ALLIES. DRAKE WELCOMED THE ALLIANCE AS HIS OWN FORCE WAS VERY SMALL. FOR THE OBJECTS HE HAD IN VIEW, HE NOW PLANNED ANOTHER RAID ON THE ROAD FROM PANAMA TO ROMBRE DE DIOS.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

ON THE MORNING OF FEBRUARY 6, 1862, THE UNION ARMY OF GEN. GRANT AND THE FLEET OF FLAG-OFFICER FOOTE ADVANCED TO ATTACK FORT HENRY. IT HAD BEEN PLANNED FOR LAND FORCES AND GUNBOATS TO ATTACK SIMULTANEOUSLY, BUT HEAVY RAINS HAD MADE THE ROADS A SEA OF MUD AND THE TROOPS WERE UNABLE TO REACH THE FORT IN TIME TO TAKE PART IN THE ACTION.

The rain had caused the river to rise and the gunboats were able to come within range of the fort while the troops were still miles away floundering through the mud. Before noon the flotilla opened fire, the fort replied, and the duel continued until two o'clock in the afternoon, with much injury to both sides.

The morning of February 6, 1862, the Union Army of Gen. Grant and the fleet of Flag-officer Foote advanced to attack Fort Henry. It had been planned for land forces and gunboats to attack simultaneously, but heavy rains had made the roads a sea of mud and the troops were unable to reach the fort in time to take part in the action.

The morning of February 6, 1862, the Union Army of Gen. Grant and the fleet of Flag-officer Foote advanced to attack Fort Henry. It had been planned for land forces and gunboats to attack simultaneously, but heavy rains had made the roads a sea of mud and the troops were unable to reach the fort in time to take part in the action.

The morning of February 6, 1862, the Union Army of Gen. Grant and the fleet of Flag-officer Foote advanced to attack Fort Henry. It had been planned for land forces and gunboats to attack simultaneously, but heavy rains had made the roads a sea of mud and the troops were unable to reach the fort in time to take part in the action.

The morning of February 6, 1862, the Union Army of Gen. Grant and the fleet of Flag-officer Foote advanced to attack Fort Henry. It had been planned for land forces and gunboats to attack simultaneously, but heavy rains had made the roads a sea of mud and the troops were unable to reach the fort in time to take part in the action.

The morning of February 6, 1862, the Union Army of Gen. Grant and the fleet of Flag-officer Foote advanced to attack Fort Henry. It had been planned for land forces and gunboats to attack simultaneously, but heavy rains had made the roads a sea of mud and the troops were unable to reach the fort in time to take part in the action.

The morning of February 6, 1862, the Union Army of Gen. Grant and the fleet of Flag-officer Foote advanced to attack Fort Henry. It had been planned for land forces and gunboats to attack simultaneously, but heavy rains had made the roads a sea of mud and the troops were unable to reach the fort in time to take part in the action.

The morning of February 6, 1862, the Union Army of Gen. Grant and the fleet of Flag-officer Foote advanced to attack Fort Henry. It had been planned for land forces and gunboats to attack simultaneously, but heavy rains had made the roads a sea of mud and the troops were unable to reach the fort in time to take part in the action.

The morning of February 6, 1862, the Union Army of Gen. Grant and the fleet of Flag-officer Foote advanced to attack Fort Henry. It had been planned for land forces and gunboats to attack simultaneously, but heavy rains had made the roads a sea of mud and the troops were unable to reach the fort in time to take part in the action.

The morning of February 6, 1862, the Union Army of Gen. Grant and the fleet of Flag-officer Foote advanced to attack Fort Henry. It had been planned for land forces and gunboats to attack simultaneously, but heavy rains had made the roads a sea of mud and the troops were unable to reach the fort in time to take part in the action.

The morning of February 6, 1862, the Union Army of Gen. Grant and the fleet of Flag-officer Foote advanced to attack Fort Henry. It had been planned for land forces and gunboats to attack simultaneously, but heavy rains had made the roads a sea of mud and the troops were unable to reach the fort in time to take part in the action.

The morning of February 6, 1862, the Union Army of Gen. Grant and the fleet of Flag-officer Foote advanced to attack Fort Henry. It had been planned for land forces and gunboats to attack simultaneously, but heavy rains had made the roads a sea of mud and the troops were unable to reach the fort in time to take part in the action.

The morning of February 6, 1862, the Union Army of Gen. Grant and the fleet of Flag-officer Foote advanced to attack Fort Henry. It had been planned for land forces and gunboats to attack simultaneously, but heavy rains had made the roads a sea of mud and the troops were unable to reach the fort in time to take part in the action.

The morning of February 6, 1862, the Union Army of Gen. Grant and the fleet of Flag-officer Foote advanced to attack Fort Henry. It had been planned for land forces and gunboats to attack simultaneously, but heavy rains had made the roads a sea of mud and the troops were unable to reach the fort in time to take part in the action.

The morning of February 6, 1862, the Union Army of Gen. Grant and the fleet of Flag-officer Foote advanced to attack Fort Henry. It had been planned for land forces and gunboats to attack simultaneously, but heavy rains had made the roads a sea of mud and the troops were unable to reach the fort in time to take part in the action.

The morning of February 6, 1862, the Union Army of Gen. Grant and the fleet of Flag-officer Foote advanced to attack Fort Henry. It had been planned for land forces and gunboats to attack simultaneously, but heavy rains had made the roads a sea of mud and the troops were unable to reach the fort in time to take part in the action.

The morning of February 6, 1862, the Union Army of Gen. Grant and the fleet of Flag-officer Foote advanced to attack Fort Henry. It had been planned for land forces and gunboats to attack simultaneously, but heavy rains had made the roads a sea of mud and the troops were unable to reach the fort in time to take part in the action.

The morning of February 6, 1862, the Union Army of Gen. Grant and the fleet of Flag-officer Foote advanced to attack Fort Henry. It had been planned for land forces and gunboats to attack simultaneously, but heavy rains had made the roads a sea of mud and the troops were unable to reach the fort in time to take part in the action.

The morning of February 6, 1862, the Union Army of Gen. Grant and the fleet of Flag-officer Foote advanced to attack Fort Henry. It had been planned for land forces and gunboats to attack simultaneously, but heavy rains had made the roads a sea of mud and the troops were unable to reach the fort in time to take part in the action.

The morning of February 6, 1862, the Union Army of Gen. Grant and the fleet of Flag-officer Foote advanced to attack Fort Henry. It had been planned for land forces and gunboats to attack simultaneously, but heavy rains had made the roads a sea of mud and the troops were unable to reach the fort in time to take part in the action.

The morning of February 6, 1862, the Union Army of Gen. Grant and the fleet of Flag-officer Foote advanced to attack Fort Henry. It had been planned for land forces and gunboats to attack simultaneously, but heavy rains had made the roads a sea of mud and the troops were unable to reach the fort in time to take part in the action.

The morning of February 6, 1862, the Union Army of Gen. Grant and the fleet of Flag-officer Foote advanced to attack Fort Henry. It had been planned for land forces and gunboats to attack simultaneously, but heavy rains had made the roads a sea of mud and the troops were unable to reach the fort in time to take part in the action.

The morning of February 6, 1862, the Union Army of Gen. Grant and the fleet of Flag-officer Foote advanced to attack Fort Henry. It had been planned for land forces and gunboats to attack simultaneously, but heavy rains had made the roads a sea of mud and the troops were unable to reach the fort in time to take part in the action.

Sir Francis Drake

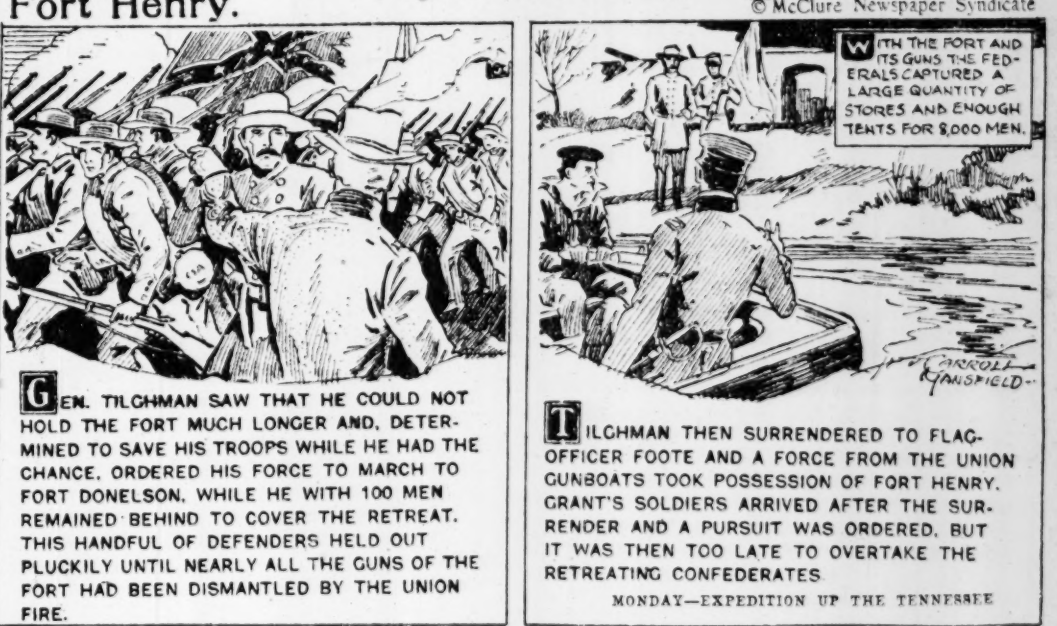

By DR. ELLIOTT SHORING, NOTED HISTORIAN

STEALTHILY THE RAIDERS AMBUSHED THEMSELVES AS THEY HAD DONE IN THEIR PREVIOUS RAID. SOON THE TINKLING BELLS OF THE APPROACHING TREASURE TRAIN WERE HEARD. AT THE APPOINTED MOMENT DRAKE GAVE THE SIGNAL AND THEY SWARMED TO THE ATTACK. THE SOLDIERS GUARDING THE TREASURE TRAIN FIRST FLED IN SURPRISE, THEN RE-FORMED AND RESISTED, BUT WERE OVERCOME AND FLED FOR REINFORCEMENTS. THIS TIME THE RAID WAS A SUCCESS. NEARLY THIRTY TONS OF GOLD AND SILVER WERE SECURED. UNABLE TO CARRY IT THE RAIDERS BURIED MUCH OF IT ALONG A SHALLOW RIVER BED AND MARKED THE PLACE FOR A LATER RETURN. THEN, BEARING ALL THEY COULD, THEY STARTED THEIR RETREAT.

(TO BE CONT'D)

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

GEN. TILGHMAN SAW THAT HE COULD NOT HOLD THE FORT MUCH LONGER AND, DETERMINED TO SAVE HIS TROOPS WHILE HE HAD THE CHANCE, ORDERED HIS FORCE TO MARCH TO FORT DONELSON. WHILE HE WITH 100 MEN REMAINED BEHIND TO COVER THE RETREAT. THIS HANDFUL OF DEFENDERS HELD OUT PLUCKILY UNTIL NEARLY ALL THE GUNS OF THE FORT HAD BEEN DISMANTLED BY THE UNION FIRE.

OFFICER FOOTE AND A FORCE FROM THE UNION GUNBOATS TOOK POSSESSION OF FORT HENRY. GRANT'S SOLDIERS ARRIVED AFTER THE SURRENDER AND A PURSUIT WAS ORDERED, BUT IT WAS THEN TOO LATE TO OVERTAKE THE RETREATING CONFEDERATES.

MONDAY—EXPEDITION UP THE TENNESSEE

MONDAY—EXPEDITION UP THE TENNESSEE

MONDAY—EXPEDITION UP THE TENNESSEE

MONDAY—EXPEDITION UP THE TENNESSEE

MONDAY—EXPEDITION UP THE TENNESSEE

MONDAY—EXPEDITION UP THE TENNESSEE

MONDAY—EXPEDITION UP THE TENNESSEE

MONDAY—EXPEDITION UP THE TENNESSEE

MONDAY—EXPEDITION UP THE TENNESSEE

MONDAY—EXPEDITION UP THE TENNESSEE

MONDAY—EXPEDITION UP THE TENNESSEE

MONDAY—EXPEDITION UP THE TENNESSEE

MONDAY—EXPEDITION UP THE TENNESSEE

MONDAY—EXPEDITION UP THE TENNESSEE

MONDAY—EXPEDITION UP THE TENNESSEE

MONDAY—EXPEDITION UP THE TENNESSEE

MONDAY—EXPEDITION UP THE TENNESSEE

MONDAY—EXPEDITION UP THE TENNESSEE

MONDAY—EXPEDITION UP THE TENNESSEE

MONDAY—EXPEDITION UP THE TENNESSEE

MONDAY—EXPEDITION UP THE TENNESSEE

MONDAY—EXPEDITION UP THE TENNESSEE

FAMOUS EVANGELIST OPENS REVIVAL HERE

Dr. J. H. O. Smith, nationally known evangelist, of Kansas City, arrived Friday morning to begin a four weeks' evangelistic campaign at the Central Baptist church. The service will be held at 8 o'clock.

The service will be held at 8 o'clock.

The service will be held at 8 o'clock.

The service will be held at 8 o'clock.

The service will be held at 8 o'clock.

The service will be held at 8 o'clock.

The service will be held at 8 o'clock.

The service will be held at 8 o'clock.

The service will be held at 8 o'clock.

The service will be held at 8 o'clock.

The service will be held at 8 o'clock.

The service will be held at 8 o'clock.

The service will be held at 8 o'clock.

The service will be held at 8 o'clock.

The service will be held at 8 o'clock.

The service will be held at 8 o'clock.

The service will be held at 8 o'clock.

The service will be held at 8 o'clock.

The service will be held at 8 o'clock.

The service will be held at 8 o'clock.

The service will be held at 8 o'clock.

RED MEN TO MEET FOR CONVOCATION TODAY AT LINDALE

Lindale, Ga., April 29.—(Special.) The spring convocation of the north Georgia division of the Improved Order of Red Men and School of Instruction of the degree of Comanches, with the great chiefs of both councils in Georgia present, will be entertained Saturday by Oostanaula tribe, No. 38, and Etowah council, No. 15.

The convocation will be held at 1:30 o'clock and a barbecue will be served at 5 o'clock.

The address of welcome will be delivered by Captain H. P. Meikleham of the Massachusetts mills, and the response will be by Mrs. Charles P. Mathews, of Augusta, great prophet of the Georgia Comanches. Talks will be made by Judge James Maddox, Judge John W. Bale, Solicitor J. E. Kelly and others.

The convocation on entertainment includes M. L. Jackson, Mrs. Charles, Greer and Miss Jimmie Allen.

The convocation on entertainment includes M. L. Jackson, Mrs. Charles, Greer and Miss Jimmie Allen.

The convocation on entertainment includes M. L. Jackson, Mrs. Charles, Greer and Miss Jimmie Allen.

The convocation on entertainment includes M. L. Jackson, Mrs. Charles, Greer and Miss Jimmie Allen.

The convocation on entertainment includes M. L. Jackson, Mrs. Charles, Greer and Miss Jimmie Allen.

The convocation on entertainment includes M. L. Jackson, Mrs. Charles, Greer and Miss Jimmie Allen.

The convocation on entertainment includes M. L. Jackson, Mrs. Charles, Greer and Miss Jimmie Allen.

The convocation on entertainment includes M. L. Jackson, Mrs. Charles, Greer and Miss Jimmie Allen.

The convocation on entertainment includes M. L. Jackson, Mrs. Charles, Greer and Miss Jimmie Allen.

The convocation on entertainment includes M. L. Jackson, Mrs. Charles, Greer and Miss Jimmie Allen.

The convocation on entertainment includes M. L. Jackson, Mrs. Charles, Greer and Miss Jimmie Allen.

The convocation on entertainment includes M. L. Jackson, Mrs. Charles, Greer and Miss Jimmie Allen.

The convocation on entertainment includes M. L. Jackson, Mrs. Charles, Greer and Miss Jimmie Allen.

The convocation on entertainment includes M. L. Jackson, Mrs. Charles, Greer and Miss Jimmie Allen.

The convocation on entertainment includes M. L. Jackson, Mrs. Charles, Greer and Miss Jimmie Allen.

The convocation on entertainment includes M. L. Jackson, Mrs. Charles, Greer and Miss Jimmie Allen.

The convocation on entertainment includes M. L. Jackson, Mrs. Charles, Greer and Miss Jimmie Allen.

The convocation on entertainment includes M. L. Jackson, Mrs. Charles, Greer and Miss Jimmie Allen.

The convocation on entertainment includes M. L. Jackson, Mrs. Charles, Greer and Miss Jimmie Allen.

The convocation on entertainment includes M. L. Jackson, Mrs. Charles, Greer and Miss Jimmie Allen.

Market Gossip

News From Wall Street and New York

Editorial Comment

(By Finner & Boone Lensed Wire to The Constitution)

DOW JONES

Stock exchange rates on Wall Street, including Dow Jones and Standard & Poor's, were reported today.

Stock exchange rates on Wall Street, including Dow Jones and Standard & Poor's, were reported today.

Stock exchange rates on Wall Street, including Dow Jones and Standard & Poor's, were reported today.

Stock exchange rates on Wall Street, including Dow Jones and Standard & Poor's, were reported today.

Stock exchange rates on Wall Street, including Dow Jones and Standard & Poor's, were reported today.

Stock exchange rates on Wall Street, including Dow Jones and Standard & Poor's, were reported today.

Stock exchange rates on Wall Street, including Dow Jones and Standard & Poor's, were reported today.

Stock exchange rates on Wall Street, including Dow Jones and Standard & Poor's, were reported today.

Stock exchange rates on Wall Street, including Dow Jones and Standard & Poor's, were reported today.

Stock exchange rates on Wall Street, including Dow Jones and Standard & Poor's, were reported today.

Stock exchange rates on Wall Street, including Dow Jones and Standard & Poor's, were reported today.

Stock exchange rates on Wall Street, including Dow Jones and Standard & Poor's, were reported today.

Stock exchange rates on Wall Street, including Dow Jones and Standard & Poor's, were reported today.

Stock exchange rates on Wall Street, including Dow Jones and Standard & Poor's, were reported today.

Stock exchange rates on Wall Street, including Dow Jones and Standard & Poor's, were reported today.

Stock exchange rates on Wall Street, including Dow Jones and Standard & Poor's, were reported today.

Stock exchange rates on Wall Street, including Dow Jones and Standard & Poor's, were reported today.

Stock exchange rates on Wall Street, including Dow Jones and Standard & Poor's, were reported today.

Stock exchange rates on Wall Street, including Dow Jones and Standard & Poor's, were reported today.

Georgia Truck Farmers Fail To Devote Acreage To Beets

Although the truck farmers around Atlanta furnish many vegetables in enough quantity to make the foreign produce from south Georgia and Florida scarce when the season arrives in this section, beets are not listed among the number.

According to one extra-truck grower who now runs a stall at the municipal market, the reason for this is that the truck farmers are not growing beets in this section.

The most popular variety grown in this section is the beet known as the Red Top Turnip variety. This kind is in great demand and has a good flavor.

Another variety is a long beet that resembles very much the

FLOOD DOMINATES Stocks Sell Off Sharply
COTTON MARKET And Then Rally Briskly

Bank Clearings, Cotton And Other Quotations

low of 185 1-4 to 190 1-4 for a net gain of 3 1-2 points on the day. United States Steel common rallied from 166 1/2 to 168 and then eased to 167 3/4 for a small fractional gain. Substantial gains were registered by American Can, Baldwin, Case Threshing, Childs, International Solvents B, Dupont, Houston Oil, Goodyear preferred, International Harvester, Mallison, National Biscuit, Reschler.

LIVINGSTON & CO.
New York, April 29.—The market was held quite dull in the early afternoon by the advance in the call money rate, first to 1 1/2 per cent and later to 5 per cent. This development brought out no liquidation, however, and it was easily shown that the line of least resistance was upward. Consequently, when some Early selling pressure was particularly acute against the oils, nearly a dozen of which sank to new 1927 lows, but they later rallied with the rest of the list. Continental Baking A closed, then some short covering developed. In the afternoon there was a rapid advance of market leaders and stock prices closed decidedly higher. General Motors was again the feature, getting above 100 and up about 5 points from the low this morning, and other leading industrial stocks recovered in proportion. There was even some covering in the oils which advanced a point or so from their lows. The rail stocks also did better and there was a much improved demand for, and no liquidation in, those roads which have been affected by flood conditions. Timken Roller Bearing was one of the features on reports of large Bangor & Aroostook, which recorded sensational gain early in the week, opened 2 1/2 points higher at 92 1/2, a new peak, sold down to 87 and then rallied to 89. Rock Island, Chicago Western preferred, and Seaboard Air Line were prominent in the upswing. The money and commercial paper rates were unchanged.

ners to be announced in the near future. The market today indicated that the reaction was over and we look for higher prices on issues whose purchase we have been recommending.

Cotton Letters.

HUBBARD BROS. & CO.
New York, April 29.—The market showed very steady tendency during practically the entire day. It is noticeable again that demand interests are quick to pick up contracts on very few point fluctuations and,

Except for a further advance in demand sterling, which duplicated the year's high level of $4.85 7-16, there was little of interest in the foreign exchange market. French francs held firm above 3.91 cents, and other con-

Besides this, there is more of general interest in cotton than there has been for some time, although throughout the season rather perverted in view of the fact that the market is waiting for information from the flooded areas. Consequently they are reluctant to do anything either way on a large scale, although the tendency seems to be at all times to pick up cotton whenever the opportunity affords itself.

In other words, we have a group of traders ready to buy cotton on the slightest setbacks and we feel that on any advances the spectacular interests will enter the market on the theory prices will go only.

NEW ISSUE

Thirty-

To be dated April 1, 1927

CUMULATIVE SINK

To mature April 1, 1957

Authorized $25,000,000. To be presentable as to principal only. Interest principal payable at the principal weight and fineness, without deduction of the holder, principal at a fixed rate of exchange of 5.18 3/4% the fixed rate of exchange of $ at 100 and accrued interest a notice, on or before April 1, after and on or before April of $1,000, and $700, registered in New York City, and of the present standard of Kingdom of Italy. At the Swiss gold franc at the end, in Pounds Sterling at interest date thereafter date upon sixty days' 1, 1942 at 101½, there-interest in each case.

$3,500,000 Bonds of this is approximately $1,9

Mr. Pietro Fenoglio, President

HISTORY AND BUSINESS producer and distributor veloped and undevelop rights to operate comm diaries, is the largest ant concessions of denies operate, or have miles, or nearly one-

The rapid and continuing increase in the use of

... has been partly due
... due to the exten-

PROPERTIES: The property security for these Bonds is 1000 H.P. is hydro-electric power. The distances in miles are of 60,000 and 100,000. Practically all of the property is in Italy.

to be mortgaged as approximately 120,000 lines, of which 593 are distribution centers.

SECURITY: These Bonds are secured by a first mortgage on the real property owned by the Company proper and also, to the extent of certain of their subsidiaries.

e (after the satisfactory performance of the Company's subsidiaries and its steam plants and other equipment has a steam unit now being installed. The principal sub-stations, distributed throughout the city, recently been given a deepening. The Indenture provides for the creation of a sinking fund, of a proportion of the principal sum of $25,000.

ditional 20,000 H.P.
n lines, twelve prin-these properties have merman, Inc., Engian through the sinker to the aggregate
ntly issued, $1,250,-

The Company has approximately $3,580,000 guaranteed by certain of the properties equivalent principal eta Generale per la s "A" bonds against in accordance with

EARNINGS: For the fiscal ny has the right and ount of cash will be entioned obligations Company, the Meri-

the Sicilian Electric ash reserved there-

PURPOSE OF ISSUE: The

and recently made

EQUITY: The Company has in the last two years having been at current quotations realized a further increase in dividends for the and Geneva Bourses ny has just author-

(Continued on page 10)

Bonds are offered it, as and when upon by Messrs. Hornblower, Milner, Avv. Camillo Giussani, Milan, and matters will be passed for the Bankers, and the form of temporary

Blair & Co., Inc.
Ba

The information contained herein has been obtained

itter & Co.

Sophy Tancred's Husbands

By ELIZABETH YORK MILLER

SYNOPSIS.
Sophy and Piers Tancred have lately taken the Villa Mona at Bordighera on the Italian Riviera. Sophy learns that her former husband, Alan Brooke, the sculptor, is living nearby and that they are to meet at dinner that night. She is afraid of her husband's jealousy and since she thought she was a widow when he married her, she goes to Brooke's studio to warn him against trusting Piers with his life. Alan tells Sophy that his housekeeper, Cristina, is really his wife and they have a little son, Willie Moppet, a male gossip of Bordighera, interrupts them and Sophy flies back to the Villa Mona in fear.

INSTALLMENT XVIII.

"YOU'RE AFRAID OF ME."
Cristina knew from whence that alien something in the atmosphere emanated—it came from down there, from the Villa Mona, where the beautiful English signora lived, and that same signora had been Alan's dear friend from the days of their childhood. Alan hadn't even denied that once they might have been lovers.

Cristina had collected plenty of information on the subject of the English signora. It blew about the little shops of the Old Town like so many scraps of waste paper; and she knew that the Signor Tancred kept his wife under his thumb and even locked her up when he went abroad in the evenings. The Signor Tancred, big and dark and powerfully masculine, appealed to Cristina's idea of what a man should be, and she thoroughly approved his treatment of his yellow-haired wife. That woman! She was a sorceress, no doubt, but her husband knew how to deal with her.

Thus it would seem a sort of unconscious tug of war was in process with Alan and Sophy vainly reaching out to each other; he held back by his Cristina, and she by the grip of Piers.

Sophy could not have brought herself to climb the mule-path to the Casa Poverina a second time even if Piers' vigilance had permitted, and Alan scarcely expected her. But there was something he could do.

Passion is a strong lure, and one morning, almost as much to his own astonishment as to that of his neighbors, he found himself on the awning sheltered terrace of the gay little tennis club, watching possible champions working their way towards tournament entries.

Sophy was on the courts partnered by Willie Moppet, and never had she played so badly.

Also Tancred was present, partnered, so to speak, by chic Mrs. Brant on the terrace. Piers was clad in a tussore suit and he sat with his chair tilted back and his floppy panama tilted forward so that it barely escaped the lighted end of his cigar. Lilla crouched near him on a stool, hugging her knees, and ready to play jester whenever his majesty required diversion. Other people were scattered about, but the terrace was not as crowded as it would be later in the day and even had he tried to do so, Alan would have found difficulty in avoiding Piers Tancred. The latter, for some perverse reason, had conceived a liking for the famous sculptor. It might be that Piers was one of those people who look up to any one who appears to snub them.

He hailed Alan jovially and patted the chair next to him. Lilla smiled to herself when she saw Alan thus forced into it. She knew why Alan Brooke was honoring his unworthy little club and she prepared to enjoy herself. Indeed, Lilla Brant had a most enchanting something which ended as she had hoped and pretty well expected. She exerted herself to that perfect ending and felt rather triumphant at the power that was in her to achieve such things. For Piers, though still hatefully suspicious of Willie Moppet, was coaxed into a mood of great expansion.

When their set was finished, Sophy appeared after a quick tidy-up in the dressing room. Already Willie Moppet, slim and charming in the flannels which became him so well, was balancing his tall form on the rail and trying to woo Piers whose amiable mood made the impertinence almost possible.

Other people hovered around existing interests; glances at Alan Brooke and his broad-brimmed hat, and Piers was fully conscious of their secret envy. Consequently he did what Lilla had been working for him to do. Without consulting Sophy he invited both men back to the Villa Mona for lunch and they accepted; Willie, because he not only admired Sophy but had a real reverence for her cook's skill, and Alan because he must seize "his chance to be near Sophy. Lilla, of course, had already been invited.

Alan might easily have sent a message to Cristina that he would not be home for lunch, but he never gave the matter a thought and started off up the hill with Sophy, well in advance of the other three.

He had so much to say to her and so little opportunity for saying it. She would have heard, he supposed.

Yes, Sophy had heard.

"Why did you do it?" she asked. She looked ill and weary under the shadowy green parasol.

"But why not?" he countered. It was difficult to explain exactly why it hurt her to have him known as the husband of Cristina and the father of Giovanni. One of passion's small vanities, perhaps. If rumor attached him to any woman, Sophy preferred it to be herself, at whatever cost.

Briefly he told her how it happened, but Sophy knew that he wouldn't have bothered very much if she hadn't suddenly presented herself again as the wife of Alan Brooke. He had given proof of how contemptibly easy it was to solve the problem of Cristina and his boy. Even Giovanni mattered less to him than he imagined.

"You really did it to protect yourself against me," Sophy said, thus voicing the belief of several people. Even Alan had suspected himself of this covetous. Well, why not? Any man who knew Sophy as well as he did must take advantage of whatever shelter he could find, happen it to be the skirts of his own wife, he told Sophy as much, and in her heart of hearts she was savagely glad. She had lured him from his lair, drawn him into the full publicity of the tennis club—he, who treasured his seclusion!—merely by the report that she was generally to be found there in the mornings, Piers permitting.

But what was to happen next?

"Mr. Moppet says you are thinking of going to Tunis later on in the winter," Sophy said.

"Probably I will," Alan replied. "I've got to get away from this place. There's no peace in it for me now."

Sophy lifted her head and as their eyes met under the shadow of the green parasol she smiled. She knew herself to be a fatal woman, while Alan Brooke was concerned. She was burdened by his fate as well as by her own, and although it seemed a little unfair, it was inevitable. Sooner or later something definite, perhaps terrible and tragic, would happen, and then the crash, the deluge for Alan and Sophy, the seal upon that fate of theirs.

"You know you won't go to Tunis, or anywhere else, without me," Sophy said. "Or if you did go, you'd come back very soon. You'd have to come back."

He looked grim. "Oh, would I!" he scoffed.

"You went to Tunis, but you came back," she mocked him.

"I told you why I went to Tunis—" "You came back protected by Cristina and your little boy. You were afraid of me. And if you run away to Tunis or Timbuctoo, it will be because you're afraid of me."

"I suppose that's really why I went into the war," Alan said angrily.

He knew how right she was and that although he might deceive her if he exerted all the strength he possessed, he couldn't fool himself to any useful purpose. To him Sophy was like Creation—she was the beginning, if there ever had been a beginning, and she would be always.

(Continued Monday.)

Aunt Het

"I know it sounds immodest, but I'd kind o' like to be buried with my pink silk nightgown on under my black taffeta."

Just Nuts

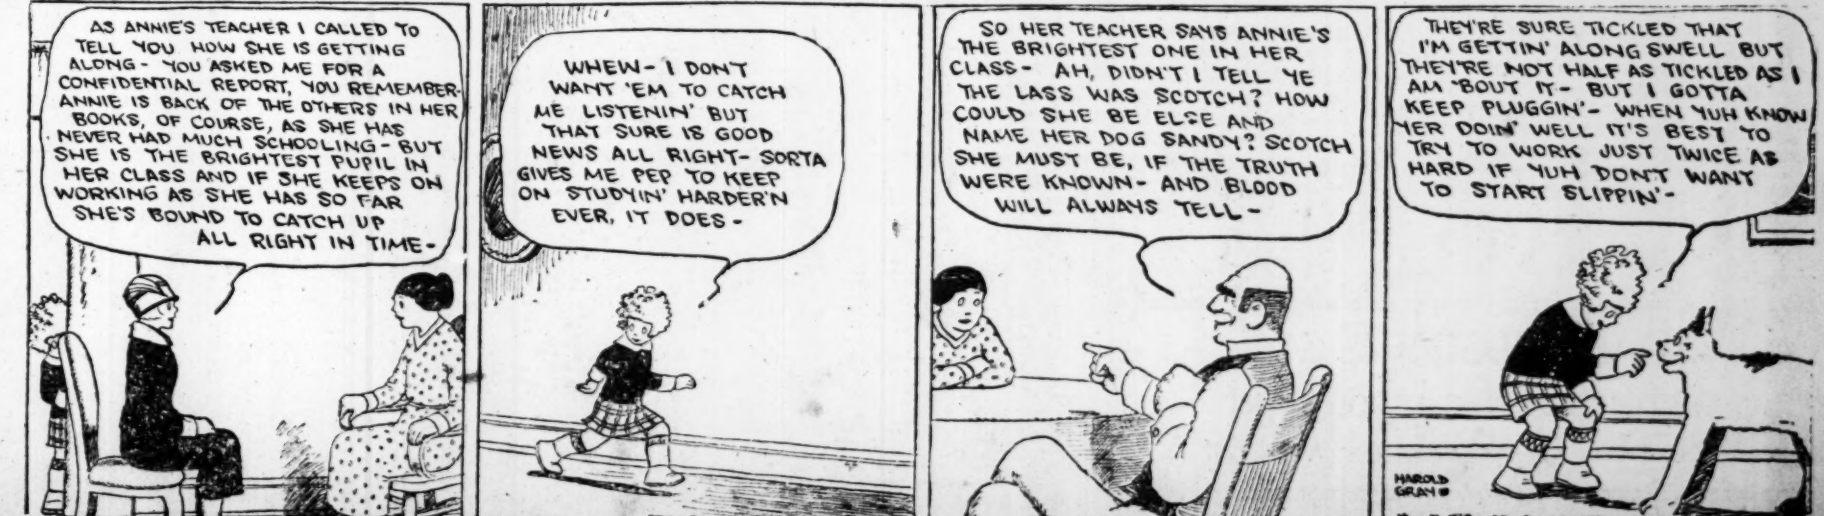

That's Not the Half of It

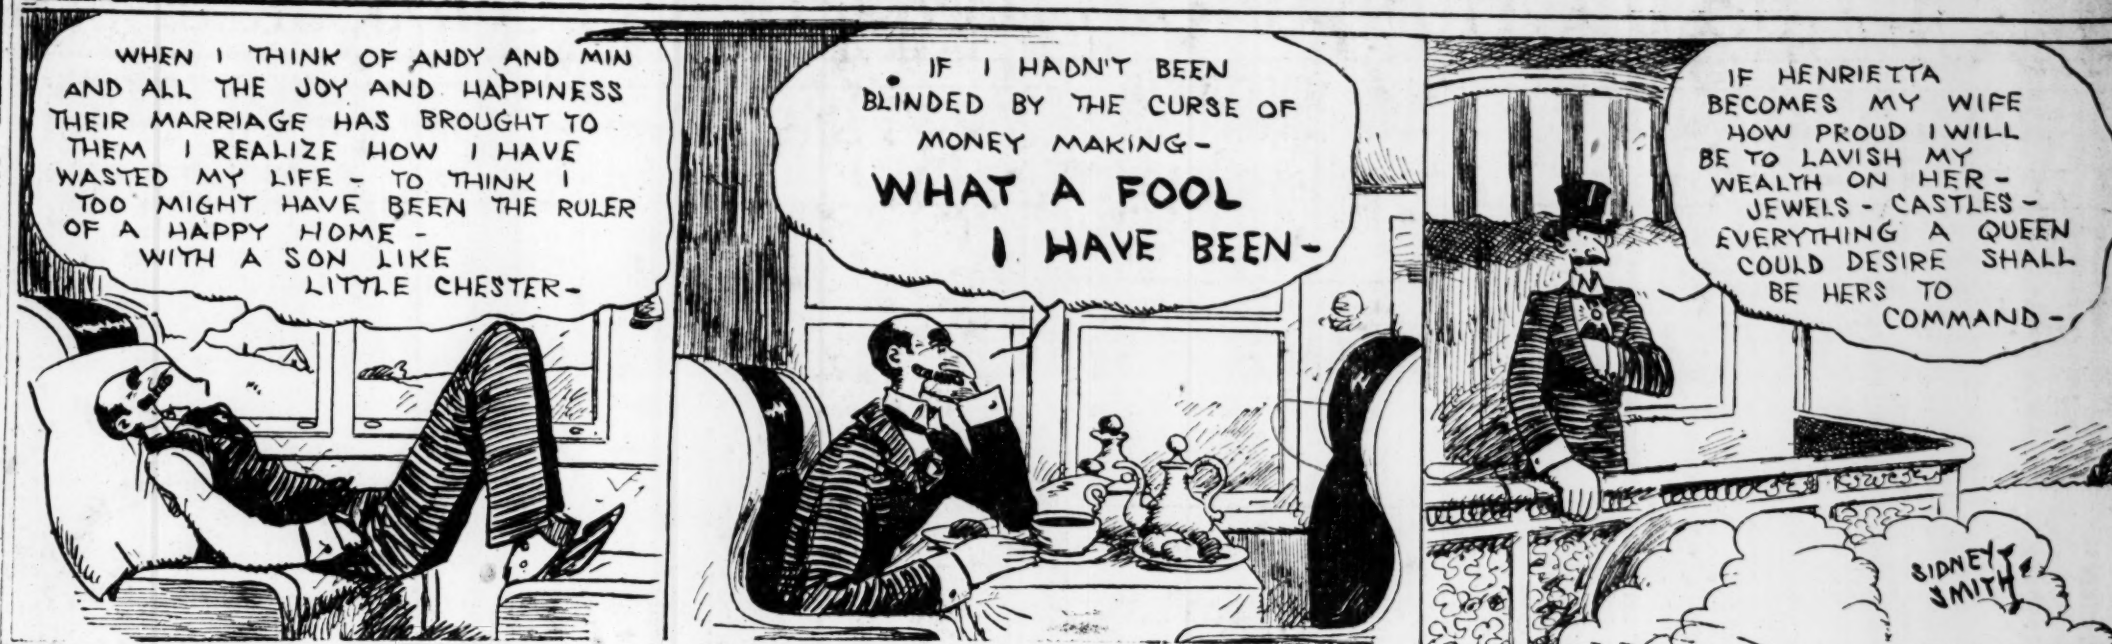

Winnie Winkle,
The Breadwinner.
Engaged—for the Evening

LITTLE ORPHAN
ANNIE—
The Confidential
Report

THE GUMPS—A FOOL THERE WAS

MOON MULLINS—THE DANGEROUS AGE

SOMEBODY'S STENOG—The Speed Baby

By Hayward

GASOLINE ALLEY—IMPATIENCE IS NO VIRTUE

'LA FORZA DEL DESTINO' PRESENTS PONSSELLE IN FAMOUS ROLE

OPERA STARS ARE HONORED AT NOTABLE SUPPER DANCE

Familiar Airs Please Opera Music Lovers

In full splendor of superb investiture, unparalleled artists and magnificent orchestration, "La Forza Destino," Verdi's incomparable opera was presented by the Metropolitan opera company last night before the seventh vast audience of Southern society assembled at the Atlanta auditorium.

Significant at the performance was the appearance of Vincenzo Bellezza, the new conductor, who had his first full score last night. Atlanta music lovers had a brief foretaste of the finished artistry of this man above the orchestra pit, on Tuesday evening when he directed the one-act operetta, "Gianni Schicchi" and have been awaiting with keen interest his offering of last evening.

Bellezza has created a furore in Europe, where he has held the baton at the famous old La Scala opera house at Milan for several years, and where he has appeared as guest conductor in practically every city of any size. His reputation has been built on his new and novel interpretations of scores and his revivals of old works.

Rosa Ponselle, who has been acclaimed one of the greatest dramatic sopranos in the world, proved last night that she has convincing claim to the title. Early in the week Ponselle startled Atlanta with her vivid and brilliant interpretation of the beautiful and lavishly loved Fiora in "L'Amore dei Tre Re." In her concluding role of Donna Leonora, the plaything of fate, torn from her father, brother and lover, and the victim of cruel destiny, she had an opportunity for dramatic effect such as Atlanta has seldom seen. Playing opposite Ponselle was the popular Martinielli, while Ina Boursakaya, proved a pleasing addition to the cast in a role that seemed all too brief. Izio Pinza, basso, who is enjoying his first Atlanta opera season, gave his magnificent voice full play in his role of the abbot of the Franciscan Friars. Rita De Lepore, the beautiful premiere danseuse, was the cynosure of all eyes in her charming appearance with the ballet.

Famous numbers from the opera included "Holy Mother Have Mercy" sung by Ponselle and chorus; "Thou Heavenly One," Martinielli; "In Vain, Alvaro," duet by Basiola and Martinielli and "Mercy, O, My Lord," by Ponselle.

Every box and seat in the vast auditorium was filled in a brilliantly hued throng that during the intermission formed a moving mass of kaleidoscopic color. The lovely gowns worn by society's notables vied in interest with the opera, formed one of the most scintillating scenes of the many great spectacles witnessed during the opera week.

Prominent Visitors.

Mrs. Cary B. Wilmer, of Sewanee, Tenn., was an enchanting figure in flesh chiffon embroidered in crystal. Another charming gown worn by Mrs. Elmer Oliver, of Washington, D. C. Mrs. Charles R. Crisp, of Americus, wore green chiffon with self-trimmings of flowers.

Senator and Mrs. Hoke Smith were the center of an animated group seen in the foyer. Mrs. George Cook, of Tampa, Fla., formerly Miss Marion Fielder, of Atlanta, was attractively gowned in hand-painted chiffon. Miss Eleanor Langley, of New York, the popular guest of Miss Pauline de Givé, wore a girlish model of pink ruffled taffeta.

Mrs. Anna Murphree Worth, of Gainesville, Fla., was with her father, Dr. Albert Murphree, president of the University of Florida. Mrs. Worth was becomingly gowned in beaded georgette. Her flowers were sweetheart roses. Mrs. May Quinsey, of Waynesboro, Ga., wore a white "chiffon de style" trimmed in silver sequins. Another attractive visitor was Mrs. Homer Orvis, of New York, who is the opera guest of her sister, Miss Nancy Hill.

Miss Weinman To Entertain Tuesday Dance Class.

Miss Frances Weinman will entertain the members of the Tuesday afternoon dancing class Tuesday, May 3, at a tea-dance at the Georgia Terrace and will be assisted by her mother, Mrs. William Weinman, and Miss Margaret Bryan.

Mrs. Hart Honors Lovely Visitors.

Mrs. Joel Hart, Jr., honored Mrs. Donald McLean, of Cartersville, Ga., and Mrs. Hugh Morrow, of Birmingham, Ala., at a buffet luncheon Friday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at her home on Palisades road. The guests included a few close friends of the hostess and honoree.

:: Venetian Fete Assembles Atlanta Society En Masse ::

Photos by Francis E. Price and Kenneth Rogers, Staff Photographers.

A panoramic view of the Venetian fete staged gorgeously and splendidly in the Biltmore hotel gardens Thursday evening is seen at the upper left, the photograph showing in part the audience of 700 Atlanta society members assembled following the performance of the opera, "Mignon." The group at the upper right includes Harry M. Atkinson, president of the Atlanta Music Festival association, in costume; Miss Louise Hunter, Metropolitan star and official hostess of the fete, and Edward Zeigler, assistant manager of the Metropolitan company, framed in the beautiful heart of roses, presented to Miss Hunter following her spectacular success in the role of Frederic in the opera, "Mignon." Seated at the lower left, those in the back row are (left to right): Ernest Ramspeck, Senora Jose Pennino, of Havana, Cuba; Mrs. Bona Allen, Jr., of Buford; Mrs. Julian Thomas, of Savannah; Bona Allen, Jr., Mrs. William Akers, Mrs. Ernest Ramspeck, Mrs. J. T. Peacock, of Cochran; Dr. George L. Cook, of Tampa, Fla., and Mrs. George L. Cook. In the front row (left to right) are William Akers, J. T. Peacock and Jose Pennino. The group at the lower right includes, standing, left to right, Joseph K. T. Van Pelt, Homer Orvis, of New York; Lawton Stevens and Harry Bewick. Those seated (left to right) are Harold Edson, Miss Louise Stubbs, Miss Nancy Hill and Mrs. Homer Orvis, of New York.

Major General Craig Honored At Fortnightly Hop at Fort

One of the most delightful affairs of the week was the fortnightly hop given at the Officers' club at Fort McPherson Friday evening. This affair was a special complement to General Main Craig, commanding general of the fourth corps area, who has recently come to Fort McPherson, succeeding General Johnson Hagood.

The clubrooms were artistically decorated with palms and flags. Receiving with General Craig were General H. O. Williams, commanding officer of the eighth infantry brigade at Fort McPherson, and Mrs. Williams; Colonel George F. Baltzell, commanding officer of the twenty-second infantry, and Mrs. Baltzell. The guests were introduced by Major A. S. Kuegel.

The members of the army contingent and a number of Atlantans attended this lovely affair to greet General Craig.

Dinner Party.

Preceding the hop, General and Mrs. Herbert O. Williams entertained at a beautiful seated dinner honoring General Craig. The table had as a central decoration a basket of spring flowers, the colors of pink and lavender predominating. Covers were placed for General Craig, Mrs. George C. Saffarans, Colonel and Mrs. Melville S. Jarvis, Colonel and Mrs. George F. Baltzell, Colonel Duncan Major and Miss Louise Hunter.

Lovely Buffet Supper.

A delightful affair of Friday evening preceding the hop given at the Officers' club, Fort McPherson, was the buffet supper at which Lieutenant and Mrs. George Steinmeyer were hosts at their quarters, at Fort McPherson.

An artistic array of lovely spring flowers was used throughout the rooms. Assisting Mrs. Steinmeyer in entertaining the guests were Mrs. Bert N. Bryan, Mrs. William L. Mitchell, and Mrs. Sybil E. Faine. The guests included Major and Mrs. Nelson A. Myll, Major and Mrs. Harry J. Keeley, Captain and Mrs. William A. Cunningham, Captain and Mrs. Edgar Cooper, Captain and Mrs. Furman W. Hardee, Lieutenant and Mrs. Bert N. Bryan, Lieutenant and Mrs. Marvin Peck, Lieutenant and Mrs. Sam Purswell, Lieutenant and Mrs. Moore, Miss Gertrude Rowell, Miss Gainer, Miss Margaret Cassidy, Lieutenant Causy, Lieutenant John E. Walker and Lieutenant Paxton.

Miss Ellen Kiser To Give Bridge-Tea Saturday

Miss Ellen Kiser will entertain at a bridge-tea at her home on Peachtree road Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock in honor of Miss Florence Pund of Augusta the guest of Mrs. J. P. Armstrong.

The guests will include Misses Katherine and Page Davis, Louise Crockett, Addie Bell Forester, Margaret Stovall, Charlotte Burnett, Berta Lee Smith, Mildred McCall, Mrs. E. C. Benton, Mrs. S. C. Little, Mrs. J. J. Thompson, Mrs. Howard Haley, Mrs. W. R. Stovall, Mrs. Fred Heuble, Mrs. Joe Needa, Mrs. E. A. Snipes, Mrs. J. P. Armstrong, Mrs. Ben Treadwell, Mrs. Howard Benton, Mrs. J. T. Marshall, Mrs. Gertrude McCall, Mrs. M. R. Lovelace and Mrs. C. W. McClure. Miss Nancy Kiser, and Mrs. M. C. Kiser will assist in entertaining.

Stars and Visitors Lunch at Biltmore.

The main dining room of the Atlanta Biltmore hotel was an interesting place at the luncheon hour on Friday, when a number of the stars of the Metropolitan opera company were present, besides many attractive visitors who are here for opera.

Noted among those present were Miss Louise Hunter, Miss Marion Taylor, Mrs. Lucretia Bori, Miss Rosa Ponselle, Miss Edith Prikli, Miss Florence Easton, Miss Suzanne Zeigler, Miss Minnie Zeigler, Miss Helen Rother, of Madison, Miss Walter Jones, of Athens; Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Stone, Mrs. T. A. Ripley, Jr., Mrs. Lollie M. Pickett, Mrs. Harry Stearns, Mrs. Joseph D. Rhodes, Miss Sarah H. t. Miss Naudy Bignon, Miss Pearl Wilkinson, Miss Hallie McHenry, of Madison; Mrs. C. P. Adams, of Madison, and Mrs. E. Hunter; Messrs. Davies Warfield, of Baltimore; Edward Zeigler,

Walter Rich Horses Are Shown In Asheville Ring

Prominent among the entries at the showing of the Biltmore-Forest-Asheville horse show held in the Biltmore Forest ring last week in Asheville, were the blue ribbon mounts from the stable of Mrs. Walter Rich, of Atlanta. The show marked the season's closing exhibit of the southeastern circuit of class A shows, which includes in its membership associations in Augusta, Savannah, Atlanta, Charleston, S. C., Tryon, N. C., and Asheville. One hundred and eighty entries participated in more than 20 classes. The show was enlivened by the arrival of military units from Fort Bragg and Fort Oglethorpe, Ga. Maneuvers of cavalry also were held.

Scores of blue ribbon mounts from the foremost southern stables competed for awards, among them being entries representing the Biltmore estate, Hobbs Farms, of Montgomery, Ala.; George Chipchase, of Aiken, S. C.; Mrs. Walter Rich, of Atlanta; A. L. Barksdale, of Greenville, S. C., and Dr. and Mrs. Arthur S. Wheeler and Mrs. Tayloe Compton, of Savannah. Among the show features were the combination five-gaited class, a division for child jumpers, a spectacular jumping class for commissioned officers and a class for polo ponies. Numerous silver trophies were awarded by the committee headed by Albert H. Malone. The horse show was especially noteworthy because of the mingling of social leaders of both the north and south. The officers from Fort Bragg continued their success in the Pinehurst show a fortnight ago by winning many awards here.

Lawrence Tibbett, Giovanni Martinielli, Beniamino Gigli, Mario Basiola, Joseph McPherson, Giovanni Palmieri, Leon Rothier, William Gustafson, Alfio Tedesco, Armand Tokatyan, Wilfrid Pelletier, Tullio Serafin and many others.

Sigma Pi Phi Fraternity Gives Formal Dance at Druid Hills Club

The Sigma Pi Phi fraternity of Boys' High school entertained Friday evening. This delightful occasion assembled many of Atlanta's younger social set at the Druid Hills Golf club.

The young ladies invited were Misses Catherine West, Clare Jones, Elizabeth Kinnell, Margaret Harris, Josephine Clarke, Dot Scott, Kathleen Howell, Katharine Eckford, Helen Bixie, Myrtle Coker, Zephira Nixon, Pritchard Gayle, Louise Candler, Elizabeth Spalding, Frances Clarke, Julia Meador, Jacquelin Moore, Josephine Crawford, Marguerite Snelling, Nell Strong, Ida Nevin, Helen Noble, Harriett Wynne, Kate Hope Irby, Virginia Smith, Mary Prim, Elizabeth Stitt, Margaret Halsey, Marie McAfee, Judy King, Pat Rogers, Hazel Stearns, Martha Pritchard, Elizabeth Hearn, Irene Essig, Nell Harris, Sally Spalding, Virginia Deering, Jean Nutting, Dorothy Dobbs, Constance Dinkler, Eleanor Johnston, Martha Powell, Ruth Norris, Jane King, Cecil Wood, Peggy Underwood, Anne Ridgely, Virginia Branch, Alice Gayle, Emma Thomas, Lucia Everett, Grace Perrin, Ida Mumford, Peggy Hearn, Lena Knox, Charlie Harmon, Catherine Harris, Emma Englehart, Ruth Miller, Mary Mosler, Louise Moore, Ruth Madden, Elizabeth Thompson, Jane Tway, Mary Phillips Orme, Adelaide Harris, Catherine Rogers, Nancy Frederick, Mary Eleanor Kemp, Anne Clay, Mark Orme, Janet McNeal, Mary McCord, Phoebe Rhett. Chaperoning the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Coker, Dr. and Mrs. E. L. Daniel, Mrs. E. B. Eckford, Mrs. E. Van Winkle, Mrs. Frank Orme, Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Harvey, Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Moore, Dr. and Mrs. Dan Y. Sage, Judge and Mrs. J. M. Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Johnston, Dr. and Mrs. R. F. McCormack, Judge and Mrs. G. H. Howard.

Miss Pickal Will Be Entertained At Party Series

Miss Augusta Pickard, whose engagement has been announced to Les Marvin Tappan, is being entertained at many lovely parties.

Miss Mae Harris entertained at a box party at the Georgia terrace in honor of Miss Pickard. The party was followed by a handkerchief shower.

Mrs. A. A. McCurry will entertain today at a kitchen shower for Miss Pickard.

Miss Julia Gardner will honor Miss Pickard and Mr. Tappan at a dance at her home on Peachtree road May 5. Mrs. W. E. McCowan and Mrs. H. E. Genz will be joint hostesses at a miscellaneous shower for Miss Pickard May 7. Miss Elizabeth Graham will entertain at a bridge shower May 10 for Miss Pickard.

Capital City Supper Dance Is Gay Event

The second brilliant supper-dance of opera week, featured at the Capital City club Friday evening, made the artists of the Metropolitan Opera company, who were honored guests, the cynosure of all eyes. The hosts of the evening were the officers and directors of the Atlanta Musical Festival association and the occasion assembled several hundred members of Atlanta society and prominent visitors.

The artists' table, which was placed at one end of the ballroom, was elaborately decorated with a mass of Premier roses. The crimson beauty of these lovely blooms blended beautifully with the pastel shaded gowns worn by the ladies and the rose and gold draperies of the handsome ballroom. Baskets of Premier roses adorned the individual tables, which were arranged around the outer edge of the room, while garlands of smilax draped the chandeliers and side walls.

Among the Metropolitan artists honored were Grace Anthony, Lucretia Bori, Florence Easton, Minnie Eugene, Nanette Guilford, Louise Hunter, Louise Lerch, Rosa Ponselle, Thelia Sabanieva, Marion Talley, Julia Claussen, Ina Boursakaya, Dorothea Flexer, Kathleen Howard, Henrietta Wakefield and Antonio Scotti, Walter Kirchhoff, Max Altglass, Angelo Bada, Beniamino Gigli, Edward Johnson, Giovanni Martinielli, Giordana Palmieri, Alfio Tedesco, Armand Tokatyan, Mario Basiola, George Gehanovsky, Giuseppe De Luca, Arnold Gabor, Millo Picco, Vincenzo Reschiglian, Lawrence Tibbett, Paolo Ananian, Louis D'Angelo, William Gustafson, Pavel Ludikar, Joseph Macpherson, Ezio Pinza, Leon Rothier, James Wolfe, Giulio Setti, Armando Agnini, Oscar Anne, Lionel Mapleson, Ritta De Lepore, Lillian Ogden, Giuseppe Bamboschek, Vincenzo Bellezza, Louis Hasselmann, Tullio Serafin, Fausto Cleve, Riccardo Dellera, Carlo Edwards and Wilfrid Pelletier.

Music Festival Directors.

The directors of the Atlanta Music Festival association and their wives, who were hosts, include Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Atkinson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Howard Candler, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Nevin, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Cohen, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Grant, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Howell, Mr. and Mrs. V. H. Kriegshaber, Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Parker, Mr. and Mrs. W. Woods White, Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Rich, S. Davies Warfield, Otto H. Kahn, Mr. and Mrs. William M. Brownlee, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Glenn, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gregg, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hirsch, Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Martin.

Among the prominent Atlantans attending the supper-dance were the officers and wives of the Capital City club, including Mr. and Mrs. E. Rivers, Mr. and Mrs. William T. Berkerson, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Daniel, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Thornton, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Wardlaw, Mr. and Mrs. Macon Martin, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Woodruff, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Martin, Baxter Maddox and Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Parker.

Congential Parties.

Dr. and Mrs. Elmer Armstrong, Dr. and Mrs. John E. Bacon, Atlanta, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Tompkins, Miss Mae Quinsey, of Waynesboro, Ga.; Dudley Woodward, Dr. B. McChesney, of New York, were forming a group dining together.

Mrs. James T. Williams, who returned Wednesday from a European tour extending over a period of several months, was honor guest in the party given by Mr. and Mrs. John Hill, covers being laid for Mr. and Mrs. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Nunnally, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Black, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Charles Black, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. William F. Spalding, Thomas J. Lyon and Gus Ryan.

One of the largest parties of the evening was that entertained by Mr. and Mrs. William Akers. Covers were placed for Dr. and Mrs. George Cook, of Tampa, Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Peacock, of Cochran; Mr. and Mrs. Bolling Samsett, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Genz, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Martin, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. LeRoux.

Dining with Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Tift were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Holmes, Dr. and Mrs. John B. Duncan, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cockrell and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Mulrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Joel C. Harris, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Plummer dined together. Mr. and Mrs. Logan Clark entertained Mr. and Mrs. Louis Arnold, Major and Mrs. John S. Cohen, Mrs. Clarence May and George Campbell. Judge and Mrs. Liles of Aniston, Ala., were central figures in the party given by Mr. and Mrs. Allen Krebs, whom they are visiting and invited to meet them were Miss Willie Calhoun and Louis Woodward.

'ROMEO AND JULIETTE,' 'MADAM BUTTERFLY' TO BE SUNG TODAY

Familiar Opera To Close Brilliant Season of 1927

Coincident with the annual celebration of the Shakespeare festival at Stratford-on-Avon in April comes the presentation of the lyric drama shaped from the dramatist's tragedy by Charles Gounod, "Romeo et Juliette," which will be the final matinee given by the Metropolitan Opera company this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the auditorium.

As truly as all the world loves a lover, all the world seems to weep for love tragedy, which has gained immortal form in the Romeo and Juliette tradition. The music of the Gounod opera follows very closely the Shakespearean play and starkly beautiful unfolds the tragic romance.

No other statement can more fully assure the outstanding artistic success of the performance than that the name parts of the lovers will be sung by Lucrezia Bori and Beniamino Gigli. Gigli brought all musical Atlanta to his feet in devout adoration when he appeared in concert here last season, which featured his greatest arias. The diminutive and charming prima donna, Bori, has long held the city enthralled by her unceasing loveliness as she comes each year for the opera season.

Joseph MacPherson's Appearance.

Interest in this afternoon's performance centers around the appearance of Joseph MacPherson, basso, formerly of Nashville, Tenn., who received his audition with the Metropolitan company last spring when Otto Kahn, president of the board of directors, was the guest of the city for the opera season. Under many difficulties MacPherson made his premiere at the Metropolitan in New York during the past winter and musical critics are watching his development with interest.

Stephano, the winsome page, who adds gaiety to the otherwise sombre occasion, will be played by Louise Hunter, the light and grand opera pet of Atlanta. Henriette Wakefield will have fine opportunity for splendid characterization as the old nurse. Louis Hasselmann, who is always brought on for the French operas, will have the post of honor above the orchestra pit, and his presence assures an artistic and individual interpretation of the score. Bori and Gigli will have many duets, prominent among which will be "Lovely Angel" and "Night All Too Blessed." The beautiful aria, "Arise Faint Sun," will fall to Gigli. "Romeo et Juliette" will include the last appearance of the brilliant Metropolitan ballet, of which Rita De Leporte is the solo dancer. This is the first visit of Miss De Leporte to Atlanta and her beauty and personal charm have added much to the success of the seventeenth annual musical festival.

Scott's First Appearance. In his first appearance of the week and his seventeenth annual visit to Atlanta, as a prominent artist of the Metropolitan opera season, will be Antonio Scotti, known as the "Father of the Opera Festival in Atlanta." Scotti had made plans to sail for Europe after the closing of the Metropolitan opera house in New York and gracefully consented to change his plans to include Atlanta, when he learned of the consternation of local music lovers over the possibility of his non-appearance.

In "Madama Butterfly," which the Metropolitan will present this evening at 8 o'clock at the auditorium as the closing performance of the week's engagement, Scotti will sing the part of the United States consul, Sharpless. This veteran artist has sung practically every baritone role in opera, however, his great specialty is villains. He is said to be the most versatile villain in villainy. His local appearance will be a radical departure from his established roles, when he sings the part of the kindly and philosophic, Sharpless.

Easton as Butterfly.

Florence Easton has the distinction of being the only woman artist of the Metropolitan who has been selected to sing three leading roles in the nine operas of the week. On Wednesday she was the Princess Turandot in the opera of that name, on Friday afternoon she played the demanding role of Elsa of Brabant in "Lohengrin" and this evening she will add to her triumphs as Cio-Cio-San, known colloquially in Japan as "Madama Butterfly," the lady of the broken heart, but of unbroken faith, and is expected to create her greatest triumph of the week when she sings the slowly rolls down on the final scene of Atlanta's seventeenth season of Metropolitan opera.

Second in importance to the leading role is that of the faithful maid, Suzuki, which will be sung by Ina Bourskaya. Louise Lerch, the recent acquisition of the company, who is in Atlanta for her first season, will have her biggest role of the week as Kate Pinkerton. The tenor lead, Lieutenant Pinkerton, will be taken by Armand Tokatlan.

"Butterfly" is probably the most popular of the popular Puccini operas. The version for tonight will be after the work of John Luther Long and David Belasco. Vincenzo Bellezza, the new conductor, is expected to give an individual interpretation.

Where Society Gathers To-Day

MADAME BUTTERFLY

"Romeo et Juliette," opera, in five acts, by Charles Gounod, sung in French, will be given by the Metropolitan Opera company at 2 o'clock at the auditorium. Louis Hasselmann will conduct.

"Madama Butterfly," opera, in two acts, by Giacomo Puccini, will be sung in Italian by the Metropolitan Opera company at 8 o'clock at the auditorium. Vincenzo Bellezza will conduct.

A dinner-dance will be given at the Piedmont Driving club beginning at 8 o'clock.

There will be an opera tea-dance at the Atlanta Biltmore at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon.

An opera supper-dance will be given at the Atlanta Biltmore at 10:30 o'clock this evening.

The Atlanta Athletic club will entertain at a dinner-dance this evening at the town club beginning at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. Harrison Jones will entertain twelve guests at the Biltmore tea-dance this afternoon, honoring Miss Sara Hurt, a popular debutante.

Theta chapter of the Phi Psi Textile fraternity of Georgia Tech will give their annual "Lint Head Ball" this evening in the Tech gymnasium.

Junior Symphony Orchestra To Meet.

The Atlanta Junior Symphony orchestra meets this morning for practice at Edico hall at 11 o'clock. Mr. Chase requests that every member be present and on time, as very important business will be discussed and this will be the last rehearsal before the activities of the orchestra during National Music week.

The most famous and highly dramatic selection from the score is "Un bel di vedremo," which will be sung by Easton. Geraldine Farrar, Emmy Destinn, Agnes Kimball and other operatic stars have echoed fame in this number. Other beloved selections include the "Duet of the Flowers," Easton and Bourskaya, and "Do You Know My Sweet One," by Easton and the aria, "Butterfly's death song," "Finale Ultimo."

Mrs. Auvel Stewart and Miss Mildred Butler will be joint hostesses this afternoon with a bridge-tea honoring Miss Cora Anderson.

Mrs. Ewell Gay's breakfast given at her home on East Seventeenth street compliments Mrs. Hugh Morris, of Birmingham, Ala., the guest of Mrs. Joel Hurt, Jr.

Miss Ruth Crussell will entertain at a bridge-luncheon at her home on Spring street, honoring Miss Clare Louise Scott, a May bride-elect whose marriage to Arthur Charles Beall takes place next week.

Miss Lucile Jordan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Wilson-Lawson, will entertain a box party at the opera matinee performance of Gounod's "Romeo et Juliette."

The Tri Delta Alliance of Atlanta will entertain at an opera-luncheon to which all members of the sorority in the city are invited.

The Sylvan Hills Improvement club will give a dance at the clubhouse on Deckner avenue.

Mrs. F. D. Ramey will be hostess at a luncheon at her home on Piedmont avenue in honor of Mrs. George Cook, of Tampa, Fla., and Mrs. J. P. Peacock, of Cochran, the guests of Mrs. William Akers.

Miss Winston Is Chosen Queen By Seminary Students

Miss Adeline Winston was chosen by popular vote of her schoolmates as Max queen at Washington seminary.

The queen will be crowned at an elaborate fête which will take place on the seminary lawn Friday afternoon, May 6.

The ladies in court will include Miss Catherine Norcross, elected maid of honor.

The senior maids will be Miss Virginia White and Miss Carolyn Lingard.

Junior maids will be Miss Myrtle Croker and Miss Hazel Stamps.

Sophomore maids include Miss Helen Noble and Miss Nancy Frederick.

Freshman maids will include Miss Frances Clarke and Miss Vaughn Nixon.

Mrs. Simpkins Honors Opera Guest.

Mrs. John Simpkins entertained at a bridge-tea Wednesday afternoon at her home in East Lake in compliment to Miss Edith Foshee, of Montgomery, Ala., who is the opera guest of Miss Seamans Langford.

Twenty-five guests were invited to meet Miss Foshee.

Informal Parties Honor Visitors.

Informal teas and luncheon parties featured Friday's social program, these delightful events preceding and following the opera matinee, "Lohengrin," at the city auditorium. Attractive visitors were honor guests at these gay affairs given at the clubs and private homes.

Mrs. C. M. LeRoux was hostess Friday at a luncheon party at the Capital City club in compliment to her sister, Miss Dorothy Williams, of Chicago.

Covers were placed for Miss Williams, Mrs. Arthur Tufts, her guest, Mrs. Marshall Harrison, of Columbus; Mrs. John E. Smith, Mrs. Raymond Kline, Mrs. William Mathers and Mrs. LeRoux.

Mrs. Barilli Entertains.

Another luncheon party of Friday was that at which Mrs. Alfred Barilli, Jr., was hostess at her home on Orm circle, the occasion complimenting Mrs. Robert Groves, of Savannah, the guest of Mrs. Robin Adair, and Mrs. George Cook, of Tampa, and Mrs. J. T. Peacock, of Cochran, the guests of Mrs. William Akers.

Invited to meet honor guests and their hostesses were Mesdames F. Graham Williams, Carlton Sewell, Arthur Crowe and Leone Blair, of Marietta; Bolling Suenett, Allen Arley, Clarence Moeckle, Joseph Cook, Charles B. Atkinson, Henry Troutman, E. P. Thornton and Miss Louise Barilli.

Mrs. Cooper's Party.

Mrs. John Cooper was hostess at a tea Friday afternoon at the Atlanta Woman's club in compliment to several interesting visitors who are here for opera, including Mrs. W. J. Wallace, of Nashville; Mrs. T. L. Herbert, of Cochran, the guests of Mrs. H. W. Beers; Mrs. George Cook, of Tampa, Fla.; Mrs. P. T. Peacock, of Cochran, the attractive guests of Mrs. William Akers; Mrs. Jimmie Callaway John and Mrs. J. M. B. Hoxie, of New York.

The guests included besides the honor guests and their hostesses, Mrs. Frank Berry, Mrs. George Baltzell, Miss Nan Carroll, Mrs. W. O. Foote, Mrs. Moor, Miss Margaret Moor, of Tallahassee, Fla.; Mrs. B. S. Barker, Mrs. B. S. Barker, Jr., Mrs. DeLos Hill, Mrs. Wilmer Moore and Mrs. Henry Troutman.

Miss Emily Haywood Plummer entertained at tea Friday at the home of her mother, Mrs. Kemp Plummer, on Westminster Drive.

Mrs. Plummer received with her daughter and assisting in the entertainment of the guests were Misses Harriett Grant, May Birney Alston, Carolyn Crumley, Suzanne Memminger, Louise King, Betsy Weyman, Mary Ann Carr and Betty Watson.

During the afternoon 60 members of the young schoolgirl set of society called.

Visitors Honored.

Miss Lydia Wheeler was hostess at a small tea Friday at the Atlanta Woman's club in compliment to Miss Anne Keeling, of Texas, the guest of Miss Sue Brown Sterne, and for Miss Dorothy Flexer, a popular member of the Metropolitan Opera company.

Miss Wheeler's guest list included 12 intimate friends of the hostess.

Mr. Talley Honors Mrs. James Bishop.

A social affair of Thursday was the luncheon at which Mrs. T. P. Talley was hostess at Druid Hills Golf club in honor of Mrs. James Bishop, of Eastman, who was her guest during opera.

The table had for its centerpiece a large bowl of snapdragons, sweet peas and roses in pastel shades. The individual nut cases were miniature pink rosebuds.

Invited to meet Mrs. Bishop were Mesdames Walter C. Hill; Young Harris Fraser, Langdon C. Quin, Margaret Murphy, H. A. Talley, J. R. Courson.

Mrs. Bishop was honor guest of several other affairs during the week.

Miss Scott And Mr. Beall Given Bridge Supper

Miss Clare Louise Scott and Arthur Charles Beall whose wedding will be an interesting event were honored by Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Davis at a bridge-supper Friday evening at 8:30 o'clock at their home, 172 Huntington road.

The home was beautifully decorated with roses and iris.

Varied Calendar To Close Festive Week of Gayeties

The love tragedy of the operas, "Romeo et Juliette" and of "Madama Butterfly," which will form the offerings of the matinee and evening performances of the Metropolitan Opera company at the auditorium today, will form a somber background for the social festivities that will cluster like many brilliant butterflies around the opera productions in the form of teas, luncheons, upper and dinner parties for the visiting opera stars and guests.

The outstanding affairs, both in brilliance and in point of attendance, will be the dinner and supper-dances given at the clubs and hotels. The Piedmont Driving club will close the week's festivities with the regular Saturday evening dinner-dance and at the same hour the Atlanta Athletic club will open its hospitable doors for an elaborate dinner-dance. Following the opera, "Madama Butterfly," society will assemble for supper and dancing at the Biltmore hotel.

This popular hostelry will also be the scene of a tea-dance at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon. A prominent hostess at the tea-dance will be Mrs. William Worth Martin, who will entertain, honoring a group of young boys and girls. A lovely young debutante, Miss Sara Hurt, will be central figure at another party with Mrs. Harrison Jones as hostess.

Visitors Honored. Members of Atlanta's college set will anticipate with youthful enthusiasm the annual "Lint Head" ball of the Phi Psi Textile fraternity of Georgia Tech, the affair to take place in the Tech gymnasium.

Mrs. Hugh Morris, of Birmingham, Ala., is an attractive opera guest who, with her hostess, Mrs. Joel Hurt, Jr., will be entertained at breakfast this morning by Mrs. Ewell Gay, the guests to assemble at Mrs. Gay's home on East Seventeenth street. Mrs. George Cook, of Tampa, Fla., and Mrs. J. T. Peacock, of Cochran, the opera guests of Mrs. William Akers, are other prominent visitors to be honored today, Mrs. F. D. Ramey entertaining at luncheon at her home on Piedmont avenue.

The Tri Delta alliance of Atlanta will entertain at its annual opera luncheon at the Biltmore hotel, inviting all members of the sorority who are in the city to attend.

Matinee Parties. A lovely bride-elect, Miss Clare Louise Scott, will form inspiration for Miss Ruth Crussell's bridge-luncheon at her home on Spring street.

Among the matinee parties which will assemble groups of congenial friends to hear the popular opera, "Romeo et Juliette" will be that at which Miss Lillian Starr, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Linton Starr, will be hostess, the matinee to be followed by the tea at her home on Seminole avenue. Miss Lucile Jordan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Wilson-Lawson, will be another popular hostess entertaining a group of friends.

Savannah Visitors Are Honored. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cotton Alston were hosts Friday at a breakfast party.

At the matinee this afternoon of "Romeo et Juliette," Miss Lillian Starr will be hostess, her guests to include Miss Mary Roberts, Miss Jennie Champion, Miss Frances Woodford, Miss Betty Shaw, Miss Nell Kurtz, Miss Charlotte Meyers and Miss Anne Scott Harman.

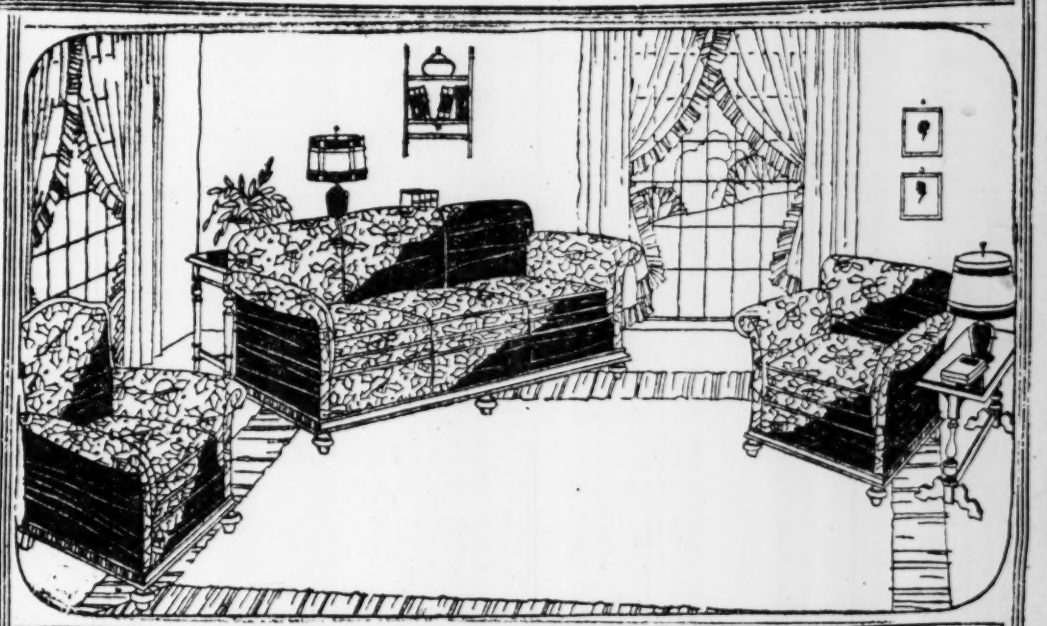

After the matinee the young guests will be entertained at a delightful tea at the home of Miss Starr on Seminole avenue.

Watch!
Sunday's Paper for the Biggest Hosiery
Event

Thousands of Pairs of Hose
at Astounding Savings!

M. RICH & BROS. CO.
BROAD-ALABAMA & FORSYTH STS. PHONE WALNUT 4636

May Anniversary Sale!
Furniture and Rug
Courtesy Day Saturday!

Saturday is Furniture Courtesy Day, set aside in order that you may make advance selections.

Every Piece of Furniture and Every Rug in Stock will be plainly marked at Special Birthday Prices.

Come early Saturday--read the Sale Price Tags--and choose at leisure before the rush begins!

Take advantage of Rich's Club Plan.

RICH'S FOURTH FLOOR AND RICH'S FIFTH FLOOR

M. RICH & BROS. CO.
BROAD-ALABAMA & FORSYTH STS. PHONE WALNUT 4636

A SOUTHERN INSTITUTION FOR 60 YEARS

1867

1927

Today!
COURTESY DAY
RICH'S
60th MAY ANNIVERSARY SALE!

Representative May Anniversary Offerings on Sale in Every Department Today---Courtesy Day!

A round dozen days—May 2-14—to see the speedy outgo of

ONE MILLION DOLLARS worth of merchandise "as fresh as is the month of May" at prices 25% to 50% below normal in

A sale destined to make everybody glad that Rich's was born and has lived to grow and prosper for 60 years.

NOT ONLY TEMPTING BUT SOUND

Anniversary gifts first to us, then to you. For makers of this summer merchandise, knowing the scope of Rich's Anniversary sales of other years, have made this new manifestation of an old event as sound as it is tempting and as tempting as it is sound.

SELECTING YOUR PRESENT

Treat yourself to a Rich birthday present in the department of your choice, for the fruits of these 12 brisk selling days will feed the spring desires of the woman who loves her children, her home, her wardrobe—in short, the woman who is Every woman.

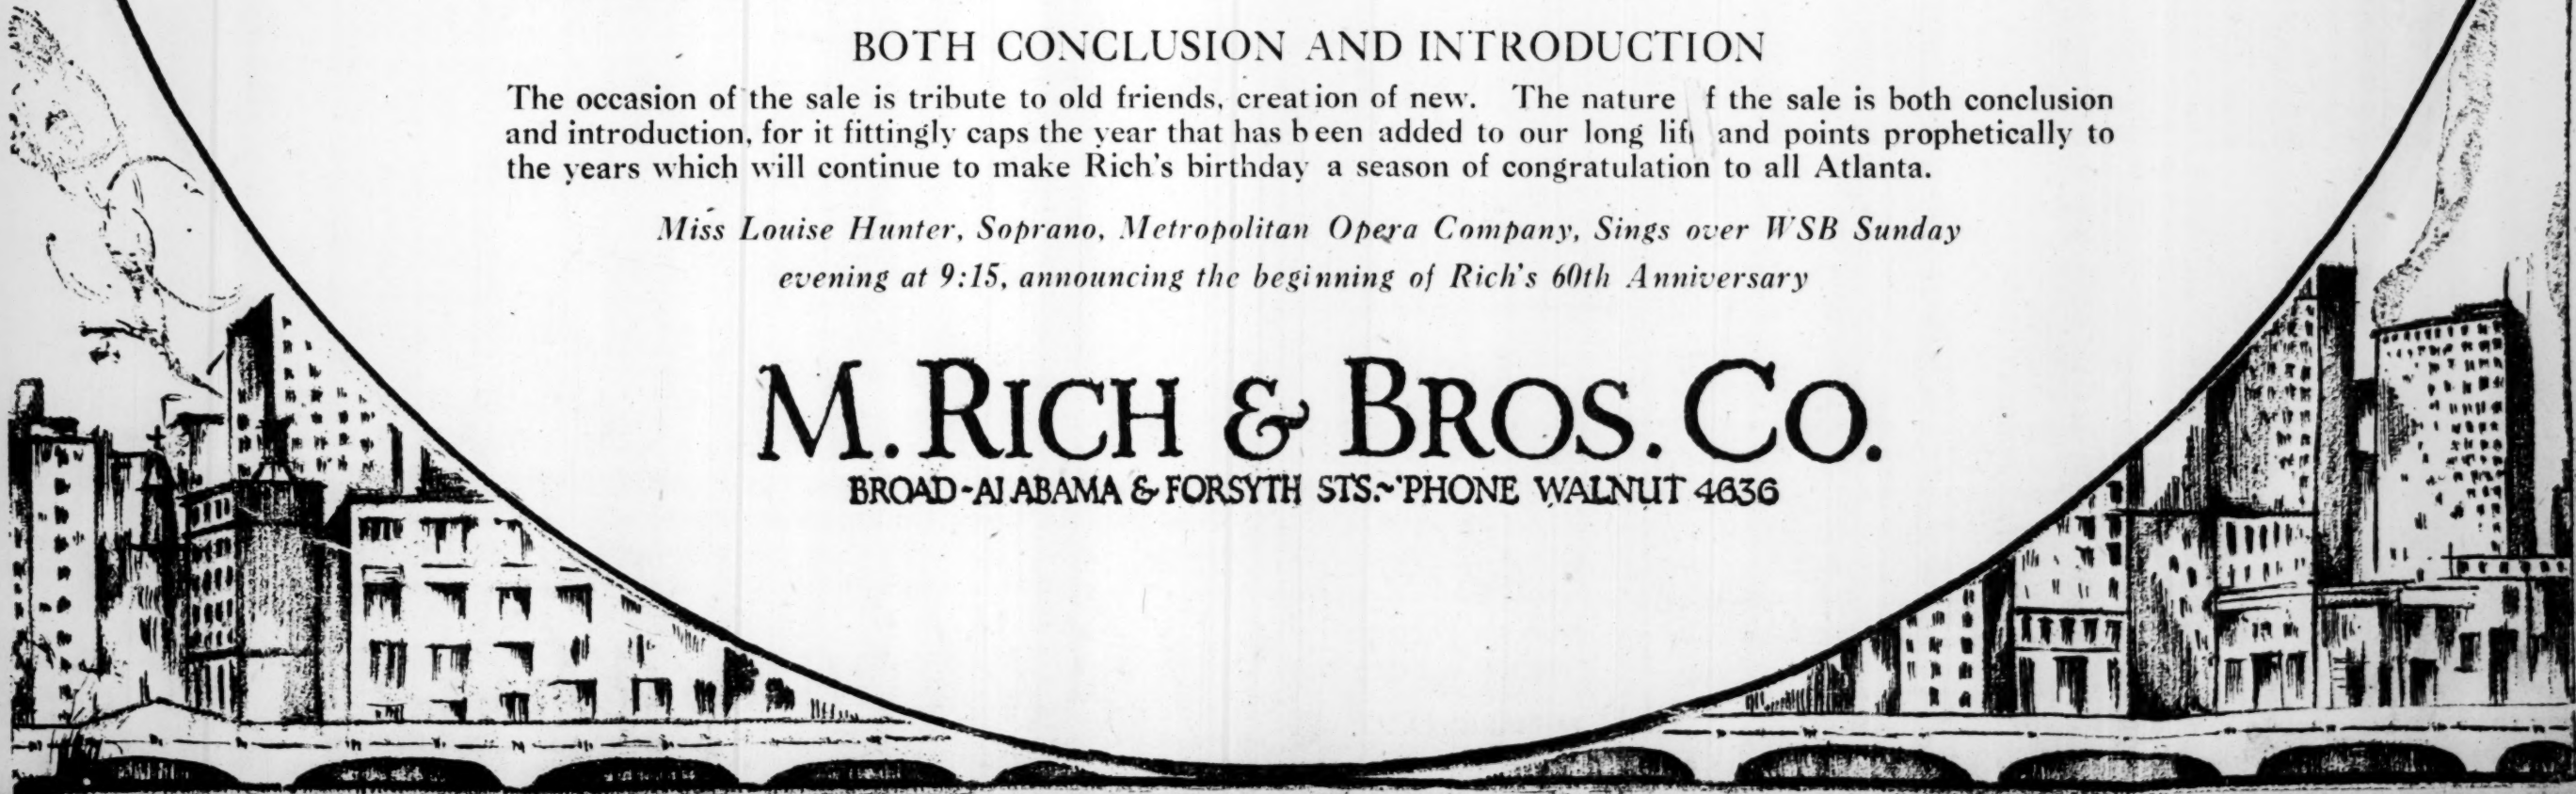

BOTH CONCLUSION AND INTRODUCTION

The occasion of the sale is tribute to old friends, creation of new. The nature of the sale is both conclusion and introduction, for it fittingly caps the year that has been added to our long life and points prophetically to the years which will continue to make Rich's birthday a season of congratulation to all Atlanta.

Miss Louise Hunter, Soprano, Metropolitan Opera Company, Sings over WSB Sunday evening at 9:15, announcing the beginning of Rich's 60th Anniversary

M. RICH & BROS. CO.

BROAD-ALABAMA & FORSYTH STS.~PHONE WALNUT 4636

Woman's Club Tea Assembles Many Opera Visitors

The Friday afternoon tea at the Atlanta Woman's club assembled a large throng of opera-goers, following the matinee "Lohengrin."

Miss Lydia Wheeler entertained at ten in honor of Miss Sue Brown Stern, the guest of Miss Dorothea Feyer, a popular member of the Metropolitan Opera company.

One of the largest parties of the afternoon was that at which Mrs. John Cooper entertained in the palm room, which was beautifully decorated in spring flowers.

Mrs. R. A. Sowell entertained in honor of Misses Corneille and Elizabeth Linderbach, of Winston-Salem, N. C., inviting to meet them Mrs. J. C. Oliver, Mrs. R. H. Montgomery and Mrs. J. H. Gayley.

Mrs. W. D. Williamson entertained eight friends at bridge in the sun parlor.

Mrs. Otis Poundstone entertained at tea in honor of her sister and guest, Mrs. I. Randolph Banks, of Gainesville, Ga., inviting to meet her Mrs. John Armstrong and her guest, Miss Elizabeth Ford, of Augusta.

Miss Josephine Davant and Mrs. James D. Carter.

Mrs. Nellie Dumas had as her guests for tea Miss Malotte Bartleson, of New Smyrna, Fla.; Mrs. R. M. Erdmans, of Miami; Miss Mims, of Macon, and Mrs. McCabe, of Abbeville, S. C.

Others entertaining were Mrs. Howard McCutcheon, Mrs. W. O. Lindholm and Mrs. J. W. McGee.

Harmonica Experts To Be Featured At Howard Matinee

Ten hours, harmonica experts, will be featured as stars at the children's Saturday morning matinee at the Howard, under the direction of H. W. Shrader, of the Cable Piano company, and include Harry Morris, V. A. Simons, Walter Tripod, Host Bramlett, Jack Tifford, Clarence Gurin, David Ray, Richard Haslett, Robert Estes and Robert Elder. The matinee starts at 9:30 o'clock, with the admission 10 and 25 cents.

"Is Must Be Love," a comedy picture, with Colleen Moore in the leading role, will provide one of the most entertaining pictures depicting Colleen Moore as the daughter of a delicatessen storekeeper in New York, with no amusements and very unpleasant surroundings. This little Cinderella soon begins to make things happen and, of course, Prince Charming has something to do with that. Scenes at Colby Island, an adventure with a shoufler in the dry goods store where Colleen gets a position, and other hilarious adventures make this one of the star's best pictures.

Other comedy features will be provided by the Howard management. Mrs. John G. Courtney, chaperon chairman, will have assisting her ten P. T. A. mothers, ten boys and ten Girl Scouts.

Millen Poultry Sales.
Millen, Ga., April 29.—(Special.)—County Agent Stephenson reports that the cooperative sales here this week were satisfactory. The cooperative poultry car operated by the Central of Georgia bought 2,575 pounds of poultry, which amounted to $235. The cooperative egg sale amounted to $125, which included 19 cases of eggs.

In the BOXES

The boxes at today's matinee and evening performances will present a brilliant spectacle with Gounod's "Romeo et Juliette" and Puccini's "Madama Butterfly" presented at the auditorium by the Metropolitan Opera company. A battery of opera glasses will be turned in the direction of the golden horseshoe with its gorgeously gowned women, wearing gems worth many thousands shedding lustrous rays, and vying with the scintillating electric lights. Between acts society will visit from box to box extending cordial greetings to one another and discussing the appealing and exquisite qualities in the voices of Lucrezia Bori, Louise Hunter, Florence Easton, Beniamino Gigli, Leon Rothier and Paolo Ananiani, universal favorites in Atlanta's social and musical world.

Prominent among the visitors to be noted in the boxes and around whom unusual interest centers will be Mrs. H. M. McAdams and Mrs. H. P. Pharr, of Charlotte, N. C.; Senora Jose Pennino, of Havana, Cuba; Mrs. Robert Andrew Milliken, of New York; Mrs. Arthur Head, of Oklahoma City; Mrs. Elmer Oliver, of Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Charles Chrisp, of Americus; Mrs. William C. Wright, of Newnan; Mrs. George Cook, of Tampa, Fla.; Mrs. J. T. Peacock, of Cochran; Miss Susan Blake, of Boston, Mass.; Miss Anne Bell Webb, of Raleigh, N. C.; Mrs. George F. Armstrong and Miss Lucy Armstrong, of Savannah; Mrs. Norton Davis, of Ocala, Fla.; Miss Eleanor Langley, of New York; Mrs. Bona Allen, of Buford; Mrs. Robert Haverty, of Memphis, Tenn.; Mrs. Charles Saturday Matinee.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Morell Atkinson will have in their box Saturday afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Jackson P. Dick, Jackson Dick, Jr., and Stephen Lloyd.

J. J. Haverty will have in his box, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Carr, Miss Eleanor Carr, and Rhodius Haverty.

Mrs. William Akers will have in her box, Mrs. George Cook, of Tampa, Fla.; Mrs. J. T. Peacock, of Cochran, Ga.; Mrs. Allen Arley and Mrs. Julian Thomas.

Mr. and Mrs. John William Grant will entertain a family party in their box.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. James D. Robinson will have a box together.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Maddox and Dr. and Mrs. Dunbar Roy will occupy a box together.

Senator and Mrs. Hoke Smith's guests will be Mrs. Charles R. Crisp, of Americus, Ga., and Mrs. William C. Wright, of Newnan.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Carroll Payne will entertain Mr. and Mrs. Alex Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Hopkins.

In a box will be Mrs. Charles Nunnally, John Hill, Mrs. Frank Candler Owens, Mrs. Charles Black, Jr., and Mrs. Clarence Ma.

A party of out-of-town friends will be in the box of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Adamson, of Cedar town.

Miss Patsy Thayer, Miss Ruth Wright, Stokes Brown and Waldo Jones will be in a box together.

Miss Maria Brown, Miss Susan Blake, of Boston, Mass.; Hugh Carter and Thomas Blake, of Boston, Mass., will be guests in Mr. and Mrs. A. Ten Eyck Brown's box.

Robert H. Martin, Jr., will entertain in his box, Miss Helen Alice Howard, Miss Marion Calhoun and Lawrence DeGiv.

Dr. and Mrs. F. R. Francis Herreshoff will entertain in their box, Mrs. W. B. Price-Smith and Mrs. D. E. Stevenson.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel MacDougall will have as their guests, Mrs. Alexander MacDougall and others.

Mrs. George F. Armstrong, of Savannah, Ga., will entertain Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Saussey, Miss Lucy Armstrong, Albert Davis and Mrs. N. T. Davis, of Ocala, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Fenn O. Stone will entertain Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Burke and Mrs. Threshier Ames Rippey, Jr.

In Mr. and Mrs. Lee Ashcraft's box will be Miss Anne Bell Webb, of Raleigh, N. C.; Miss Frances Ford, Esmond Brady, George Harrison and R. F. Sims.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Dobbs will have as their guests Mrs. Frank Oliver and Mrs. Mildred Dohls Howard.

Mrs. Jose Rhodes will entertain Mrs. Frank Freeman and Mrs. L. O. Bricker.

Mr. and Mrs. Bona Allen will entertain Senora and Senora Jose Pennino, of Havana, Cuba, and Miss Ruby Lee Lawson.

Saturday Evening.
Mr. and Mrs. Henry Morell Atkinson will entertain Judge E. H. Gass, of New York; Gordon Crawford, of Birmingham, Ala., and Dr. and Mrs. Robert Andrew Milliken, of New York.

Clark Howell, Sr., will entertain Senora and Senora Jose Pennino, of Havana, Cuba; Mrs. H. M. McAdams, N. C., and Miss Mary Ann Carr.

Mr. and Mrs. James Dixon Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Ellis, Mrs. Arthur Head, of Oklahoma City, and Mrs. William McKenzie will be in a box.

Mrs. George F. Armstrong, of Savannah, will entertain Mrs. Clifford Walker, Mrs. Paul Vose, of Monroe, La., and Mrs. Lucy Armstrong, of Newnan, Ga., and Mrs. Frank Armstrong.

S. Davies Warfield, of Baltimore, will entertain a party of friends.

In a box will be Mr. and Mrs. Charles Adamson, of Cedar town, and a party of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Bourne, of Augusta, will have a box.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Ashcraft will have as their guests Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Oliver, of Washington; Miss Rebecca Ashcraft and John Stewart.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. DeGivie will entertain in their box Miss Eleanor Langley, of New York; Miss Pauline DeGivie, George Cramer, of Crumpton, N. C., and Carter Easton, of Chattanooga, Tenn.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Martin will have as guests in their box Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Carter.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rhodes will entertain Mr. and Mrs. Henry Grady.

Mrs. Charles T. Nunnally and Mrs. John Hill will have in their box Mrs. Helen Dargan Lowndes and Mrs. Charles Black, Jr.

J. J. Haverty will entertain Mr. and Mrs. Harry Carr, Miss Eleanor Carr and Joe Haverty.

Mr. and Mrs. William Akers will entertain Dr. and Mrs. George Cook, Mrs. J. T. Peacock, of Cochran, and William Murphy, of Savannah.

Miss Maria Brown, Miss Frances Brown, Maxwell Cooper and Thomas Blake, of Boston, Mass., will occupy the box of Mr. and Mrs. A. Ten Eyck Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Fenn O. Stone will have as guests in their box Mr. and Mrs. Norman Coolidge and Mr. and Mrs. Threshier Ames Rippey, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Carroll Payne will entertain Mr. and Mrs. Alex Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Hopkins.

Mr. and Mrs. Bona Allen, of Buford, will have a box.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Dobbs will entertain Mrs. Cary Chapman and Mrs. Mildred Dohls Howard.

Dr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Hinman and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rawson will be in a box together.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Maddox and Dr. and Mrs. Dunbar Roy will occupy a box together.

Senator and Mrs. Hoke Smith's guests will be Mrs. Charles R. Crisp, of Americus, Ga., and Mrs. William C. Wright, of Newnan.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Carroll Payne will entertain Mr. and Mrs. Alex Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Hopkins.

Mr. and Mrs. Bona Allen, of Buford, will have a box.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Dobbs will entertain Mrs. Cary Chapman and Mrs. Mildred Dohls Howard.

Dr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Hinman and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rawson will be in a box together.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Maddox and Dr. and Mrs. Dunbar Roy will occupy a box together.

Senator and Mrs. Hoke Smith's guests will be Mrs. Charles R. Crisp, of Americus, Ga., and Mrs. William C. Wright, of Newnan.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Carroll Payne will entertain Mr. and Mrs. Alex Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Hopkins.

Mr. and Mrs. Bona Allen, of Buford, will have a box.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Dobbs will entertain Mrs. Cary Chapman and Mrs. Mildred Dohls Howard.

Dr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Hinman and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rawson will be in a box together.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Maddox and Dr. and Mrs. Dunbar Roy will occupy a box together.

Senator and Mrs. Hoke Smith's guests will be Mrs. Charles R. Crisp, of Americus, Ga., and Mrs. William C. Wright, of Newnan.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Carroll Payne will entertain Mr. and Mrs. Alex Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Hopkins.

Mr. and Mrs. Bona Allen, of Buford, will have a box.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Dobbs will entertain Mrs. Cary Chapman and Mrs. Mildred Dohls Howard.

Dr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Hinman and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rawson will be in a box together.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Maddox and Dr. and Mrs. Dunbar Roy will occupy a box together.

Senator and Mrs. Hoke Smith's guests will be Mrs. Charles R. Crisp, of Americus, Ga., and Mrs. William C. Wright, of Newnan.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Carroll Payne will entertain Mr. and Mrs. Alex Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Hopkins.

Mr. and Mrs. Bona Allen, of Buford, will have a box.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Dobbs will entertain Mrs. Cary Chapman and Mrs. Mildred Dohls Howard.

Dr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Hinman and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rawson will be in a box together.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Maddox and Dr. and Mrs. Dunbar Roy will occupy a box together.

Senator and Mrs. Hoke Smith's guests will be Mrs. Charles R. Crisp, of Americus, Ga., and Mrs. William C. Wright, of Newnan.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Carroll Payne will entertain Mr. and Mrs. Alex Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Hopkins.

Mr. and Mrs. Bona Allen, of Buford, will have a box.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Dobbs will entertain Mrs. Cary Chapman and Mrs. Mildred Dohls Howard.

Dr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Hinman and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rawson will be in a box together.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Maddox and Dr. and Mrs. Dunbar Roy will occupy a box together.

Senator and Mrs. Hoke Smith's guests will be Mrs. Charles R. Crisp, of Americus, Ga., and Mrs. William C. Wright, of Newnan.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Carroll Payne will entertain Mr. and Mrs. Alex Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Hopkins.

Mr. and Mrs. Bona Allen, of Buford, will have a box.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Dobbs will entertain Mrs. Cary Chapman and Mrs. Mildred Dohls Howard.

Dr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Hinman and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rawson will be in a box together.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Maddox and Dr. and Mrs. Dunbar Roy will occupy a box together.

Senator and Mrs. Hoke Smith's guests will be Mrs. Charles R. Crisp, of Americus, Ga., and Mrs. William C. Wright, of Newnan.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Carroll Payne will entertain Mr. and Mrs. Alex Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Hopkins.

Mr. and Mrs. Bona Allen, of Buford, will have a box.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Dobbs will entertain Mrs. Cary Chapman and Mrs. Mildred Dohls Howard.

Dr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Hinman and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rawson will be in a box together.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Maddox and Dr. and Mrs. Dunbar Roy will occupy a box together.

Senator and Mrs. Hoke Smith's guests will be Mrs. Charles R. Crisp, of Americus, Ga., and Mrs. William C. Wright, of Newnan.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Carroll Payne will entertain Mr. and Mrs. Alex Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Hopkins.

Mr. and Mrs. Bona Allen, of Buford, will have a box.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Dobbs will entertain Mrs. Cary Chapman and Mrs. Mildred Dohls Howard.

Dr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Hinman and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rawson will be in a box together.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Maddox and Dr. and Mrs. Dunbar Roy will occupy a box together.

Senator and Mrs. Hoke Smith's guests will be Mrs. Charles R. Crisp, of Americus, Ga., and Mrs. William C. Wright, of Newnan.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Carroll Payne will entertain Mr. and Mrs. Alex Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Hopkins.

Mr. and Mrs. Bona Allen, of Buford, will have a box.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Dobbs will entertain Mrs. Cary Chapman and Mrs. Mildred Dohls Howard.

Dr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Hinman and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rawson will be in a box together.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Maddox and Dr. and Mrs. Dunbar Roy will occupy a box together.

Senator and Mrs. Hoke Smith's guests will be Mrs. Charles R. Crisp, of Americus, Ga., and Mrs. William C. Wright, of Newnan.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Carroll Payne will entertain Mr. and Mrs. Alex Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Hopkins.

Mr. and Mrs. Bona Allen, of Buford, will have a box.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Dobbs will entertain Mrs. Cary Chapman and Mrs. Mildred Dohls Howard.

Dr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Hinman and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rawson will be in a box together.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Maddox and Dr. and Mrs. Dunbar Roy will occupy a box together.

Senator and Mrs. Hoke Smith's guests will be Mrs. Charles R. Crisp, of Americus, Ga., and Mrs. William C. Wright, of Newnan.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Carroll Payne will entertain Mr. and Mrs. Alex Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Hopkins.

Mr. and Mrs. Bona Allen, of Buford, will have a box.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Dobbs will entertain Mrs. Cary Chapman and Mrs. Mildred Dohls Howard.

Dr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Hinman and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rawson will be in a box together.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Maddox and Dr. and Mrs. Dunbar Roy will occupy a box together.

Senator and Mrs. Hoke Smith's guests will be Mrs. Charles R. Crisp, of Americus, Ga., and Mrs. William C. Wright, of Newnan.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Carroll Payne will entertain Mr. and Mrs. Alex Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Hopkins.

Mr. and Mrs. Bona Allen, of Buford, will have a box.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Dobbs will entertain Mrs. Cary Chapman and Mrs. Mildred Dohls Howard.

Dr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Hinman and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rawson will be in a box together.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Maddox and Dr. and Mrs. Dunbar Roy will occupy a box together.

Senator and Mrs. Hoke Smith's guests will be Mrs. Charles R. Crisp, of Americus, Ga., and Mrs. William C. Wright, of Newnan.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Carroll Payne will entertain Mr. and Mrs. Alex Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Hopkins.

Mr. and Mrs. Bona Allen, of Buford, will have a box.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Dobbs will entertain Mrs. Cary Chapman and Mrs. Mildred Dohls Howard.

Dr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Hinman and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rawson will be in a box together.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Maddox and Dr. and Mrs. Dunbar Roy will occupy a box together.

Senator and Mrs. Hoke Smith's guests will be Mrs. Charles R. Crisp, of Americus, Ga., and Mrs. William C. Wright, of Newnan.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Carroll Payne will entertain Mr. and Mrs. Alex Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Hopkins.

Mr. and Mrs. Bona Allen, of Buford, will have a box.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Dobbs will entertain Mrs. Cary Chapman and Mrs. Mildred Dohls Howard.

Dr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Hinman and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rawson will be in a box together.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Maddox and Dr. and Mrs. Dunbar Roy will occupy a box together.

Senator and Mrs. Hoke Smith's guests will be Mrs. Charles R. Crisp, of Americus, Ga., and Mrs. William C. Wright, of Newnan.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Carroll Payne will entertain Mr. and Mrs. Alex Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Hopkins.

Mr. and Mrs. Bona Allen, of Buford, will have a box.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Dobbs will entertain Mrs. Cary Chapman and Mrs. Mildred Dohls Howard.

Dr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Hinman and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rawson will be in a box together.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Maddox and Dr. and Mrs. Dunbar Roy will occupy a box together.

Senator and Mrs. Hoke Smith's guests will be Mrs. Charles R. Crisp, of Americus, Ga., and Mrs. William C. Wright, of Newnan.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Carroll Payne will entertain Mr. and Mrs. Alex Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Hopkins.

Mr. and Mrs. Bona Allen, of Buford, will have a box.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Dobbs will entertain Mrs. Cary Chapman and Mrs. Mildred Dohls Howard.

Dr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Hinman and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rawson will be in a box together.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Maddox and Dr. and Mrs. Dunbar Roy will occupy a box together.

Senator and Mrs. Hoke Smith's guests will be Mrs. Charles R. Crisp, of Americus, Ga., and Mrs. William C. Wright, of Newnan.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Carroll Payne will entertain Mr. and Mrs. Alex Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Hopkins.

Mr. and Mrs. Bona Allen, of Buford, will have a box.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Dobbs will entertain Mrs. Cary Chapman and Mrs. Mildred Dohls Howard.

Dr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Hinman and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rawson will be in a box together.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Maddox and Dr. and Mrs. Dunbar Roy will occupy a box together.

Senator and Mrs. Hoke Smith's guests will be Mrs. Charles R. Crisp, of Americus, Ga., and Mrs. William C. Wright, of Newnan.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Carroll Payne will entertain Mr. and Mrs. Alex Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Hopkins.

Mr. and Mrs. Bona Allen, of Buford, will have a box.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Dobbs will entertain Mrs. Cary Chapman and Mrs. Mildred Dohls Howard.

Dr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Hinman and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rawson will be in a box together.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Maddox and Dr. and Mrs. Dunbar Roy will occupy a box together.

Senator and Mrs. Hoke Smith's guests will be Mrs. Charles R. Crisp, of Americus, Ga., and Mrs. William C. Wright, of Newnan.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Carroll Payne will entertain Mr. and Mrs. Alex Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Hopkins.

Mr. and Mrs. Bona Allen, of Buford, will have a box.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Dobbs will entertain Mrs. Cary Chapman and Mrs. Mildred Dohls Howard.

Dr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Hinman and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rawson will be in a box together.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Maddox and Dr. and Mrs. Dunbar Roy will occupy a box together.

Senator and Mrs. Hoke Smith's guests will be Mrs. Charles R. Crisp, of Americus, Ga., and Mrs. William C. Wright, of Newnan.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Carroll Payne will entertain Mr. and Mrs. Alex Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Hopkins.

Mr. and Mrs. Bona Allen, of Buford, will have a box.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Dobbs will entertain Mrs. Cary Chapman and Mrs. Mildred Dohls Howard.

Dr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Hinman and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rawson will be in a box together.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Maddox and Dr. and Mrs. Dunbar Roy will occupy a box together.

Visiting Belles and Lovely Atlantan Grace Opera Audience

The above group presents two lovely visiting belles and a charming Atlanta music lover attending the opera at the auditorium Friday evening to hear Verdi's tuneful opera, "La Forza Del Destino," sung by the Metropolitan Opera company. Miss Aileen Lonsdale is at the left; Miss Frances Dean Reynolds, of Mobile, the guest of Mrs. Ransom Wright, who is attending Brenau college in Gainesville, is in the center, while Miss Frances Caperton, of Rome, who is visiting her cousin, Miss Mary Kingsbery, is at the right. Brubacher made the photographs of Miss Caperton and Miss Lonsdale.

Louise Hunter Gets Huge Rose Heart Tribute

The Biltmore hotel was as fragrant as a rose garden all day Friday. Through corridors and rooms the odor of these blooms persisted—and small wonder, for the hotel temporarily housed more roses Friday than the average rose garden can boast. There were roses—approximately a thousand of the big glowing beauties—woven into the biggest floral heart this city has ever known and presented by the Inter-Civic council to dainty Louise Hunter, "Atlanta's sweetheart," who this week concludes her connection with the Metropolitan Opera company and severs for at least five years, a tie of affection which has bound her to Atlanta for several seasons. Miss Hunter, the dainty prima donna who has starred in opera this week, has signed a five-year contract with Arthur Hammerstein to appear in light opera in the east, so that until the contract expires, Atlanta may not hope to have her here in municipal light opera or in Metropolitan grand opera. The giant floral tribute to Miss Hunter was in the form of a monster heart seven feet high, and in presenting it to her Atlanta "said it with flowers" most emphatically. The floral heart was presented at the end of the second act of Thursday night's opera, in which Miss Hunter had a prominent part. The tribute of flowers was accompanied by a note from Herbert Porter, advertising director of The Constitution and president of the Inter-Civic council, in which Mr. Porter expressed on behalf of Atlanta, an entire city's affection for Miss Hunter and the hope that her success may be continued in her new field. The great floral piece was designed by Jack Winstock, of the well-known Winstock Floral company, and was one of the most beautiful ever seen, as well as being the greatest single offering of its kind ever presented here.

Echoes of a suit filed by descendants of Cherokee Indians to recover from the government compensation for lands in Georgia and other states which it is alleged were wrongfully taken from the original owners, reached Atlanta Friday, when District Attorney Clint W. Hager was served through the mail with copies of petitions and official documents in the case, which involves approximately $5,000,000.

Through the land suit, descendants of Cherokee tribesmen seek to recover principal of $1,111,687.70 and interest at 5 per cent since 1838, which would drive the total up to several times the principal. As some of the land mentioned is in Georgia, Mr. Hager was served with papers as the government's attorney for this district. Other districts affected are in North Carolina, Alabama, Oklahoma and Texas. The suit was filed under an act of congress of 1924 providing for the handling of Indian claims to land. John M. Taylor, Cherokee Indian attorney, of Claremore, Okla., is representing the 10,000 petitioners.

SURPRISE WEDDING FOLLOWS OPERA PARTY FOR TWO

A surprise marriage resulted Thursday afternoon when a well-known Georgia couple met in Atlanta to attend grand opera together. The bride, formerly Miss Nancy Ruth Harris, of Leesburg, Ga., and groom, Ernest B. Whitfield, an accountant of Dawson, appeared before Judge J. B. Ridley in the Fulton county courthouse and were married in the presence of a few friends. Miss Harris came to Atlanta Thursday afternoon from Norfolk, Va., while Mr. Whitfield arrived earlier in the day. The bride, who is the daughter of Mrs. H. A. Harris, of Leesburg, was a field instructor with the American Red Cross during the world war.

"NOAH NUMSKULL"

DEAR NOAH!—HOW FAR CAN A SILK-STUFFY RUN? GUIDA CUFFEY BOONEVILLE, ARK.

NOAH!—I WANT TO BUY A PET, HAVE YOU A DANDELION? DENTY COBBEY

SEND IN YOURS! FORUM OKLA. IDEAS (1927) Editor: "Palmer Pacific"

East Point Theater Announces Matinee For Saturday

The Saturday morning matinee at the Fairfax in East Point will feature Buffalo Bill, Jr., in "On the Go," which is one of his latest pictures. "On the Go" brims with thrills, novelty and suspense, mingled with plenty of laughs, for the comedy element is not neglected. One of the numerous stunts with which the star will delight and thrill his admirers occurs when he catches a speeding train with his wonderful horse, "Kelly," and swings aboard it. Ben Alexander will be shown in the fourth episode of "Cooty of the Scouts." This serial is a huge success with the younger set. The College Park P.T. A. will sponsor the performance, with Mrs. G. C. Trowbridge in charge. The chapters will be Mrs. Frank Miller, Mrs. Charles Center, high school; Mrs. W. B. McClary, Mrs. Mulberry Smith, Temple Avenue school; Mrs. Dan Lyle, Mrs. Winton Thomas, Virginia Avenue school, and Mrs. L. C. Lassiter, Clayton school. A delightful prologue will be furnished by Frances Brown and Evelyn Brannon, of the Virginia Avenue school. Boy and Girl Scouts will be at all our stops. The box office will open at 9 o'clock.

WARNING AGAINST FEDERAL TAX CUT SOLICITORS ISSUED

Members of the Georgia Manufacturers' association were warned Friday through the secretary, J. P. McGrath, that solicitors are collecting money for a campaign for federal tax reduction and that these collections are not being made through the association. "We are advised that solicitors are in the field, collecting money for a campaign on federal tax reduction. One of the representatives called at this office. We have consistently warned against the indiscriminate giving to plausible solicitors and letter-writers and again put you on your guard," said Mr. McGrath in his letter. It was also announced that it has been necessary to change the dates of the annual meeting from May 11 and 12 to a later date in June. The change was necessary because several prominent speakers could not be present in May, but will be in June.

BUSINESS MEETING FOR TECH ALUMNI CALLED SATURDAY

An annual business meeting of the National Georgia Tech Alumni association will be held today at 11 o'clock in the Georgia Tech Y. M. C. A. it was announced by R. J. Thieson, secretary. Among principal speakers at the meeting will be Dr. M. L. Brittain, president of Georgia Tech; W. A. Alexander, head of athletics at Tech; Gene Turner, former school Y. M. C. A. secretary, and officers of the alumni association. A feature of the meeting will be the distribution of 5 complimentary tickets to the Georgia-Tech game to the first 50 members to arrive at the meeting. The baseball game will be played at 4 o'clock at Spauld field, the second of a double-header. Little Rock and Atlanta will play the first of the double bill at 2:15 o'clock. Complimentary tickets will be given members of the class of 1902. One of the most important business matters before the meeting will be the preliminary arrangements for the reunion of the classes of 1902, 1907, 1912, 1917 and 1922.

BURKE WILLS SUM TO ERECT "REFUGE" FOR ALL CHILDREN

Provisions for the erection of a "refuge" or "home" in Georgia for destitute children, regardless of their faith, and numerous other bequests, amounting to approximately $10,000, were made in the will of the late Colonel Joseph P. Burke, filed for probate in the office of the ordinary of Fulton county. The estate, which is valued at approximately $75,000, was bequeathed to his widow, Mrs. Louise C. Burke, who was also named executrix. The executrix, after following the provisions of the will, was requested to devise what property she may leave to the erection of this institution for children. The will provided for a bequest of $1,000 to the Little Sisters of the Poor of Savannah; $500 for the Home for Incurables; $100 to the Rev. O. N. Jackson and a like sum to the pastors of each of the Catholic churches of Atlanta to aid them in their work; also $3,000 to Gottlieb Grobli as a token of esteem for faithful services while in the employ of the late Mr. Burke; $500 to two sons of Grobli and $500 to be held in trust for Lily Grobli, daughter of Gottlieb, until she reaches the age of 21.

Little Girl Badly Bitten By Pet Collie

Attacked in her home by a pet collie dog, which was beaten off by her sister, Evelyn Dawson, 5-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Dawson, of 411 Ware street, East Point, was rushed to Grady hospital late Friday afternoon suffering from severe lacerations on her hands and arms. The child and her 12-year-old sister, Louise, were in the home alone and in separate rooms. The older girl hearing the screams of her sister rushed to her and found the tot in a fierce struggle with the big collie. The dog's attack was stopped by the older sister who locked the animal in a room and called officers. The dog was killed and its head will be sent to the health department to determine whether it was afflicted with rabies. The little girl is in no immediate danger as a result of her injuries, attaches of the hospital stated.

RESPIRATION RACE FOR YOUTH'S LIFE PROVING FUTILE

Roanoke, Va., April 29.—(AP)—Walter L. Boothe, 18-year-old farm lad, who has been kept alive more than a week by artificial respiration, was growing weaker tonight and his physicians believed death was near. Thursday young Boothe showed signs of improvement, but today there was a marked relapse. At times he complained, almost inaudibly, that the continuous raising and lowering of his arms was forcing insufficient air into his inert lungs. Boothe sustained a dislocated vertebra in an automobile accident last year. A week ago yesterday at noon most of his body became paralyzed. Friends have administered artificial respiration since.

PRESIDENT PARKER IS ROTARY SPEAKER

Robert S. Parker, president of the Rotary club, will be principal speaker at the regular weekly luncheon next Tuesday at 12:30 o'clock at the Capital City club. It will be Mr. Parker's last meeting as president and a special entertainment feature has been planned.

There's Something in a Name!

Today---Saturday Day of Advance Selection

7 MAY DAYS

Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Company

EVERYTHING is ready and this new-old store is on fire with enthusiasm. Little cash girls have caught the quickening impulse of the Seven May Days; it has passed on to salespeople, department heads, buyers, managers.

With irresistible drive and indomitable "oneness" of effort they have worked.

Extraordinary values have been gathered, the best in more than half a century of store-keeping.

You are invited to a PREVIEW of these values—today is the DAY OF ADVANCE SELECTION. Samples of Monday's offerings will be on display throughout the store. Business women who have a Half Holiday today, others who find it inconvenient to be down town Monday may make purchases, these purchases to be dated and billed as of Monday, May 2.

It is just as if you postponed coming until the opening day—better, perhaps. The crowds will not be so thick. Nothing but quality merchandise—sound, superb Chamberlin quality—at the lowest prices for which this merchandise has ever been sold in Atlanta.

Our Entire Stock of Smart Spring Coats offered at Drastic Reductions

During Our 41st Anniversary and Second Anniversary Sale

DRESSY COATS
SPORT COATS
SILK COATS
TRAVEL COATS

at 20% to 50% Below Regular Prices

Sizes and Modes for Women, Misses and Stouts

Frohsin's
Correct Dress for Women
50 WHITEHALL

Two World's Records Fall at Penn Relay Carnival

Baskin, Alabama Star, Is Second in Hurdles

Logan, Local Boy, Finishes Well in Running in Several Events of Annual Relay Meet.

BY ALAN J. GOULD.
Associated Press Sports Editor.
RANKLIN FIELD, Philadelphia, April 29.—(AP)—Two international triumphs for American college stars over their British rivals from Cambridge university and two world's relay performances stood out today as the vanguard of a host of 3,000 athletes engaged in the first day's events of the Pennsylvania relay carnival.

The smiling, fair-haired, titled Englishman, Lord David Broughley, made a gallant effort to repeat his victory of 1925 in the 400-meter hurdles, a special attraction, but failed because, in his own words, Johnny Gibson, of Fordham university, was "too fast and strong" for him.

Losing five yards when he stumbled and was thrown off his stride early in the race, Lord Broughley finished with a rush, passing his team mate, T. C. Livingstone-Learmonth, and finishing barely a yard behind the sturdy Gibson as a crowd of 20,000 cheered the 21-year-old Briton's gameness. It was Gibson's second straight victory in this event and squared accounts for his defeat two years ago by Broughley.

The second Briton bid for individual honors was frustrated in the 120-yard high hurdles. Two Cambridge entries, Bowler and Richardson, failed to qualify in the first trials.

Baskin Is Second.
The event was won by Steinbrunner, of M. I. T., in 15 1/2 seconds. Baskin, of Alabama Poly, second, and Caruthers, of Cornell, third. This time, like so many of the others, was extremely slow.

World's record laurels fell to the crack Mercerburg academy quartet, which lowered its own inter-mile interscholastic relay mark to 42 4/5 seconds, and the University of Pennsylvania's spring team, which romped off with the quarter-mile college championship in 41 3/5 seconds, equalling the world's record here last summer by the Newark Athletic club in the national championships.

Because of a mixup among the timers, the interscholastic race was run twice, but Mercerburg proved its mettle both times, leading a pack of some 16 rivals in both races in the same time. Lawrenceville (N. J.) prep, which finished second in 43 2/5 seconds, also was inside Mercerburg's former world's record of 43 3/5 seconds.

Pennsylvania's quarter-mile team, anchored by Folwell Scull, football star, was forced to its record-equalling pace by a crack Penn State team, which finished a closed second, turning in faster time than such rivals as Syracuse, Notre Dame, Princeton, Harvard and Michigan State.

Two other major college relay championships were decided. Ohio State's first relay victory in the history of the Pennsylvania carnival was registered in impressive fashion in the Records Fall In Annual Drake Relays

Over Two Thousand Athletes Compete in Annual Track Meet.

Des Moines, Iowa, April 29.—(AP)—Seven record-breaking performances ushered in the two-day Drake relay carnival today as 2,700 athletes from 229 universities, colleges and high schools battled for places in the preliminaries in events in which they will compete in the finals tomorrow.

In addition to the trials, finals were decided today in events involving high school and some major competition.

The Iowa State quartet, made up of Caulin, Wimer, Thorburn and Couger, turned in the principal record by clipping 31 8/10 seconds off the university mile relay, one of the outstanding events of the games.

The performance of the Cyclones was one of the best shown in any relay carnivals held so far this year.

The distance was 880, 440, 440, and a mile. The old record of 8:40 was established by Illinois in 1925.

The University of Kansas relay team turned in another outstanding record, smashing by whirling around the track in the 440-yard event in 1:18 1/10 to qualify for the final that will be run off tomorrow.

Two other Drake records were cracked. Morningside college, of Sioux City, accounted for a record in the half-mile relay for Iowa colleges, stepping off the distance in 32 9/10, shattering the former record of 33 4/10, made in 1925.

The Haskell institute medley quartet clipped eight-tenths of a second off the Drake record for the quarter-mile, reeling it off in 7:43 1/10, chiefly through the superb running of Oat.

Another record was set in the 100-yard dash, when a team of 100 runners, led by Oat, ran the mile, finishing in a burst of speed 10 yards ahead of his closest competitor.

Kansas made the most impressive showing today, with its record-breaking quarter-mile team and the performance of Grady in the dash and Thornhill in the discus throw and shotput.

Grady and Farley, of Missouri, won their heats in the century in 9 1/10 and promise to hook up in a thrilling race in the finals tomorrow. The playing of Misses Conover and Evans was outstanding for the winners.

Western Heights displayed a fine band of ball in defeating the Mehl list team. Misses McCutcheon and Bennett were the stellar performers for the 21st hits team, while the work of

Jacket Track Stars Meet Vanderbilt Today

Tech's cinder artists departed Friday night at 8:30 o'clock for Nashville, where they will meet the strong Vanderbilt university team.

Coach Barron has a group of new this year that is capable of winning most meets in the conference. His charges defeated the strong team of Auburn, who up until the time of the Tech meet had not lost a duel encounter for something like the past seven or eight years.

Tech boss, of a well-balanced team, but is especially strong in the dashes and field events. Coach Anderson, of the Vanderbilt squad, does not feel so confident over the outcome of the meet with the Jackets. The loss of Blake, star dash man of Vandy, has hurt the Commodores considerably. He was rated last year as the best quarter-mile in the conference. Vanderbilt has a good mile relay team and will make the Tech quarter-milers step out in order to keep in front. Vandy's half-mile relay teams finished in second place in the annual relay carnival held recently by Tech.

Coach Barron and 15 men made the trip to Nashville and will arrive there this morning at 6:55 o'clock.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

TIGERS DOWN INDIANS.
Detroit, April 29.—Rip Collins, starting his first game of the season, pitched here today in the second game of the series. Buckeye, turned in the principal record by clipping 31 8/10 seconds off the university mile relay, one of the outstanding events of the games.

The performance of the Cyclones was one of the best shown in any relay carnivals held so far this year. The distance was 880, 440, 440, and a mile. The old record of 8:40 was established by Illinois in 1925.

The University of Kansas relay team turned in another outstanding record, smashing by whirling around the track in the 440-yard event in 1:18 1/10 to qualify for the final that will be run off tomorrow.

Two other Drake records were cracked. Morningside college, of Sioux City, accounted for a record in the half-mile relay for Iowa colleges, stepping off the distance in 32 9/10, shattering the former record of 33 4/10, made in 1925.

The Haskell institute medley quartet clipped eight-tenths of a second off the Drake record for the quarter-mile, reeling it off in 7:43 1/10, chiefly through the superb running of Oat.

Another record was set in the 100-yard dash, when a team of 100 runners, led by Oat, ran the mile, finishing in a burst of speed 10 yards ahead of his closest competitor.

Kansas made the most impressive showing today, with its record-breaking quarter-mile team and the performance of Grady in the dash and Thornhill in the discus throw and shotput.

Grady and Farley, of Missouri, won their heats in the century in 9 1/10 and promise to hook up in a thrilling race in the finals tomorrow. The playing of Misses Conover and Evans was outstanding for the winners.

Western Heights displayed a fine band of ball in defeating the Mehl list team. Misses McCutcheon and Bennett were the stellar performers for the 21st hits team, while the work of

Miss Kate Harris was best for the boys.

Miss Kate Harris was best for the boys.

Miss Kate Harris was best for the boys.

Miss Kate Harris was best for the boys.

Miss Kate Harris was best for the boys.

Miss Kate Harris was best for the boys.

Miss Kate Harris was best for the boys.

Miss Kate Harris was best for the boys.

Miss Kate Harris was best for the boys.

Miss Kate Harris was best for the boys.

Miss Kate Harris was best for the boys.

Miss Kate Harris was best for the boys.

Miss Kate Harris was best for the boys.

Miss Kate Harris was best for the boys.

Miss Kate Harris was best for the boys.

Miss Kate Harris was best for the boys.

Miss Kate Harris was best for the boys.

Miss Kate Harris was best for the boys.

Miss Kate Harris was best for the boys.

Miss Kate Harris was best for the boys.

Miss Kate Harris was best for the boys.

Miss Kate Harris was best for the boys.

Miss Kate Harris was best for the boys.

Miss Kate Harris was best for the boys.

Miss Kate Harris was best for the boys.

Miss Kate Harris was best for the boys.

Miss Kate Harris was best for the boys.

Miss Kate Harris was best for the boys.

Miss Kate Harris was best for the boys.

Miss Kate Harris was best for the boys.

Miss Kate Harris was best for the boys.

Miss Kate Harris was best for the boys.

Miss Kate Harris was best for the boys.

Miss Kate Harris was best for the boys.

Miss Kate Harris was best for the boys.

Miss Kate Harris was best for the boys.

Miss Kate Harris was best for the boys.

Miss Kate Harris was best for the boys.

Miss Kate Harris was best for the boys.

Miss Kate Harris was best for the boys.

Miss Kate Harris was best for the boys.

Atlanta Boy Shows Well In Decathlon

Allen Logan, Unattached, Ties for New Record at Penn Relays.

Philadelphia, April 29.—(AP)—The intercollegiate all-around athletic laurels that have rested for the past two years on the broad shoulders of Tony Planksy, of Georgetown, passed today to a new star in versatility, Vernon Kennedy, of the Central Missouri State Teachers' college.

Planksy, now out of college competition, was not there to defend his honors, but Kennedy shattered the Georgetown star's intercollegiate record in defeating the nine rivals for the decathlon championship, which provided an all-day showdown for the Pennsylvania relay carnival at Franklin field.

The sturdy Missourian finished the grueling 10-event test, lasting over eight hours, with a score of 7,236.5575 points, eclipsing the mark of 7,169.16 set by Planksy last year. It was one of the keenest battles ever staged for all-around honors, with Kennedy coming from behind to beat out Dick Sturridge, of Depauw university, who led for seven events and finished second, less than 100 points behind Kennedy.

Virgil Elliott, the versatile player from Bethany college, West Virginia, weakened after a flying start and finished third with Vincent Moroney, of Georgetown, fourth.

Kennedy carried off three first places outright, in the discus, shotput and javelin; tied for another, the pole vault, with Allen Logan, of Atlanta, Ga., and figured in two of the three performances that broke carnival decathlon records. The Missouri star was third in the 110-meter hurdles, fourth in the 1,500-meter run, sixth in the 400-meter run and high jump, seventh in the broad jump and tied for seventh in the 100-meter dash.

New Records.
New records were set by Kennedy in the discus, with a mark of 128 feet 8 1/4 inches; Kennedy and Logan in the pole vault, 11 feet 8 inches; and Sturridge in the 110-meter hurdles, with a mark of 16 seconds flat. Elliott equaled the record of 11:25 for 100 meters.

John Doherty, College of the City of Detroit, dropped out after being a contender for six events, pulling a tendon in the hurdle race.

The final point standings: Vernon Kennedy, Central Missouri State Teachers' college, 7,236.5575; R. J. Sturridge, Depauw university, Indiana, 7,169.16; Virgil Elliott, Bethany college, West Virginia, 6,712.0065; Vincent J. Moroney, Georgetown university, 6,647.242; George Wilkewski, Boston college, 6,255.9225; A. Stratton, Pennsylvania, 6,155.232; Ralph White, New York university, 6,130.331; Allen Logan, Atlanta, unattached, 6,120.08; Fred M. Wiesner, Georgetown, 5,632.065; John Doherty, College of the City of Detroit, 4,325.2915.

Decathlon Summaries.
100 Meter Dash—Won by Elliott, 10:12; second, Moroney, 10:15; third, Kennedy, 10:16; fourth, Sturridge, 10:17; fifth, White, 10:18; sixth, Logan, 10:19; seventh, Wilkewski, 10:20; eighth, Doherty, 10:21; ninth, Stratton, 10:22; tenth, Wiesner, 10:23.

Running Broad Jump—Won by Logan, 21 feet 11 inches; Elliott, 21 feet 4 inches; Sturridge, 20 feet 8 inches; White, 20 feet 7 1/2 inches; Doherty, 20 feet 6 1/2 inches; Kennedy, 20 feet 5 1/2 inches; Stratton, 20 feet 4 1/2 inches; Wilkewski, 20 feet 4 inches; Wiesner, 20 feet 3 1/2 inches; Doherty, 20 feet 3 inches.

110-Meter Hurdles—Sturridge, 16; Elliott, 16 1/2; Kennedy, 16 3/4; Moroney, 17 1/2; Doherty, 17 3/4; White, 17 1/2; Logan, 17 3/4; Wilkewski, 17 1/2; Wiesner, 17 3/4; Doherty, 17 1/2; Stratton, 17 3/4.

Pole Vault—Kennedy, 11 feet 8 1/4 inches; Logan, 11 feet 8 inches; Sturridge, 11 feet 7 1/2 inches; White, 11 feet 7 inches; Doherty, 11 feet 6 1/2 inches; Kennedy, 11 feet 6 inches; Stratton, 11 feet 5 1/2 inches; Wilkewski, 11 feet 5 inches; Wiesner, 11 feet 4 1/2 inches; Doherty, 11 feet 4 inches; Stratton, 11 feet 3 1/2 inches.

Shotput—Kennedy, 41 feet 5 1/2 inches; Wilkewski, 40 feet 8 inches; Sturridge, 39 feet 8 inches; White, 38 feet 8 inches; Doherty, 37 feet 8 inches; Kennedy, 36 feet 8 inches; Stratton, 35 feet 8 inches; Wilkewski, 34 feet 8 inches; Wiesner, 33 feet 8 inches; Doherty, 32 feet 8 inches; Stratton, 31 feet 8 inches.

Discus—Kennedy, 128 feet 8 1/4 inches; Sturridge, 120 feet 8 inches; White, 119 feet 8 inches; Doherty, 118 feet 8 inches; Kennedy, 117 feet 8 inches; Stratton, 116 feet 8 inches; Wilkewski, 115 feet 8 inches; Wiesner, 114 feet 8 inches; Doherty, 113 feet 8 inches; Stratton, 112 feet 8 inches.

High Jump—Doherty, 5 feet 11 inches; Sturridge and Logan, 5 feet 9 inches; Kennedy, 5 feet 8 inches; White, 5 feet 7 inches; Doherty, 5 feet 6 inches; Kennedy, 5 feet 5 inches; Stratton, 5 feet 4 inches; Wilkewski, 5 feet 3 inches; Wiesner, 5 feet 2 inches; Doherty, 5 feet 1 inch; Stratton, 5 feet.

150-Meter Dash—Won by Kennedy, 2:11; second, Wilkewski, 2:12; third, Sturridge, 2:13; fourth, White, 2:14; fifth, Doherty, 2:15; sixth, Logan, 2:16; seventh, Wilkewski, 2:17; eighth, Wiesner, 2:18; ninth, Doherty, 2:19; tenth, Stratton, 2:20.

300-Meter Dash—Won by Kennedy, 4:35; second, Wilkewski, 4:36; third, Sturridge, 4:37; fourth, White, 4:38; fifth, Doherty, 4:39; sixth, Logan, 4:40; seventh, Wilkewski, 4:41; eighth, Wiesner, 4:42; ninth, Doherty, 4:43; tenth, Stratton, 4:44.

450-Meter Dash—Won by Kennedy, 6:55; second, Wilkewski, 6:56; third, Sturridge, 6:57; fourth, White, 6:58; fifth, Doherty, 6:59; sixth, Logan, 7:00; seventh, Wilkewski, 7:01; eighth, Wiesner, 7:02; ninth, Doherty, 7:03; tenth, Stratton, 7:04.

600-Meter Dash—Won by Kennedy, 9:15; second, Wilkewski, 9:16; third, Sturridge, 9:17; fourth, White, 9:18; fifth, Doherty, 9:19; sixth, Logan, 9:20; seventh, Wilkewski, 9:21; eighth, Wiesner, 9:22; ninth, Doherty, 9:23; tenth, Stratton, 9:24.

750-Meter Dash—Won by Kennedy, 11:45; second, Wilkewski, 11:46; third, Sturridge, 11:47; fourth, White, 11:48; fifth, Doherty, 11:49; sixth, Logan, 11:50; seventh, Wilkewski, 11:51; eighth, Wiesner, 11:52; ninth, Doherty, 11:53; tenth, Stratton, 11:54.

900-Meter Dash—Won by Kennedy, 14:15; second, Wilkewski, 14:16; third, Sturridge, 14:17; fourth, White, 14:18; fifth, Doherty, 14:19; sixth, Logan, 14:20; seventh, Wilkewski, 14:21; eighth, Wiesner, 14:22; ninth, Doherty, 14:23; tenth, Stratton, 14:24.

1,050-Meter Dash—Won by Kennedy, 16:45; second, Wilkewski, 16:46; third, Sturridge, 16:47; fourth, White, 16:48; fifth, Doherty, 16:49; sixth, Logan, 16:50; seventh, Wilkewski, 16:51; eighth, Wiesner, 16:52; ninth, Doherty, 16:53; tenth, Stratton, 16:54.

1,200-Meter Dash—Won by Kennedy, 19:15; second, Wilkewski, 19:16; third, Sturridge, 19:17; fourth, White, 19:18; fifth, Doherty, 19:19; sixth, Logan, 19:20; seventh, Wilkewski, 19:21; eighth, Wiesner, 19:22; ninth, Doherty, 19:23; tenth, Stratton, 19:24.

1,350-Meter Dash—Won by Kennedy, 21:45; second, Wilkewski, 21:46; third, Sturridge, 21:47; fourth, White, 21:48; fifth, Doherty, 21:49; sixth, Logan, 21:50; seventh, Wilkewski, 21:51; eighth, Wiesner, 21:52; ninth, Doherty, 21:53; tenth, Stratton, 21:54.

1,500-Meter Dash—Won by Kennedy, 24:15; second, Wilkewski, 24:16; third, Sturridge, 24:17; fourth, White, 24:18; fifth, Doherty, 24:19; sixth, Logan, 24:20; seventh, Wilkewski, 24:21; eighth, Wiesner, 24:22; ninth, Doherty, 24:23; tenth, Stratton, 24:24.

1,650-Meter Dash—Won by Kennedy, 26:45; second, Wilkewski, 26:46; third, Sturridge, 26:47; fourth, White, 26:48; fifth, Doherty, 26:49; sixth, Logan, 26:50; seventh, Wilkewski, 26:51; eighth, Wiesner, 26:52; ninth, Doherty, 26:53; tenth, Stratton, 26:54.

1,800-Meter Dash—Won by Kennedy, 29:15; second, Wilkewski, 29:16; third, Sturridge, 29:17; fourth, White, 29:18; fifth, Doherty, 29:19; sixth, Logan, 29:20; seventh, Wilkewski, 29:21; eighth, Wiesner, 29:22; ninth, Doherty, 29:23; tenth, Stratton, 29:24.

1,950-Meter Dash—Won by Kennedy, 31:45; second, Wilkewski, 31:46; third, Sturridge, 31:47; fourth, White, 31:48; fifth, Doherty, 31:49; sixth, Logan, 31:50; seventh, Wilkewski, 31:51; eighth, Wiesner, 31:52; ninth, Doherty, 31:53; tenth, Stratton, 31:54.

2,100-Meter Dash—Won by Kennedy, 34:15; second, Wilkewski, 34:16; third, Sturridge, 34:17; fourth, White, 34:18; fifth, Doherty, 34:19; sixth, Logan, 34:20; seventh, Wilkewski, 34:21; eighth, Wiesner, 34:22; ninth, Doherty, 34:23; tenth, Stratton, 34:24.

2,250-Meter Dash—Won by Kennedy, 36:45; second, Wilkewski, 36:46; third, Sturridge, 36:47; fourth, White, 36:48; fifth, Doherty, 36:49; sixth, Logan, 36:50; seventh, Wilkewski, 36:51; eighth, Wiesner, 36:52; ninth, Doherty, 36:53; tenth, Stratton, 36:54.

2,400-Meter Dash—Won by Kennedy, 39:15; second, Wilkewski, 39:16; third, Sturridge, 39:17; fourth, White, 39:18; fifth, Doherty, 39:19; sixth, Logan, 39:20; seventh, Wilkewski, 39:21; eighth, Wiesner, 39:22; ninth, Doherty, 39:23; tenth, Stratton, 39:24.

3 Southern Records Fall in Sewanee Meet

Shot Put and Javelin Marks Are Broken—Tech High, McCallie and Central High Favored to Cop Honors.

Sewanee, Tenn., April 29.—(Special).—Three southern interscholastic field records were shattered here this afternoon in the preliminaries in the annual Sewanee meet while good times were made in several of the track events.

Ernest Mayers, bearing the colors of Chattanooga City High school, flipped the 12-pound shot 45 feet and 1 1/2 inch to set a new mark for the southern meet. The old record was 44 feet 7 inches, established in 1925 by Passons, of Tech High, of Atlanta.

Displaying practically no form, Mayers walked into the ring, wobbled his left leg a few times and let fly the shot. It went out on a line like an arrow but it traveled further than any other youngster has even been able to do up here on the mountain.

Carl Benton, a senior from Knoxville High school, shattered two records with the javelin. He broke Paul Llewellyn's mark of 150 feet 4 inches on his first trial, when he heaved the spear 160 feet 8 inches. Then two trials later he bettered his own mark with a throw of 161 feet 10 inches.

Ralph Coffey, of G. M. A., holder of the southern record for the hundred, failed to qualify for the finals. Most Central, Goodman (M. B. A.), Andes (Knoxville), Seary (Chattanooga Central), Thurman (McCallie), Daniels (McCallie), Johnson (McCallie), LeRoy (Chattanooga Central), Vogle (Boys' Hi) and Shobbo (Boys' Hi) were in the semifinals. The winners were: Andes (Knoxville), Dyrart (Knoxville).

Tech High, of Atlanta, last year's winner, and McCallie and Central High, of Chattanooga, are favorites to cop the meet.

The following 24 players qualified for the finals Saturday: 100-yard dash, Andes (Knoxville), Seary (Chattanooga Central), Thurman (McCallie), Johnson (McCallie), LeRoy (Chattanooga Central), Vogle (Boys' Hi) and Shobbo (Boys' Hi); 220-yard dash, Andes (Knoxville), Dyrart (Knoxville), Seary (Chattanooga Central), Thurman (McCallie), Johnson (McCallie), LeRoy (Chattanooga Central), Vogle (Boys' Hi) and Shobbo (Boys' Hi).

440-yard dash, Andes (Knoxville), Dyrart (Knoxville), Seary (Chattanooga Central), Thurman (McCallie), Johnson (McCallie), LeRoy (Chattanooga Central), Vogle (Boys' Hi) and Shobbo (Boys' Hi).

880-yard dash, Andes (Knoxville), Dyrart (Knoxville), Seary (Chattanooga Central), Thurman (McCallie), Johnson (McCallie), LeRoy (Chattanooga Central), Vogle (Boys' Hi) and Shobbo (Boys' Hi).

1,760-yard dash, Andes (Knoxville), Dyrart (Knoxville), Seary (Chattanooga Central), Thurman (McCallie), Johnson (McCallie), LeRoy (Chattanooga Central), Vogle (Boys' Hi) and Shobbo (Boys' Hi).

3,520-yard dash, Andes (Knoxville), Dyrart (Knoxville), Seary (Chattanooga Central), Thurman (McCallie), Johnson (McCallie), LeRoy (Chattanooga Central), Vogle (Boys' Hi) and Shobbo (Boys' Hi).

7,040-yard dash, Andes (Knoxville), Dyrart (Knoxville), Seary (Chattanooga Central), Thurman (McCallie), Johnson (McCallie), LeRoy (Chattanooga Central), Vogle (Boys' Hi) and Shobbo (Boys' Hi).

14,080-yard dash, Andes (Knoxville), Dyrart (Knoxville), Seary (Chattanooga Central), Thurman (McCallie), Johnson (McCallie), LeRoy (Chattanooga Central), Vogle (Boys' Hi) and Shobbo (Boys' Hi).

28,160-yard dash, Andes (Knoxville), Dyrart (Knoxville), Seary (Chattanooga Central), Thurman (McCallie), Johnson (McCallie), LeRoy (Chattanooga Central), Vogle (Boys' Hi) and Shobbo (Boys' Hi).

56,320-yard dash, Andes (Knoxville), Dyrart (Knoxville), Seary (Chattanooga Central), Thurman (McCallie), Johnson (McCallie), LeRoy (Chattanooga Central), Vogle (Boys' Hi) and Shobbo (Boys' Hi).

112,640-yard dash, Andes (Knoxville), Dyrart (Knoxville), Seary (Chattanooga Central), Thurman (McCallie), Johnson (McCallie), LeRoy (Chattanooga Central), Vogle (Boys' Hi) and Shobbo (Boys' Hi).

225,280-yard dash, Andes (Knoxville), Dyrart (Knoxville), Seary (Chattanooga Central), Thurman (McCallie), Johnson (McCallie), LeRoy (Chattanooga Central), Vogle (Boys' Hi) and Shobbo (Boys' Hi).

450,560-yard dash, Andes (Knoxville), Dyrart (Knoxville), Seary (Chattanooga Central), Thurman (McCallie), Johnson (McCallie), LeRoy (Chattanooga Central), Vogle (Boys' Hi) and Shobbo (Bo

